A TOWN SUBMERGED

Was Directly In the Path of a Raging Torrent of Water.

MANY PEOPLE PROBABLY KILLED.

The Property Loss May Reach

UVALDE, Tex., Sept. 1 .- A terrible catastrophe befell this thriving town Thursday night, and there is mourning in many households. The calamity was entirely un-

The treacherous Leona river, swollen to a raging torrent by recent rains, rushed, without a moment's warning, down upon the town, submerging and wrecking many houses and drowning a number of people. In this arid section such destruction by the elements has never before been chronicled. It is not definitely known how nany have been drowned, but the number is believed to be large.

It was 2 o'clock in the morning when the flood begun. The atmosphere had been close and predictions of a storm were made. Just as the storm broke over the city, a torrent of water rushed down the Leona river, overflowing the banks of that stream, and flooding the lowlands on either side to a depth of several feet.

The east side of the city is built on low and and was directly in the path of the water. All the houses in this part of the town were submerged, and in the darkness could be heard the cries of distress from ill-fated inhabitants. As soon as those in the high part of the DANVERS, Mass., Sept. 1 .- A year and a years of age, walked home from school one afternoon and told his mother that he was feeling sick. The boy was taken with convulsions soon after being placed in bed, and when the family doctor was called in he could not tell what was the matter with him.

As soon as the boy came out of one con-vulsion he went into another, and this sort of thing continued for several days, Walter remaining unconscious and appearing at times as if dead. Physicians called, one after another, and none of them could make out what ailed the boy. His stomach appeared to be in first-class condition, the action of all his vital organs vas perfect and he was not affected with brain or nerve trouble, so far as could be ascertained. One day he came out of the convulsions and was as well, except for the strength he had lost by not eating, as he was before the attack came on. Two days ago the boy went to Salem Willows in company with his aunt, and while there he went for a ride on the "flying horses," in company with a num-ber of other children. He was on the horses for perhaps 15 minutes, and when he came off he complained of feeling sick, and within 10 minutes he was in convulsions and unconscious. He was brought home to Danvers, and an examination by physicians showed that he had eaten nothing which would cause indigestion, the action of his heart was regular, and everything about the little fellow appeared to be in perfect condition.

Medical aid was at once summoned and the child taken home. All efforts to bring him to himself proved unavailing until at the end of seven hours he came to. He was last night apparently as well as ever,

After a thorough examination by ourselves, and receiving the endorsement of some of the best dry goods houses in the New England states, and particularly from several houses who formerly carried Buttericks-who now carry the Standard-we are convinced that the 'Standard Patterns" are far superior to all others-in being more up to date, better modeled, simpler directions for making-insuring perfect satisfaction, a great saving in time, much less fitting to do, and allowing just enough seams, thereby considerable saving in material-there being no waste as in others every pattern is modeled to the human form, and are so nicely proportioned that it is almost impossible to produce anything (if directions are followed, and which are extremely simple) but a beautiful fitting garment.

Try one of the STANDARD PATTERNS on our recommendation and we think you ill agree with us that they are better than any other pattern sold in this city.

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. F. MERRILL, the wonderful specialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all cutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a femarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous

known men among the medical profession gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement: "Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me therapeutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that

LABOR'S GREAT DAY.

Fine Weather Brought Out Crowds In Many Cities.

BOSTON'S MAYOR "TURNED DOWN."

Disrespectful Action of Certain Labor Organizations.

Boston, Sept. 4.-Labor day passed off here with much eclat yesterday. Much comment is being made over the actions of certain labor organizations when passing Mayor Matthews in review. A band leading one of the largest organized bodies played a funeral dirge, and another organization, numbering 800 men, refused to uncover their heads when passing him. One of the mottoes read: "We do not believe in cheap labor, but Mayor Matthews does." This was turned full on to the mayor as it passed in review. There were 12,000 members of organized labor in line. The procession took one hour and a quarter to pass a given point.

Quiet at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 4.—The observation of Labor day here was very quiet. Less than 200 took part in the parade, and the various outings drew very small crowds. Taken all together, the observance of the day was the least enthuslastic among the operatives, who claim the day as their own since Labor

Canada's First.

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—For the first time in the history of the Dominion, Labor day was celebrated by a general suspension of business in different cities and towns throughout Canada. In this city a big parade was held and wound up with a pienie at the island, where addresses were delivered by Sir Oliver Mowat and others.

Parade and Excursion at Providence. PROVIDENCE, Sept. 4.—Labor day was celebrated for the first time here. Nearly all the mercantile and manufacturing establishments in the state were closed. There was a big labor parade here, and a union excursion to Crescent park fol-

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 .- A general meeting of the United Brotherhood of Tailors and Garment Workers of America was held here yesterday. Resolutions were adopted asking for the abolition of the task system, for 10 hours' work a day, and that the shops be put in proper condition, and demanding that the public and press give their sympathy "because we want to work like men and not like slaves." There bids fair to be a general strike on the part of weatshop workers throughout the eastern Editorial Comment.

Today our public schools opened for nother year. This will not be accounted good news by the small boy or his ilk. The pleasure and relaxation incidental to a vacation season have all come to an end; and the agony of the thought of this, one can fully sympathize with, that's "been there," as all of us have, who have been

What puzzles children generally, and gives them a distaste for attending school, s, why education is made so much of made the necessary and indispensable ondition in their case imposing so much restraint and associated with so much that's distasteful, dry and, seemingly,

While this is undoubtedly true, yet it is curious fact that improving the methods" has increased the burdenome duties of the teachers. There never was a time when so much is expected of a teacher as the present.

This bring us to say that they most regard the opening of our schools with considerable anxious feelings; growing out of their experience of "worre" and John R. Graham of their experience of "worry" and weariness" indured, in the conscientious W. W. Pennimar discharge of their onerous duties.

Having expressed our sympathy for the children in prospect of the opening of our schools, we cannot withold our sympathy from our teachers, including of course, the superintendent. It's a hard and exhaustive work to which they are called, and they all have our best wishes for their success.

The executive, we contend did not show his hand on tax rate, but matters were allowed to take their own course. It was in the Mayor's power to reduce the appropriations, but he did not do it. There were available balances which might have been used and thus reduce the levy, but this was not done. Third, some of the maturing debt might have been extended, as the Ledger strenuously advocated at the time. Had $30,000 been extended it would have made the tax rate the same as in 1893. The city would then have paid off $59,730 of its debt, or $34,730 outside water and park assessments, and would reduce the debt during the year that much, providing new debts were not contracted. Thus far a few debts have been contracted for ordinary expenses but of the Holocaust.

PINE CITY, Minn., Sept. 4 .- Words can not tell the story of the death and destruction that is revealed to the traveler on the St. Paul and Duluth from Mission Creek, two miles above the little town of Miller, to Sandstone Junction. The awfulness of the desolation which strikes upon the eye of the observer as he reaches the camp which was once the town of Hinckley is more strongly impressed on his vision as he journeys northward.

The smoke lifted yesterday, revealing a landscape bare and black, the few standing trees being charred to a height of 40 feet, while the ground was of that peculiar tint of brown mixed with gunpowder, for the grass had been burned to the roots. Here and there in the bleak and dreary stretches of country, in what is now outrun the flames, or of a human being, who had been absolutely powerless against the grim destroyer. A relief party started on a handcar loaded with provisions to relieve the people of Sandstone, who were reported in dis-2 tress. They proceeded as far as Skunk lake, where the Duluth limited train was burned. Here they found Engineer Williams in charge of a gang of men rebuilding the burned bridges. From them it was learned that the living at Sandstone had been taken to Duluth by special trains on Sunday night and their pro necessities relieved, so that the help from Pine City was not needed. The party therefore, resolved itself into one of search ers for bodies.

The Death List.

The latest reports of the number of dead do not materially alter the former estimates. In fact, the estimate is proving remarkably exact, considering the confusion of the first day. One element that makes close figuring very difficult is the fact that bodies seen in the woods and along the track are not infrequently reported to two points and sent out from each among its dead. Then, too, the tendency of the occasion has been to exag-

However, eliminating these doubtful elements as far as possible from its approximation, the total is believed to be as nearly exact as possible. The number of Leave CITY HALL—6.00, 7.15, 8.10, 9.00, 9.50, 10.30, 11.23 A.m.; 12.05, 1.05, 2.00, 3.00, 11.23 A.m.; 12.05, 1.05, 2.00, 3.00, 8.00, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.20, 6.40, 7.00, and the margin allowed is about all that is necessary. The figures are as follows: is necessary. The figures are as follows: Hinckley, 200: Sandstone, 62; Miller, 12; between Skunk lake and Miller, 12; Pokegama, 28; in the lumber camps and scat tering, estimated 50. Total, 364. The bodies were lying exposed to the sun and rain, and were rapidly decomposing. They were identified as far as pos sible, and will be buried at once. The Duluth people are looking after the care and relief of the people on the line north of Hinckley.

How Live Stock Fared. One of the marvellous circumstances of

At Neponset close connection is made with West End Street Cars to and from and horses. Many were absolutely unthe affair is the escape of so many eattle scathed, though no one can tell how they escaped the ordeal of fire. Others were pitifully burned, and steps are tardily being taken to put them out of their misery.

The animals were without food until New York, New Haven train brought up some hay, and the cows were in great suffering, not having been were in great suffering, not having been the department of the corresponding to the corresponding milked for two days. The carcasses of the dead animals, which are becoming very offensive, will be put out of the way.

One House Exempt. A five-mile tramp out through the wood to the north of Pine City revealed a scene of desolation which rarely falls beneath the eye of man. The country is absolutely swept clean. There is but one settler's house standing within a radius of miles. It is that of Mike Dean, on the edge of the river, three miles east of town.

Dean and his next neighbor fought the fire until they had to abandon hope. They got the women and children into the water, covering their heads with cloths, kept wet by dashing water over them, and when the fire had passed they came out unhurt and were much surprised to find their building standing.

Brook Park Wiped Out. Brook Park, Pokegama station, a new town on the St. Cloud-Hinckley branch of the Great Northern road, was totally destroyed. The flames burned 300,000 feet of lumber, sawmill, hotel, stores, postoffice. schoolhouse and section house. Twentyfive families in the immediate vicinity are homeless. Six thousand tons of hay, 20 head of horses and 30 head of cattle are gone. The total loss of property is placed at about $30,000; no insurance. Sixteen

Dave Williams' Presence of Mind. Yardmaster Dave Williams of Duluth is something of a hero. He is the man who grasped the situation, acted on his knowledge promptly and relieved the people of Sandstone. He received a message from Miller Sunday night which said: "There are 150 people at Sandstone without food or shelter; for God's sake, get them out of persons are missing, and five were found there." In an incredibly short time an engine, in charge of Yardmaster Williams, was on the way to Sandstone. The entire road, after the burned district was reached, was patroled, and the engine kept up an incessant whistling, so that any persons who were nearby would come at once to the track. When the train arrived at Sandstone Junction, or Miller, as it is generally called, it was met by nearly the entire population. The depot platform at Miller had been burned, and there was not

About 170 people were taken aboard, and a messenger sent to Sandstone who informed the people of the arrival of their relief. There was no attempt to care for the dead, who lay scattered through the streets of the town. Everything inflammable at Sand-

No one of the citizens of Pine City who colunteered their aid in the relief work did more than F. G. Weber. He took entire charge of the work at the cemetery and kept at the work until all that could be done was accomplished. During the night he had a succession of relays of men under him, for many sickened and had to give it up. The work progressed slower than need have been the case had Mr. Weber's working force been adequate.

As it was, five unidentified dead bodies vere interred in the trenches; 56 more were put in boxes and 13 were buried by their friends, making a total of 134 bodies handled at the cemetery. Mr. Weber says he has reports of 51 bodies already for burial, and this number will grow every hour. The bodies found after today must be buried where they are found, as they are literally falling to pieces in most

Fire Breaks Out Afresh. A strong breeze swept up from the south esterday afternoon, and soon the flames, which had been quenched to some extent by the morning showers, were again fanned to a blaze, and hundreds of columns of smoke began to ascend from the woods. The fire will not be out for many days, but there is no danger, as the under great lone land, was seen the body of a deer, whose fleet feet had not been able to possibility of its spreading. possibility of its spreading.

The intensity and insatiability of the fire can be seen from the fact that the corduroy fills where the logs were buried under several feet of earth are entirely eaten out, the fire eating its way through under the entire width of the road. The Latest Details confirm the reports previously received as to the magnitude of the Hinckley disaster. The most conservative estimates of dead in the six or eight towns in Pine county is 362, and from that figure up to 1000. Although the exact number of dead will never be known, enough is known to make this one of the most appalling disasters in American history. More have perished, but never so many in so terrible a manner. As to property loss, few could be made to talk about their business losses. It is probable the loss in and around Hinckley will exceed $2,000,000, although no careful estimates have yet been made. Nor can they be made where all papers and records have gone up in the same flames that so quickly devoured all the houses, the vegetation and almost the land in a large sec tion of Pike county.

Rains yesterday cleared the air some what from smoke, but were not heavy enough to entirely quench the fires, which would break out on slight provocation if they had aught to be fed upon. Of the fires across in Wisconsin less is known, there has been no loss of life, and it is hoped all is over. Notwithstanding yesterday's showers, however, the ground is dry and parched, and all vegetation is so dry it would ignite easily and burn with horrible rapidity.

the loss of Democratic votes, particularly The clothing, medical supplies, bed-ling, provisions and other supplies were received from all parts of the state and sent where most needed. The regulars from Fort Snelling have been of great help, as their tents at Hinckley were greatly needed, besides which the police duty they can do is of advantage.

Crowds of curious people are going over the grounds looking for relics of the horrible disaster and searching parties are look-ing for more bodies in the woods. All the injured have been brought to the hospital and medical supplies were turned over to the medical men in charge and there was no delay in caring for the injured. Every hall and public building of every sort was used as a hospital, and the people joined in nursing, knowing no such thing eyeballs were nearly shrivelled.

Relief trains came up on the Duluth road from St. Paul at frequent intervals, and at every station the people were ready with supplies for the victims of the fire, which were at once loaded in the cars and brought to this city for distribution. Burial of a Hero.

After the train carried away over 300 the others, and nothing has since been people from the fire, he jumped from a seen of her. window and started for the gravel pit where so many saved their lives

Dunn was within five rods of the gravel pit when he fell, and he was unable to get further. His dead body was found almost on the edge of the safe retreat. He-was well liked by the railroad men and had a large circle of acquaintances.

Hinckley's Death List. The number of burials at Hinckley and vicinity thus far has reached 225; at Sandstone, 67; at Pokegama, 25; at Miller,

There is one point where an indefinite umber may be found. It is west of the Duluth bridge, across the Grindstone, and at the northwest edge of the town, where there was a millpond of considerable depth and probably 400 feet wide. On the bank nearest the town stood the plant of the Brennan Lumber company. A number of persons were seen making their way to the water of the pond down the alleys between the piles of burning lumber.

There is no basis for an accurate approxmation of how many there were. One thing is certain, no one who went into it ever came back. To the intense heat of the burning lumber and the suffocating volume of smoke which it alone produced, was added that which went up from the sawdust and edgings there, by which the fire ran to the very water's edge.

The water was deep and those there chose death by drowning to suffocation or burning. The pond is yet unapproachable. The sawdust bank is still full of fire and as treacherous as quicksand. The smoke is so dense that not even a sight of the pond can be had from a point near the place where the bodies are supposed to be, and it may be some days before an attempt at recovery can be made.

From Brook Park come reports that the fatalities there were more than had been supposed. J. D. Markham, who owned the town site, knows that there were 113 settlers at or near that point. Reports Lamson & Hubbard show 28 of the number to be dead. Rumor has increased it to between 50 and 60.

Buried In Trenches. There are now lying in the Hinckley cemetery, under a shallow covering of sand, or rough boxes, which take place of caskets, 216 bodies. F. G. Webber of Pine City, who has had entire charge of the interment, has had his work well in hand and has kept most accurate account of the bodies. These figures include those buried by their friends.

Four trenches in all have been opened, Fall Overcoats I separated by about four feet. Commenting on the south, in the north trench, are 45 unboxed corpses. In trench No. 2 are 20 boxes, many containing from two to five bodies. This trench is nicely closed. In the third are 27. The fourth trench is not yet in use, but there are piled up 19 boxes which will be put in this afternoon.

The foreman of the construction train reported to Coroner Cowan that in the hill at the north end of the bridge across the Grindstone were nine bodies incinerated. A few rods west of where the Duluth depot stood was found the body of a woman. To this must be added the few bodies shipped out, the two buried by Jim Hunt's party, four interred by another explorer, Stautla by name, making the 225 accounted for in Hinckley and vicinity. A mass of estimates are being made, but there is no foundation for them. There were undoubtedly settlers and men

"JUNE" in her interesting column in the PATRIOT of Saturday would provoke a discussion on Quincy's position as to "Greater Boston," and seems willing to be gobbled up. With some the plan contemplated means much. If it is out and out annexation to Boston, "no" should returned from Maine. be the decision of Quincy. If it is to be a metropolitan government in the matter of water supply, sewerage system, park system, etc., it is quite another matter.

"June" points to the tax rate. Well that and will not be as high again for many years to come if Quincy adopts some financial policy. There should be a limit on the percentage of debt to valuation that should be paid in any one year. Aside from water and parks, Quincy this year pays indebtedness to the amount of $64,730, requiring very nearly $4 on the tax rate. This together with the payments on water and park assessments is altogether too much. The total debt Jan. 1 was but $339,730, and at the present rate of payment would be cancelled in less than six years. The law says all debts for ordinary expenses shall be paid within ten years, and in view of the obligations for water and parks the LEDGER contends house. that not over one-tenth should be paid in any one year, or what would be better, street have returned from their trip to limit the payment to $2 or $2.50 per 1,000 Maine. on the valuation of the city.

Should Quincy adopt the Boston policy her tax rate might be as low, and the improvements secured. If a sewer system was built on the assessment plan it would not affect the tax rate much, and on the the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Clarke of rental system it would soon be self supporting. Quincy's water supply is not as unsufficient as "June" would have us Higgins have returned from a vacation believe, for the Water Commissioners say spent in Halifax. their is no danger, and this has been a test year. No excessive appropriations are required for other departments that cannot be met in a business like way. Boston would not expend more money in the Quincy ward than it received in taxes, and for a dollar as they now do. The Quincy valuation is not excessive, as would soon be proved upon annexation to Boston. But it would be a costly experiment to try. Quincy is gaining faster in population than Boston, and wealth should keep pace. Where Boston from 1885 to 1890 increased less than 14 per cent. in population, Quincy gained over 37. SUNDAY EVENING witnessed the closing of the evangelistic meetings which have been in progress in South Quincy for the past five weeks, under the direction of Evangelist George S. Avery. The interest taken in these meetings can be judged somewhat by the attendance Sunday evening. It is estimated that there were from eight to nine hundred people present. The service did not close until 10 o'clock. Luring the five weeks about seventy-five services were held.

LABOR DAY GAME.

The Quincys of Old Colony League Defeat

The long looked for game of base ball for the championship of Quincy was played at Merry Mount park Labor day, before a crowd of at least 2,500 people and resulted in a victory for Capt. Burrill's team by a score of 27 to 15. The West Quincys of late have been putting up a very stiff game and with their crack pitcher, Dailey, thought they would do up the heavy hitters of the Old Colony League, but after five innings had been played it was found that the regular Quincys had made 20 runs on 15 hits and four bases on balls. Young Daily was then given a chance to play right field, Conaughton finishing the game in the box. He was also batted very hard.

PATENTS

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and the sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of man-kind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The order to save labor, time and expense. political change in the administra government does not affect the pro-the American inventor, who, being alert, and ready to perceive the existiciences, does not permit the affairs ernment to deter him from quickly ing the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be execused in choosing a competent and skilfur attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests habeen lost and destroyed in innumerable stances by the employment of incompel counsel, and especially is this advice ag cable to those who adopt the "No patent pay" system. Inventors who intrust it business to this class of attorneys do s imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all mminent risk, as the breadth and ployed in this line of business. The saw Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applica-tions generally, including mechanical inven-tions, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, va-lidity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. The West Quincy Fire.

BOSTON, Sept. 3d, '94. I happened to be an eye witness of the fire at West Quincy on Sunday, and wish LASTON-Desirable House of ten to compliment the Quincy Fire Departlet; furnace, hot and cold ment. Being near the Willard school at mall stable for horse and carlot, beautifully located on the time of the first stroke of the alarm, I commanding a charming went immediately to the scene of the conflagration. Saw the arrival of the hose carriage No. 3, and the laying of the first ine of hose.

I think that it was not over three or four minutes at the longest, from the first stroke of the bell when the water was turned on the fire. The prompt arrival of the entire department and the efficient service rendered, and energetic efforts on the part of its members, is deserving of much praise. The saving of much property is work in fighting the fire.

A large part of the contents of the storehouse was of inflammable material; such as hay, straw, hair, lime; and also a large quantity of flour belonging to E. H. Doble will act as physician. The association of the strategies of the strat quantity of flour belonging to E. H. Doble attractive and convenient time made by Chief Williams to the fire on of six rooms and bath, the above date is a fair sample of his son street. One prompt response to all alarms, and his ability as a fire-fighter is equally as good, that Quincy should be proud of its fire chief. The Boston world-renown fire department could have done no better. I wish to say in conclusion that there are hard-working poor men members of COMS, OFFICES AND WHARVES the hose company, No. 3, and that I saw more than one with his best suit of clothes

THE PULLMAN CHARTER

Said to Have Been Infringed Upon by a Large Miscellaneous Line. CHICAGO, Sept. 5 .- Attorney General Molony has prepared his amended petition in the quo warranto proceedings against the Pullman Palace Car company, and will immediately appear before the criminal court and ask leave to file the amended petition and also the information against the company.

The main additional charges made in the amended petition are that the Pullman company is, without charter authority, operating a gas plant and brick works. The court is also told that the Pullman company realizes a large profit by selling water to the Pullman residents. The company also, it is represented, supplies steam heat to many of the business houses and apartment houses for pecuniary profit. The maintenance of a truck farm by the company is charged, and this court is told cannot be covered by a charter to manufacture relief facture railroad cars. The sale of liquors by the Pullman company in its cars, while in transit, is also deemed by the petition to be a division of its charter rights. The ownership of 17 acres of unoccupied land south of Lake Calumet by the Pullman company is attacked. The petition says that this amounts to a real extensional south. that this amounts to a real estate specula-

Mr. John Sullivan was tendered a benefit in J. L. Harvey's dance hall Houghs Neck, Saturday evening and presented with a gold ring by his lady friends, and a meerschaum pipe by the gentlemen. Mr. Sullivan kindly volunteered his services at the beginning of the season as floor director for the dances, given under the auspices of Gardner's Ochestra of Brockton, and his services have been fully appreciated by them as was shown. It was a complete surprise to Sullivan who could not say a word although the hall rung with cries of Sullivan. ORDERS VERSUS SCRUPLES.

A Soldier Punished For Refusing to Practice Target Shooting on Sunday.

Charles O. Cedarquist, private, Company A, Second infantry, stationed at Omaha, has been found guilty of disobeying his superior officer in refusing because of religious scruples to attend target practice on Sunday and sentenced to be confined at hard labor for a period of six months and to forfeit to the United States $10 per month of his pay for the same period. This is the first time such a case has arisen in the annals of the army, and the decision and finding of the court martial established a precedent for future cases of a similar na ture. The case has attracted a great deal of attention in army and religious

The defense was practically limited to the contention that the order, in respect of which disobedience was charged, was an unlawful one in that-first, it enjoined a duty to be performed on Sunday in violation of orders and regulations limiting Sunday labor in the army to the measure of strict necessity, and, second, that the act required to be done would have been a violation of section 241 of the criminal code of Nebraska. The decision says:

"That a commanding officer has a discretion under exisiting orders to require target practice by his command on Sunday in case of necessity is undoubted. The evidence in this case fails to fix upon the commanding officer any abuse of acceded to all hands in the city, Brooklyn discretion in the issue of the order complained of by the accused. The legality of that order and the obligation of the accused to obey it when duly transmitted to him cannot be questioned. It was not for him to judge of the necessity for the issuance of the order. The discretion pertained to his commanding officer as to whether one existed, and whether erroneously or not, it was the duty of the accused to obey. It is conceded that soldiers stationed at Belleview on Sunday, would be within the provisions of the sections referred to and liable to its penalties, but after careful consideration the reviewing authority is of the opinion that the state could not make, nor has it by this section or any other legislation to which his attention has been called, attempted to make the performance on Sunday of target practice or any other duty pertaining to the instruction and discipline of the army a criminal offense." The occasion is deemed opportune for inviting the attention of the department to the fact that the obligations of military service will never permit a soldier to refuse obedience to an order because in his judgment it is unneces-

After a thorough examination by ourselves, and receiving the endorsement of some of the best dry goods houses in the New England states, and particularly from several houses who formerly carried Buttericks-who now carry the Standard-we are convinced that the for delayed trains. "Standard Patterns" are far superior to all others-in being more up to date, better modeled, simpler directions for making-insuring perfect satisfaction, a great saving in time, much less fitting to do, and allowing just enough seams, thereby considerable saving in material-there being no waste as in others every pattern is modeled to the human form, and are so nicely proportioned that it is almost impossible to produce anything (if directions are followed, and which are extremely simple) but a beautiful fitting garment.

WEATHER AND CROPS

Fruit and Forest Trees Show Effect of the Drought.

THE LACK OF RAIN IS GENERAL.

Potatoes Are Doing Better Than Was Expected.

Boston, Sept. 5 .-- We give below the veather-crop bulletin issued by the New England weather service for the week ending Sept. 8, 1894:

Along the coast the weather for the week just passed has been cooler than usual, while in interior sections it has been warm, with a few cool nights, but no frosts. There has been very little sunshine in any district. A good shower passed easterly across central Vermont and into New Hampshire on the 80th ult., giving half an inch or more of rain in places. The day was generally cloudy and threatening elsewhere, but only a trace or few hundredths of an inch of rain came in any other section, and in many places none was recorded during the week.

Potato Crop Will Be Large. The drought is now reported by most correspondents, except in central Vermont and in central and northern Maine, as the worst on record. Even where the light showers and heavy dews have kept vege-tation refreshed and growing, though but slowly, the wells and streams have been getting lower and lower; many that never have been known to fail before are nov dry or nearly so. It makes very favorable conditions for work on meadows and bog lands and many are improving the opportunity. The fruit and forest trees are now beginning to show the effects of the drought in their drying and falling leaves. Maine has suffered from the drought the least of any of the states, but the reports now indicate that crops are suffering and that it is too dry to plow and put in grass and grain seed. Potato digging has begun, but it is reported that not until next week will it be well under way. There is some complaint of rot and rust, but nothing serious. The potatoes are generally found of good size and excellent quality. One correspondent in Arostock county says the yield promises an average one, but owing to the unusual large acre age there will be an immense crop.

Pastures Doing Well. In northern New Hampshire grass is looking fairly green, pastures are still very good and most crops are doing well. Po tatoes are turning out fairly well, with very little rot reported. In southern counies some report not more than half a crop of potatoes, while others say an average yield and of good quality. Corn is maturng well, but will be poorly filled on dry land. Apples are withering on the trees in Merrimack valley, but generally the crops make a good showing. Much grass on new pieces is dead, and will promise a poor crop next year. There will be very little grown in the southern part of the state. All late forage crops have suffered for rain Conditions Differ. Correspondents in Orange county, in central Vermont, report pastures in good condition, and the streams and wells no ower than is usual at this time of year. Their crops are doing very well and rowen is being harvested. But in Chittenden county and southern Vermont the drought is pronounced a serious matter both to crops and to pasture and field land. Po-tates are turning out fairly well, though they are rotting badly in Orleans county. Pumpkins are a light crop. Corn is good.

and will be light.

Cranberry Crop Will Be Light. All of Massachusetts continues to suffer for want of rain. Most crops are maturing and would not be helped materially but fall plowing and grass seeding cannot be done. Pastures are very dry and water is failing in many of them. Corn on dry land is ripening up too fast and is not fill-ing well, but generally this crop will be fairly good. The reports on potatoes are very irregular, but they are turning out better than was expected in many places. Cranberry picking has begun, with a very light crop in prospect. Fruit is dropping badly in places, but the winter varieties generally promise well.

Re-seeding Necessary.

The weather in Rhode Island has been favorable for the maturing of crops, but it is very dry, and, as in the other states, wells and streams are failing. There will be very little second crop of hay cut. Much of the land that was seeded last spring will have to be re-seeded this fall to have any hay next year. The report on apples is variable, some orchards showing a good crop, while others very few. Tobacco Crop All In.

Notwithstanding the great lack of rain in Connecticut in most places the crops are making a fair showing. Corn is poor in places, but is generally good. Cran-berries are being gathered. Late peaches are reported scarce in New Haven county, but of fine quality and large, and they are ripening well, with a good crop in Fairfield county. Onions are small. Buckwheat is poor. Potato digging is general throughout the state and many report a better yield than had been expected. One correspondent in New Haven county says they are very puzzling, some fields that look promising yield few and small ones, while others, where not a large yield was expected, turn out an excellent crop. There is great complaint of rot in Litchfield county, being worse on high, dry land; some fields will hardly pay for digging. The tobacco worms are damaging tomato vines very much in places where the tobacco was injured greatly by hail near the first of last month. The tobacco crop is practically harvested, most of it being put in nearly two weeks earlier than last year, owing partly to the early set and partly to the forcing of the plants by the hot weather in July. The crop is pronounced very large.

BRAVE-HEARTED MEN

Saved Nearly Five Hundred Persons From Forest Fires.

The ex-president said: "This district SOME VERY NARROW ESCAPES.

Loss of Life Is Now Placed at Four Hundred.

PINE CITY, Minn., Sept. 6.-The heroes of the forest fires are many, but Engineer Berry and Conductor Powers of the eastern Minnesota freight came to the front rank among the heroes who have stood trial by fire.

Four hundred and seventy-eight people, whom they picked up and carried to safety In the box cars, were carried through the midst of the furnace over burning ties, in the face of the knowledge that another train in the opposite direction had the right of way, and was liable to be met mywhere in the smoke, fire and flam and a terrible ride over the 130-foot bridge across the Kettle river, which was blazing and trembling under the wheels, appar ently ready to fall.

Fifteen minutes after the train passed, the bridge went into the river. It was at this time that a crowd of alleged men rowded into the cab and begged Engineer Berry to uncouple the train and carry them to safety, leaving the people in the cars to perish. They were summarily fired out by the engineer, who could find no words severe enough for them.

One of the most pathetic and heart ending tales is that of James Kelly and Ernest Hogan. As a result Kelly was buried here yesterday, and Hogan, with his feet and hands terribly burned and his system exhausted, lies at Sandstone with small chance of recovery. Kelly was camp foreman for O'Brien Bros., whose camp is eight miles from Hinckley. When the fire drew perilously close to the camp, and they could fight it off no longer, they started to walk to Sandstone, seven mile

An Awful Experience.

They trudged through the blistering atnosphere, encouraging at every step and picking each other up when either fell. Finally, about a quarter of a mile beyond Kettle river, Kelly became exnausted. By this time Hogan's shoes were badly burned; his feet were so blistered that he was compelled to take to his hands and knees. In this shape he managed to crawl into a ravine near by. Kelly stopped for a moment on the ridge. He fell in a heap and rolled over and over until he struck the bottom of the ravine, dead.

Hogan lay all Saturday night in the ravine, expecting that every moment would be his last. Sunday morning he did what few men would do—started for Sandstone on his hands and knees. No one knows what he suffered as he toiled wearily along. Fully six miles more, interest and the suffered as he toiled wearily along. credible as it may seem, he crawled, reaching Sandstone after having spent the en ire time since Saturday night on the way. His hands and feet suffered, and he wil bear the marks to his grave.

Grim Figures. Corrected figures are of a character cal-

total number of dead. There has been an increase over previou timates at Hinckley, but the prospect of any considerable number remai still in the woods is decreasing There are 233 buried in Hinckley grave yard, and perhaps a dozen more buried at other points in the vicinity, increasing the total here to about 250, but the additional number here may be safely taken away from the liberal estimate allowed for those et unfound, leaving the total between 875 and 400. Reports from the north are to the effect that Carlton, Kerrick and Barnum are in danger. The fire now surrounds these laces, and is raging furiously. So dense cannot see across the street.

A report was current that Barnum had een destroyed, but it has been impossible to confirm it. Kerrick, previously re ported as in great danger, is not yet safe The men of Kerrick had sent the wome and children to West Superior and Du luth for safety, and remained behind to

Will Be Rebuilt.

There was a good deal of talk to the effect that Hinckley and Mission Creek having been wiped from the face of the earth, would simply remain a memory Nothing could be further from the truth Hinckley, being a junction and a source of town as fully as possible will be begun at ce. The same will be done at Mission Creek.

Subscriptions Rolling In. The subscriptions for the fire sufferers have jumped up rapidly. Altogether, the money contribution will aggregate, up to this time, $25,000. Two carloads of pro visions from this city have reached Shell Lake and Cumberland, Wis., for the destitute at those places. The Michigan Fires.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 6.—This city is again enveloped in smoke, the fires in forests adjoining having started afresh. The rain Monday checked the fires considerably, but extinguished only the smallest ones. The damage here is confined to crops and timber, as the fire is some distance from settlements. Reports from lumber towns west of here say that the danger is by no means over. Hundreds of men are still fighting flames throughout the upper peninsula.

Over the Border.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6 .- Minnesota fores fires have spread to the Canadian side and are burning the entire country along the Rain river. Mrs. Gamsley and four children are reported burned to death.

FOR GRANITE CUTTERS.

The V. M. C. A. to Open Evening School in this City of Schools.

The granite cutters of the city will no opened by the Young Men's Christian those of the Adams, Lincoln and Quincy Association next month. For over a year appearing yesterday. the management of the Association has been giving serious consideration to the opening day, which will certainly be in question "How can the Association best creased, and compares the same with the adapt its secular work so as to make it of graduates from each building last June: the most practical benefit to the largest class of men in the community."

There is no doubt but that there are more young men in the granite business in our city than in all other trades and professions combined. One of the greatest Wollaston will pass a part of September at needs of the granite business today is more skilled workmen. First class workmen are seldom in need of a job. It is the testimony of the leading manufacturers that the most skilled workmen are those who have a knowledge of drawing. This is especially true where the compressed air machines which are so rapidly coming into use, are handled.

Many men have been greatly benefited by the drawing classes in the evening schools, but there is another department of study which we believe has never been taught in the evening schools, namely, clay modeling. This is a very important auxiliary to first class stone cutting. The Association proposes to furnish first class instruction in monumental drawing, freehand drawing and clay modeling.

During the summer Secretary Colton visited the Associations of Springfield and Ambrese Blo Dayton, Ohio, the first in the country, to Alma Olson take up industrial educational work, with Grace McLeod a view of securing as much valuable information as possible from their experience. The 10 cent fares of the City of Quincy These Associations carry on many different lines of manual training work for various classes of men, but the secretary of the Dayton Association stated that as a class, the stone cutters in the class in clay Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Crane held modeling had secured, as a result of the their first "at home," Wednesday evening, knowledge acquired in the class, a larger at their residence on Elm street, at which advance in pay than any other class of be generally decreased, rather than increased, every ambitious young man will endeavor to fit himself for a higher grade of work. The Association realizes that the success of such classes depends largely upon the teachers. They must not only understand W. H. Doble of this city secured his their particular branch, but must be discharge in insolvency at Dedham acquainted with the trade in which the Helen Baker Wednesday. A discharge was refused pupil belongs. They must also be able to Marion S. Corey Charles E. Woodbury, and the case of Mur- impart their knowledge to their classes. It is naturally to be expected that such an Charles L. Campbell Association would also desire to secure men who are thoroughly interested in helping young men to become not only skilled workmen, but also to develope strong characters. The Association believes that it has secured men who have these qualifications.

The class in clay modeling and free hand drawing will be taught by Mr. Herbert W. Quincy. Mr. Beattie is a graduate of the noted South Kensington school of London, and has built up for himself a good reputation by his fine work, which is well known

Duff, designer give Quincy a population next May of Keevil of Lovell officiated. The best man for Milne & Chalmers. Mr. Duff has also 23,000, while the metropolitan district will was Mr. William Nichols and the maid of studied in the South Kensington school and has had a large experience as a teacher n Scotland. He has also taught in the evening schools in Barre. Mr. Duff has worked at stone cutting so that he has the practical knowledge of the business.

Already a number of men have given heir names as members of these classes and there is no doubt but that cutters and manufacturers will welcome this practical interest in their welfare.

DEXTER FAXON.

For Many Years the Village Smith ar Always a Hard Worker.

Dexter Faxon, who has been a familiar character about Quincy for over half a century, died Wednesday afternoon, aged about 78 years. Mr. Faxon was a character in his way, he knew everybody and nearly everybody knew him and always had upon his tongue's end the family history of many of our old residents. Retaining a remarkably good memory up to his death, he could give accurate dates and relate many incidents in connection with events that transpired many years

"Deck," as he was familiarly known. has always been a hard worker from boy hood and even at his present age, before he was taken sick, could make many of the workmen of today hustle to keep up with

In statue he was short and stout, and bent with age. He usually wore an old felt hat and old clothes, and a T. D. was his constant companion, yet within these old clothes there beat as honest and kind a heart as was ever sheltered, neath the best of broadcloth

His familiar face will be missed.

HOUGHS NECK.

The season at Houghs Neck is practically at an end. Many families have already nailed up their doors and windows and departed for their winter homes and every thing, so that by the first of October but few of the summer residents will be left.

The season as a whole can not be said to have been a prosperous one for the hotel and booth proprietors as the small pox scare at opening of the season kept many away who had intended to summer here. For the cottagers however it has been all that could be desired, as the weather has been warm and there have been but few stormy days.

The building this year has also been very light and but few new houses have been WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and erected. The prospect, however, is that next year will see many new cottages

SARSAPAR THE SARSAHINEST KIN

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. P. MERRILL, the wonderful specialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all cutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a remarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous alcohol, and all injurious ingredients.

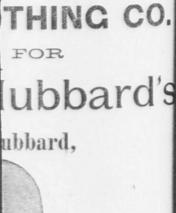

PROP. W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., author of "New Thera peutical Agents", the standard text book of the newer materia medica, Consulting Chemist and Therapeutist, one of the most widely known men among the medical profession gives it high bight and profession as testified gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement:

"Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me therapeutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that of mercury, less the faults of that drug; for, has not Pereira said, "A perfect mercury would be a perfect

China's Edict of War Says That Japan Violated Treaties.

COREANS WILL YET BE FREED.

China Will Root the Wojen From Their Lairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—The steamship Belgic arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama, via Honolulu, bringing Yoko nama advices to Aug. 15 and Hong Kong to Aug. 1. At Pekin on Aug. 1 the following edict was issued by the emperor:

Corea has been our tributary for the past this time, which is a matter known to the world. For the past dozen or so years,

In May of this year another rebellion was begun in Corea, and the king asked for aid from us to put down the rebellion. We then ordered Li Hung Chang to send troops to Corea, and they having barely reached Yashun, the rebels scattered. But the Wojen (a name for the Japanese expressive of the greatest contempt), without any cause whatever, suddenly sent their troops to Corea and entered Seoul, re-enforcing them constantly until

They Have Exceeded 10,000 Men. In the meantime the Japanese forced the Corean king to change his form of government, showing a disposition in every way to bully the Coreans.

It was found a difficult matter to reason with the Wojen. Although we have been in the habit of assisting our tributaries, we have never interfered with their international government. The Japanese treaty with Corea was as one country with another. There is no law for sending large armies to a country and bullying it in this way, compelling it to Change Its System of Government, The various powers are united in condemning the conduct of Japan. Nor has Japan been amenable to reason, nor would she listen to the exhortation to withdraw her troops and confer amicably upon what should be done in Corea. On the contrary, Japan has shown herself bellicose without regard to appearance, and has been increas ing her forces there. Her conduct alarmed the people of Corea as well as our merchants there, and we sent more troops over to protect them. Judge of our surprise then, when half way peared and took advantage of our unne pared condition, opened fire on our transports at a spot on the seacoast near Yashan and damaged them, thus causing us to suffer from their treacherous conduct, which could not be foretold by us.

Treaties Violated. As Japan has violated the treaties and not observed international laws, and is now running rampant with her false and treacherous acts, commencing hostilities demnation by the various powers at large, we therefore desire to make it known to the world that we have always followed Bros. on executions aggregating $93,56 the paths of philanthropy and perfect justice throughout the whole complication New York, New Haven while the Wojen, on the other hand, have broken all the laws of nations and treaties which it passes our patience to bear with.

Will Show No Mercy. Hence, we command Li Hung Chang to give strict orders to our various armies to hasten with all speed to root the Wojen out of their lairs. He is to send successive armies of valiant men to Corea in order to have the Coreans freed from bondage.

We also command the Manchu generals viceroys and governors of the maritime provinces, as well as the commanders-inchief of the various armies, to prepare for war and to make every effort to fire on the Wojen ships if they come into our ports and to utterly destroy them.

We expect our generals to refrain from the least laxity in obeying our commands in order to avoid severe punishment at our hands. Let all know this edict, as if addressed to themselves individually.

The entire Cnines force then fought against the remainder and cut them down. DOMINO WINS A $5000 PURSE.

Cycler Bliss Establishes a New World's Record.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7. - The flag of honor floats over the track of the Indianapolis Driving club and the sun of Terre Haute and Fort Wayne has been eclipsed. Robert J, the great son of Hartford, reigns supreme as king of the turf, and the pennant waves above his stall at the state fair grounds.

The match race for a purse of $5000 be tween Robert J and Joe Patchen was expected to bring forth some phenomenal speed, but not one of the 10,000 people gathered at the track was prepared for the errible smashing of records. A mighty cheer went up as Geers and Curry drove quietly down in front of the imphitheater and jogged to the turn. The erowd had become breathless as they re-turned together and pulled out for a little warming up and down the stretch. Five minutes later the two swept down the track for the word. Both drivers settled aselves firmly in their seats. There were a determined air and set expression apon the face of each.

ROBERT J. Both horses were at their stride at the start and less than a neck apart. Down the track they came at a terrible pace with perfect in ion and even stride. Around the turn the two rivals shot, and at the uarter 311/4 was announced. Not an inch of difference to the relative positions could be seen. It was as though the two were on the principal building, that of manu-

"1:021/2 at the half," was called out. Geer spoke to the little brown, and there was an immediate response. He forged 20,000 or more ahead a nose as the two swept into the urn, and there was a slight check noticeble as the last curve was being cut down. Both drivers gathered the reins for the stretch and 1:34 at the three-quarters was detailed for service in Australian waters, yelled from the stand. The Second Heat.

Forty-five minutes later the track was cleared and the two horses came out. Again the word was given. Like twin rockets they shot from under the wire and started on the trip around the turn that was to bring them glory and fame.

Robert J went right to the front, moving like a piece of mechanism. At the quarter he led the big fellow by two lengths. Joe Patchen closed up the gap going down the backstretch and was hanging to the little brown's wheel at the Lexow for the purpose of ascertaining if half, which was reached in 1:011/2. The crowd could not contain its pent-up enthusiasm longer than to see the nose of King Robert pushed under the wire. Plunger Grannan Won $46,000 in Bets at Sheepshead Bay.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The racing for the year at the Sheepshead Bay track ended in NEW YORK, Sept. 7 .- The racing for the a blaze of glory. The chief interest was in the contest between Domino and Clifford, distance one mile, for a special purse of $5000. Riley Grannan made one of his biggest winnings, for he took all of the Clifford money he could get, and when he rounded up his book he was $46,000 ahead. At the start there was little delay and the flag fell with the two in line. The first sixteenth of the race was run in better than 6s. On the first eighth they flew together locked like a team and their noses struck the pole in 122-5s. from the fall of the flag. Still locked together they ran to the quarter and the pole was reached in 24 2-5 seconds. At the three-eighths pole, which was reached in 36 3-5s., Domino had a shade the better of it and Clifford was breathing hard. Taral saw that he was safe and took Domino back a trifle.

They rounded the turn into the stretch with Domino going easily and Clifford laboring a length away. Simms went to the whip in the vain hope of catching his flying antagonist, but the western horse was done and could do no more. Taral eased his mount and came in a winner under an easy pull in the fast time of

Never before in the history of the track was there such a wild shout of joy, and the wild pandemonium continued as long as horse and jockey were in sight.

Li Hung Chang Held Responsible For Disasters to Chinese.

THE VICEROY UNDERRATED JAPAN.

Thinks He Was Misled by the Minister In Corea.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7 .- A strong Japanese force has occupied a large island in Society bay, 40 miles northwest of Port Arthur, and will make it a base of operations. Their landing was not opposed. Chinese forces are reported to be still pushing forward to Corea.

Pekin newspapers contain news that bodes ill for Li Hung Chang. The sole responsibility in the conduct of the present war rests on him, and for every disaster the Chinese land or sea forces sustain he is held accountable.

The Nichi-Nichi says that Wang Jung Ho and Li Hung Tsan, who were commissioned a few months ago by the Pekin government to watch over the actions o the viceroy, are going to take active meas ures now that intelligence of defeats of Chinese on land and sea has reached th ars of statesmen of Pekin.

Wang Hung Ho is said to be on ba terms with the viceroy, and, as his influence over the court of Pekin is known to considerable, the situation of the vice roy must be an anxious one.

The Hochi and several other papers even state that a committee for the impeach ment of the viceroy has been appointed, and that Wang Jung Ho, Li Hung Tsan, Chang Chtung and an elder brother o this Chang, all enemies of the viceroy, have been appointed its members. That the court of Pekin was disposed toward a pacific policy, and that the declaration of war

KENT FOR GOVERNOM.

Outline of Platform Adopted by Demo

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 7 .- Colonel Henry O. Kent of Lancaster was nominated by vention as its candidate for governor. Colonel Kent accepted the nomination. The platform was adopted by a unaninous vote. It reaffirms the principles adopted at the national convention at Chicago in 1892, and congratulates the party and the national administration upon the substantial redemption of their pledges to the country; it favors a liberal interpretation and just enforcement of the pension Beginning Monday night and continuing laws and denounces all attempts to make any religious test a qualification for office.

It denounces the "corrupt and extra vagant administration of affairs in New Hampshire by the Republican party; their trial of Paskola. I felt a marke outrageous proceedings in recasting the > ence with the right of local self-government.' It denounces the present prohibitory law as having totally failed to prevent or curtail the evils of intemperance and as having been used by the Republicans "solely for the purpose of coercing the labor vote, deluding the temperance vote and enriching Republican officials." It finally announces itself as the friend of laboring men, of whom its membership is largely composed.

Little New Hampshire Town the Scene Three Mysterious Deaths.

NEWTON, N. H., Sept. 7 .- This section of the state is again thrown into a state of intense excitement over three mysterious deaths. Watson Peck, a prosperous Thomas Robertson for many years with farmer, died six weeks ago of stomach position as foreman for the Cape Ann 25, died of apparently the same trouble. The attending physician, Dr. I. D. Bol ton of Merrimac, Mass., was not quite sure of just what the trouble was, but when a second son a boy of 16, expired last Sunday, he became suspicious that death occurred from other than natural causes. Vomiting in all three cases was the prevailing symptom, and Dr. Bolton requested Drs. Axtelle of Haverhill and Douglass of Amesbury to give an opinion All three physicians decided that an au topsy should be ordered, and so notified the members of the family. One of the members strenuously opposed this proposition, and it was not until the selectmen of Newton were called upon and the order made compulsory that the family were quieted. The autopsy will be held at once, and interesting results are anticipated. The Peck family live in an isolated section, and further particulars cannot b learned. The three deaths occurred within a period of six weeks, and Dr. Bolton said that the symptoms very strongly re

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

I observe in your paper a reference to the assignment of John E. Drake & Co. with some unfavorable comments on a proposed composition with the creditors. I think the criticisms are unjust and put in a false light the relations of the company thereto, for the following reasons, to

In the first place, Mr. Drake, the senior partner, has made in the last year or more, a titanic effort to avoid the catastrophe that has at last taken place; reducing his indebtedness in the last year over $40,000. If anyone will ponder this fact in its full significance, he will be impressed with the energy and resolution shown by Mr. Prake to give to everyone his just due, and they cannot then fail to appreciate the keen disappointment to him in his failure, to finally pull through.

How few there are that in the same circumstances would have kept all their property in sight and not in some way secreted or transferred some portion of their assets to tide them over until they were once more in successful business. His course makes him as one of the most honorable of men, and instead of harsh strictures at this time it seems to me he deserves the sympathy and moral support of his fellowmen.

In the second place Mr. Drake has always lived in this community and has been one of the few men who has steadily aided in developing Quincy by carrying on his entire business in this place, paying out in wages annually for a number of years from sixty to seventy thousand dollars.

This is no inconsiderable sum and the million of dollars that in the last twenty years has been distributed through his instrumentality has been a decided factor in the prosperity of this city, and certainly not open for a few weeks and several of shows that men of his business calibre are valuable and entitled to respect. In the third place, it is hardly necessary to point out that the times in lu in ss have Third Vice President, Department of been exceedingly hard, and his failure today is not the result of personal habits that were bad, or business management that was bad, but rather to a conjunction of circumstances that no man could control.

Finally, I feel assured that I do not appeal in vain to the LEDGER to give this expression a place in your valuable paper, for I know that you would not intentionally be the medium of doing any Yours in the interest of JUSTICE.

HOW WILL THE LAST MAN DIE? Following are the opinions of the lead-

Beginning with the year 3000 A. D., humanity will commence to retrograde, and by the end of the year 1000000 man will be no larger and have no more intelligence than a plant louse. In that event there will be no "last man." There is a retarding medium in space, causing a gradual loss of velocity in all of the planets. The earth, when her revolutions finally cease, will be drawn nearer and nearer to the sun until the last man will be literally roasted off the surface of

The ice is gradually accumulating at the north pole and slowly melting away at the south. Eventually the earth's center of gravity will suddenly change, and the last man will be crushed by the rush of movables that will quickly glide over

THE GERMAN RITUAL

Can No Longer Be Used by Lodges of the Knights of Pythias.

MINORITY MADE A GOOD FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The German question was decided by the Knights of Pythias by a decisive vote against permitting the use of the ritual in other than the English language. The gist of the majority report is found in the following recommendation: "That the supreme lodge reannounce and reaffirm the declaration made at the Kansas City session that henceforth and forevermore the ritual used in this and all other English speaking nations shall be printed in the English language only, and that when the standard of our order shall be planted in any country speaking an-8 14 other than the English language, the ritual 9 13 therein used shall be printed and all ceremonies over which this body has control shall be conducted only in the language of the government of such country, to the end that it shall be known to all men and to all nations that around our altar Pythian knights are taught as one of the cardinal principles of our order, Undying Loyalty and Devotion to the government to which they owe their allegiance, whether it be the land of their birth or the country of their adoption." It also commended the supreme chan cellor for his action in upholding law in this matter, and was signed by four members of the committee. Stanton L. Carter. Thomas D. Meares, L. P. Hunt and Aaron

John H Russe of Indiana favored the minority report, which recommended that lodges which have remained loyal to the supreme lodge, and who were working with rituals in other than the English language when the last ritual was promulgated, be furnished with rituals in the language they were previously using for a period of five years, after which they should surrender them and use only the

Three Hours of Warm Debate were had over the question. The principal speech for the minority was made by Representative Featherstone of Wisconsin, and for the majority by Representative whole question would have to be fought

Sitting in committee of the whole, the lodge has approved the unanimous report of the committee on the state of the order recommending that saloon keepers, bartenders and professional gamblers be declared ineligible to membership, but not af-fecting those who have already become nembers. The question has not been acted upon by the supreme lodge proper.

The same committee recommends that the supreme lodge proclaim against the use of the name of Pythianism in connec-

"YICTORY OR DEATH."

Labor Leaders' Summing Up of the Garment Workers' Strike, Church, Press and Politicians Receive a Lashing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 .- A mass meeting of strikers was held in Cooper Union yes terday. It was a demonstration made by garment makers and operators in the clothing trades against the sweating system. The hall was crowded, and a determination was expressed not to return to work until the system was abolished.

Charles F. Reichers, general secretary of the garment workers, was chairman. He said the fight against the sweating system would be continued until it was abolished and the demands of the garment workers for more wages were acceded to. The contractors, he said, were more exacting in heir demands, until it became a question as to whether or not the workers were compelled to make 36 coats a day. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced the Sweating System as Damnable. "We must have victory or we will die which he said the strike was a fight for life or death against the plunderer and cause the judges were corrupt. The church was cringing to the powers; the press was arrayed against the striker. The plutocratic public was a failure, said Mr. Swinton, and he finished by denouncing President Cleveland as hangman

Jack Ketch of the White House. Resolutions were passed expressing the determination of the strikers to continue the struggle until they secured more wages, less hours of labor and better factory accommodation. A speech was made in German, in which the speaker said the strike would not be settled until the executive board of conneighbor. It made him nervous. He has tractors made their agreement to last for always been afraid of his wife, he says. one year, and executed a bond with the workers to carry out the agreement. The recent offers of the executive board were not made in good faith and were a pretext to have the men return to work until the heavy season was over, when the wages would again be reduced.

say they cannot afford to give the wages required by the strikers. There will be another conference between the contractors and strikers.

Peck Was Poisoned.

AMESBURY, Mass., Sept. 8 .- An autopsy on the body of 10-year-old Charles Peck, who died Sunday at Newton, N. H., showed signs of arsenical poisoning. The body of the father, Watson Peck, will be exhumed and the stomach will be sent to Professor Wood of Harvard. The body of Charles was embalmed, and an autopsy could not pastorate on account of ill health. He is therefore be concise. The elder Peck was not embalmed. It is probable that all were poisoned, but by whom is a mystery.

Forepaugh's Circus Seized. Springfield, Ills., Sept. 8.—At Gibson City yesterday United States Marshal Brinton seized Adam Forepaugh's circus on a writ of attachment sworn out by George Coupe, late chief musician of the show, who filed a suit for $10,000 damages. The proprietors of the show, he alleges, brutally assaulted him and set a hound on him and disabled him for life.

Pointers For "Pivoters." NEW YORK, Sept. 8 .- The 17th annual convention of the American Society of Professors of Dancing concluded their work yesterday. M. B. Gilbert of Portland, Me., was chosen president. The convention adopted several new dances. Among the things the convention did was to taboo the two-step as a round dance.

The clerk and one of the early pr moters of the company, was born in Scotland in 1842, and came to this country in 1872, settling in Quincy, where he worked at his trade, pranite polishing, for McKenzie & Paterson. In 1880 he entered the granite business for himself with George Chalmers, under the firm name of Milne & Chalmers. This firm is now one of the largest in Quincy, and besides owning a large quarry they have a large stone cutting shed and polishing works at South Quincy. Mr. Milne is also a director and clerk of the Lyons Granite Co.

The systematic quarrying of granite 60 pounds to the yard, except from the n Quincy began early in the present bridge at Burke's around the Big Fill century, but it was in 1752 that King's as far as Elcock's spur, which is laid Chapel, Boston, was built and this was with 85 pound rail and six hole angle the first important building erected of bars. All curves and all joint ties are Quincy stone.

this vicinity took place on the Fitchburg railroad Saturday evening in the Hoosac Tunnel, a short distance east of the central shaft. The accident was caused by a rear-end collision between eastbound freight trains, and as near as can be ascertained happened about 10:30 o'clock.

the same time a westbound express train passed through the tunnel, filling it with was allowed to enter the tunnel, contrary to the rules of the road, and the engineer being unable on account of the dense smoke left by the passage of the express to distinguish the lights of the train from the electric lights on the walls of the tunnel went into it with a crash. Both trains were badly wrecked, the tunnel blockaded and two men were killed outright and three were seriously injured.

The killed were William Turpening, brakeman, of Syracuse, and George Mim-mick, brakeman, of Fitchburg. The injured were Walter Clapp, engineer, of Rotterdam, N. Y., injured about the pelvis and chest; Charles Fraser, fireman, of Rotterdam, N. Y., skull fractured and scalp badly wounded, injured about the hips and back and both hands severely burned; H. B. Bartlett, brakeman, of Fitchburg, right arm cut, spine injured and badly crushed.

The story of the disaster in detail is as follows: About 9 o'clock Saturday even ing extra freight 245 left North Adams and proceeded into the tunnel until when about 1000 feet east of the center shaft the spring hanger of the locomotive broke and it was necessary to stop for repairs. the train and was jacked up, and the trainmen commenced work making the necessary repairs. They worked steadily for about 25 minutes, but the repairs were not satisfactory to the engineer, and the locomotive was again lowered to the tracks. shortly after by freight 220, which was composed of heavily laden grain cars. This train came up to the west portal of the tunnel and the engineer noticed that the light on the signal tower was red, which signified that the tracks were not passed the signal tower at the east portal. But just at this time the signal was suddenly changed and a white light was hung out which indicated that the tracks in the tunnel were clear and that the first train

The express train left behind a dense smoke, so that the tunnel lights were barely discernible. The train proceeded and passed the central shaft, after which, the grade being downward, the speed was increased. The engineer had just shut off the steam and was in the act of reaching for his hat when suddenly there was a crash and confusion reigned supreme. The engine had crashed into the caboose of the standing train, and the engineer and fire-man had not the slightest intimation of the impending disaster, as on account of the dense smoke which filled the tunnel they were unable to discern the lights on

Operator Hodkin, who has charge of the signal lights at the east portal, is confined of forest fires in the city limits. Last in the police station and the charge of evening the wind shifted from southwest criminal carelessness is charged against him. W. Hodkins, the west portal operator, has also been placed under arrest. He claims he received the "O K" from the east end operator, and consequently changed his signal. Reed Brothers Got Into a Quarrel Which Ended In Murder.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 10.-The murde in Graniteville on Saturday, when Willard Reed killed his brother Charles in selfdefense, as he claims, during a quarrel, is the talk of the country districts for miles around. Mrs. Reed, the mother, has reached home from Fitchburg, and is nearly prostrated by the shock. The crime was the direct result of hard cider drinking. The dead man is about 50 years old and his murderer about 40 years. Since the death of their father, several years ago, they have lived with their mother in a little farmhouse. The mother is a very respectable woman, as is shown by numerous evidences within the house The boys, however, true sons of a disso lute father, were shiftless and dissipated Their worst enemy has been hard cider which was easily accessible. Into a cider mill, apparently, has gone all prosperity of the family.

Charles Reed, the victim, was a well-built man, about 5ft. 7in. high, with a fine brown mustache and beard and high fore head His brother Willard resembles him, save that his beard is black and he is not so tall. Neither of them were eve married.

ASSAULTED A CRIPPLE. An Ohio Man's Scheme For Accomplishing a Dastardly Deed. FINDLAY, O., Sept. 10.-John C. West drove to the farm residence of F. G. Clime near Benton Ridge and inquired for Linnie Martin, a 15-year-old girl in the employ of Mr. Climer, stating that her father, who lives in Bluefont, had been stabbed and was dying, and that he had sent for her. The girl, half frightened to death, got in the buggy. West drove about two miles and the account to the control of the control of the second that he can be accounted by the control of and then assaulted her. The girl is a cripple, and while attempting to defend herself was injured by the brute. After he had accomplished his purpose, West attempted to drive on, but the buggy ran into a ditch and was overturned. The girl escaped and ran into an adjacent farmhouse. She told her story and the farmyesterday afternoon about six miles from the scene of the assault. He was taken into custody and brought before his victim, who identified him as her assailant. West was then brought to this city and lodged in jail. Rumors of lynching are talked of, but no violence is anticipated. Died From Neglect. Brockton, Mass., Sept. 10.—Horatio Jacobs deserted his family a few days since, leaving a wife and two children in almost destitute circumstances. Mrs. Jacobs wished to leave the tenement where she was living and go elsewhere, but her consequently the creation of the tracks to be clear, as was indicated by the signal. Upon their arrival the officers found the youngest child dying, and before the city physi-cian arrived the child was dead. The infant evidently died from neglect. Forest Fires Rekindled. DULUTH, Sept. 10.-Forest fires were re newed again yesterday in this region by a heavy southwest gale which steadily increased in force. The bright sun was shut out, and the horizon again took on the sickly yellow coat of the fatal Saturday a week ago. There was great excitement here, and everyone rushed to telegraph and train dispatchers' offices. The sensa-tion was intensified by the breaking out to northwest, thus driving the flames away, and at 11 o'clock had almost entirely died out. No danger is now feared unless the gale springs up again.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 10.—Superintendent W. W. Murray of the Sockanosett reform school for boys, who mysteriously disappeared a week ago, has been heard from. He purchased tickets in New York for Europe, mailed them to his wife and that was the last heard from him until Saturday night, when he was found, so it Saturday night, when he was rothed, so it is claimed, in a New York hottel. He reached here yesterday morning. The only information given out is that he is Buy Coods for Cash

Danger Narrowly Averted. St. Paul, Sept. 10.—A gale of wind was blowing in the neighborhood of Mora and Moraca yesterday, and smoldering forest fires were quickly fanned into blazes, which for a time threatened Mora and Groundhouse, the latter place being paricularly in danger. The wind, however, has since gone down, and for the present. at least, the danger is believed to be over.

After a thorough examination by ourselves, and receiving the endorsement of some of the best dry goods houses in the New England states, and particularly from several houses who formerly carried Buttericks-who now carry the Standard-we are convinced that the "Standard Patterns" are far superior to all others-in being more up to date, better modeled simpler directions for making-insuring perfect satisfaction, a great saving in time, much less fitting to do, and allowing just enough seams, thereby considerable saving in material-there being no waste as in others - every pattern is modeled to the human form, and are so nicely proportioned that it is almost impossible to produce anything (if diections are followed, and which are extremely simple) but a beautiful fitting garment.

Officers of Railroad and Braintree Take

Somebody blundered at Braintree Saturlies in a dangerous condition at the City Hospital in Boston, having been shot by Edward P. Jackson, who supposed Spratt was a thief. For some time past the N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad have had the journals stolen from the freight cars left standing on the side track.

Officer Damon was instructed to investigate the case and Saturday night, as there were a number of cars at Braintree, he and Special Officer Jackson went to the place. It is stated they caught a man in the act of carrying off a load of sleepers which ple habitually drink polluted water. Occupy the Attention of the Hygienic Congress at Buda-Pesth.

AN AMERICAN'S STRONG PROTEST

Against Old-World Methods of Transacting Business.

BUDA-PESTH, Sept. 10 .- At the session of the Hygienic congress on Saturday, an interesting paper on cholera was read by Dr. Ernest Harts. He argued that the disease came from the valley of the Ganges, where there is an utter disregard of sanitary precautions, and where the peo-Harts said it seemed certain that person could touch cholera patients with im punity.

The danger consisted of the swallowing pilgrims to Mecca and elsewhere. The government of India must watch the fairs and festivals in that country, and Europe, the pilgrim track by isolating early cases. The Sultan of Turkey ought to adopt measures for the thorough sanitation of Mecca, which is a nursery of cholera.

Upon the conclusion of the reading o the paper, a resolution was adopted expressing the full approval of the congress of the convention respecting the disease. Disagreements ensued regarding the number of resolutions submitted, owing to the fact that many of them were no ranslated and were apparently not understood by a majority of those present.

Dr. Billings Protests. At an early stage of the discussion Dr. Billings, who represents the American government and several scientific bodies energetically protested against the whole sale adoption of resolutions that were unexplained and imperfectly understood; that an international congress of this kind should only pass resolutions regarding to them. He would object to every resolu-tion and challenge the vote on each. The voting then proceeded amid confu sion, and the resolutions were passed o rejected for no apparent reason. Dr. Billings renewed his protest, and said that while there was 2500 members of the congress resolutions were being passed by vote of 30 and 40. He demanded that the number of votes on each resolution be re corded. Dr. Loew of Vienna said that by its present conduct, the meeting was simply destroying the work of years. Important resolutions were being rejected, because only a few of the delegates were ac quainted with the subjects. Resolutions Voted Down A resolution was shortly afterward read relating to the compulsory insurance of cattle. Dr. Billings said the question was for a medical or pharmaceutical congres and had nothing to do with hygiene. This congress, he declared, might as well propose to pass resolutions bearing on inter-national law. The resolution was reected. Other irrelevant resolutions n

IN MEMORIAM.

Waltham Pays Further Tribute to

Memory of General Banks. WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 10.-Soldier and citizens crowded Asbury Temple yes-terday to pay tribute to the memory of the late General Nathaniel Prentiss Banks. The auditorium was draped in black and white; on an easel near the chancel rails was a large portrait of the deceased. Rev. Luther Freeman delivered the eulogy and said in part: "General Banks is dead. Another star 'neath time's horizon dropped to gleam o'er unknown lands and seas; another heart that beat for freedom has stopped. He was not born great, nor did he have greatness thrust upon him We find him early in life working in the mill, but he was never satisfied with his work and was always ambitious for a higher life.

"With him success was a duty, and he succeeded in climbing the successive steps in the ladder of fame. His abilities led him from an obscure life to the position of representative at the general court, to our national congress, to the speakership, to the gubernatorial chair, to a command in the great struggle for national integrity and to an old age full of honor and rich with the gratitude of a well-served people.'

CARS SPLINTERED.

Ten Persons Killed and a Score Injured on a French Train.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 10.-Ten persons wer killed and 20 injured by the wreck of the Paris and Cologne express train yesterday. The accident happened at Apilly and was caused by a collision of the express train with a freight train which was being shunted. The engineer saw the danger ahead and reversed his engine. This had the effect of reducing the speed and render ing the accident less severe than it would otherwise have been. As it was, the wreck was a very disastrous one. A passenger on the train who escaped with slight injuries says that the shock of the collision was tremendous and that the forward cars were reduced almost to atoms. The bodies of the victims were badly mutilated, in some cases the head being severed from the trunk.

The Dead Count. London, Sept. 10 .- A large number of persons visited Stowe House vesterday to ake a last look at the body of the Count of Paris, the head of the royal house of France, who died Saturday morning. It became generally known that the public would be admitted to the house, and this had the effect of drawing many persons through curiosity, as Stowe House had not before for many years been open to the Surprised the Congregation. EXETER, N. H., Sept. 10.—To his socie ty's surprise Rev. J. N. Chase yesterday read a letter resigning his pastorate over the Baptist church, which he has served since December, 1871. The resignation takes effect Nov. 1, and is prompted by Mr. Chase's need of rest. During his pas torate over 150 have been added to the church by baptism, and a $25,000 brick meeting house has been built.

Quincy High School Established Forty

Pattee's History of Quincy has the following brief history of the Quincy High school, which has from 1852 to the present time occupied the building on what is now High School avenue:

"At the annual meeting held in March, 1851, a committee of one was chosen from each school district to report at the adjourned meeting the expediency of erecting a High schoolhouse in compliance with the statute.

At the adjourned meeting held May 26, the committee reported that they had selected a lot of land in the rear of Quincy avenue, belonging to the Apthorp estate, as the most convenient site for the High school-house, and also for two other schoolrooms for the accommodation of the overcrowded Primary schools of the South and Centre districts. The land was purchased for $1200. The building was to be 54 by 38 feet, and constructed in a plain Grecian style, at an estimated expense of $4,775. Mr. William Parker received the contract for constructing the building at $4,952, and when completed, including the land it cost $6,748.68.

The town appropriated $800 to establish this school. Owing to the time taken to arrange the preliminary steps, the school 1852. On the day of examination, seventythree candidates presented themselves. A series of eighty questions was prepared, and subdivided as follows, viz:-Twenty in arithmetic, twenty in geography, twenty in grammar and twenty in spelling. Fiftyone were admitted, having returned the most correct answers. Thus was the High School organized under the charge of Asa Wellington, Esq., who taught this school three years. Miss C. R. Burgess was the the year 1854.

From the Old Records.

In the first organization of the High school, under one teacher who will have the duty of establishing the system, it is not deemed advisable that the number of children admitted should exceed 50 males

Candidates for admission shall produce from the masters of the schools they last attended a certificate of good moral character. It shall be the duty of the School Committee (until otherwise ordered) to examine the candidates in spelling history, English grammar, modern geogra phy and arithmetic, such arithmetic to be made by written questions and those only shall be admitted who by their answers shall have shown themselves competent to pass at once into classes in the High school

The course of study shall be: 1-Review of preparatory studies in the text books authorized to be used in the grammar schools. 2-Algebra.

3-History of the United States and general history. 4-Geometry. 5-Surveying.

6-Constitution of the United States and of Massachusetts.

7-Bookkeeping 8-Physiology. 9-Latin and Greek, elective, when parents request it in writing. The several divisions shall receive in struction in spelling, reading, writing, declamation and composition.

At a meeting held April, 1852, Asa Wellington was elected as principal of the High school to commence May 12, 1852, at $70 per month, to March 15, 1853.

May 12, 1852, the High school began with 50 pupils, having passed an examination by written interrogatories, seventythree candidates presented themselves and twenty-three were rejected.

The School Committee in 1852 were

THE WOODWARD.

The Institution Crowded and More Ac commodations Necessary.

The second term of the Woodward institute has opened most auspiciously, and oday there are in attendance 119 young ladies, which number will probably be welled to 125 before the time for entering

Increased accommodations must be provided as every room is more than filled and the library has been given up for a recitation room, and at present there is no room in the building where the pupils can be accommodated at one time.

Although the institution has been opened ess than a year, its fame, if it can be said o have obtained such, has reached far and wide, for Miss Small informs us that she has had applications from all over the country from girls who desire to attend the institute who do not know that it is for Quincy born girls only.

Plans are being made for additions to the building which it is hoped will soon be completed and the needed additions made. The corps of teachers this year is the same as that of the first term with the ad-1 Second Hand Black dition of Miss Kate Felicie Overman, teacher of German and French and Miss Georgianna Lane, teacher of drawing.

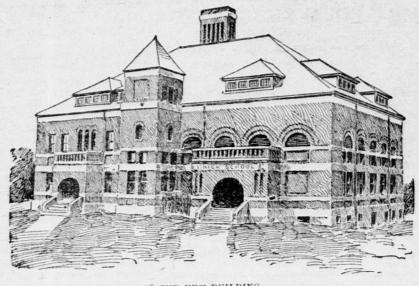

> OUR REPORTER who alluded yesterday to the excellent water on the tables at the banquet on opening of the new quarry railroad, called it the Crystal Spring water. It might be so called, very appropriately, as it is as clear as crystal; but its proper name is the Shawmut Spring water, furnished by our townsman, F. J. Fuller, in large or small quantities, at very low prices. At this season of the year, when fevers are raging, caused largely by impure water, it wise to keep on hand a pure spring water for table use, and there is none better in the state than that furnished from the Shawmut Spring.

THE GRANITE INDUSTRY.

Also a Word in the Proposed Work o the Y. M. C. A in Quincy. Editors of the Daily Ledger:

granite industry of our city, an idea seems government. o prevail among a certain class that it is better to keep up by report or otherwise an appearance of activity in business even if election officers for ensuing year. Read Waterhouse—13. there is very little reality in the background, and laid on table under the rules. This might be regarded as good policy if these reports only came under the notice of agents or dealers, but the case is entirely and the Electric Light Company petitioned altered when men out of employment are for location of poles on Sumner street. misled in this matter, and sometimes in-Referred. duced to spend money coming to search for what cannot be found in Quincy at present, namely, employment in the granite busi- Whitwell street and Furnace brook. Re

For some months past the Quincy correspondant of a western trade Journal has indicate that this city had felt but very Milton line. Refused. little, if at all, the general industrial depression, while as a matter of fact there are fully five hundred men less in Quincy and vicinity now than there was a few years ago, and at various times of late here has been a standing army of unemployed.

Little harm can be done in this instance lowever, because the paper in question circulates almost exclusively among agents and dealers; but when fictions relating to the condition of business are published in local papers, they are calculated to do harm, inasmuch as they are read by those unacquainted with the facts who are thus misinformed, and misled.

My attention has frequently been called to reports which set forth that business in South Quincy was good, and men in demand. Quite recently I took some pains to investigate the matter and as a result I found that while a few firms were fairly busy, others were pushed to keep their men at work. In no place did I find any demand for workmen, or signs of any great revival in business, and I was obliged to conclude that the boom in the granite industry only existed in the minds of those who caused the newspaper articles to be

Moreover last week I spoke with different men who had canvassed almost every yard in the city for work, and were unsuccess ful in their search. These are facts which can easily be proved, not yarns gathered in some office while bemuddled with the fumes of bad cigars, which I am told is frequently the conditions under which information about the granite trade is obtained.

Allow me one more word in conclusion In Thurday's LEDGER there appeared a notice of the opening of a class for clay modeling and drawing, in connection with the Y. M. C. A. of Quincy. I have no wish to criticise or question the motives of those who are forming the class, but I do strongly question the common sense and strongly question the common sense and intelligence of the writer of the notice.

As an inducement to join the class he makes the following extraordinary statement: "As it is probable that wages are to be generally decreased rather than increased, every ambitious young man increased, every ambitious young man will endeavor to fit himself for a higher grade of work." Was ever a more wretched argument used to induce a young man to join a class? It is my firm conviction that a little more in the same strain would effectually damn the prospects of any venture of this nature, in the minds of all intelligent men. Even the most conservative are constrained to admit that the trend of the times is towards higher wages and better conditions for working men, Westendarp and he must be shortsighted, and behind the times, who will assert otherwise.

> opens a new field to the picturesque writer, and soon we will be provided with literature in which the heroine gives lemon-colored shrieks and purple-edged-with-pink sobs, while the hero heaves green sighs and the last chapter ends in dark blue despair for the villian and old rose happiness for everyone else. - Boston Home Journal,

HOW THE PUBLIC IS IMPOSED UPON.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

For The Sake of Profit They Will Sacrifice Principle, Health, Etc.

Unscrupulous dealers are trying to sell ordinary Glauber Salt or a mixture of Seidlitz Powder as "Artificial Carlsbad Salt," "Sprudel Salt," "German Salt" or "Im-proved Carlsbad Salt," and under other similar names. The Natural Remedies of Carlsbad can not be imitated.

"What Nature makes, man can not improve upon." Artificial made wines will never replace the natural juice of the grapes. Neither can the natural waters of Carlsbad nor the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt be replaced by the cheap substitutes offered to guileless public for the sake of the larger profit made thereon, by these unscrupulous

No one would buy artificial wines knowingly. Why buy the imitation of the Carlsbad products, when your health is at stake? The Carlsbad Sprudel Waters are a specific for all diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and have been used with great benefit by hundreds of thousands of people. The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, which is evaporated from the Sprudel Water at Carlsbad, is an excellent Aperient, Laxative and Diaretic; is an alterative and eliminative remedy, which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation, and removes obstruction by aiding nature, and not by sudden and excessive irritation, as most cathartics do. Use the imported Carlsbad waters, or if it is not convenient to use the waters, or when a more decided laxative effect is desired, use the Carlsbad Sprudel direct from Carlsbad, and must have the signature of Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents for the U.S., 152 & 154 Franklin St., New York, on every bottle.

Cleaves' Majority Over Johnson Is Eath

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 11.-Yesterday was a good day for Republicans and a correspondingly bad one for Democrats, but the result was not altogether unforeseen. While the Democrats admit defeat they do not show a symptom of discouragement The Prohibitionists and Populists are not largely in evidence so far as returns indi-

Returns from over 100 cities and towns ndicate that the state has re-elected Governor Cleaves (Rep.) over Charles E. Johnson (Dem.) by a majority exceeding 37,000, the largest in the history of the every county in the state, and it is esti-mated that the legislature will have a working Republican majority of 125, which insures the re-election of Senator W. P.

Thomas B. Reed has been re-elected to congress by a plurality estimated at 10,000. Nelson Dingley, Seth L. Milliken and C. A. Boutelle are also re-elected to congress by majorities ranging from 6000 to 9000. The total vote will probably exceed Mississippi State Officials Charged With Violating Counterfeit Laws.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 11.-Warrants were resterday sworn out for the arrest of the ollowing state officers of Mississippi: J. M. Stone, governor; W. W. Stone, au ditor, and J. J. Evans, state treasurer. William J. Burns, a special agent of the secret service bureau at Washington, who has been here for the past two months working on the special warrant case, made affidavits before Commissioner Morley, charging them with violating section 5530 of the revised statutes of the United States in issuing the $200,000 special warrants charged to be in the similitude of the United States currency. The warrant was placed in the hands of United States Mar-Auditor Stone appeared before the com-missioner and entered into personal recognizance of $1000 for his appearance at the

They will be served on the governor today, and on the treasurer when he returns. The affidavit contains three charges, covering each of the denominations of warrants, with a photograph print of both front and back

The state officials have been expecting these proceedings for several days, and were not therefore the least surprised when served. They appear not at all disturbed, and are sanguine of the successfu termination of the issue.

A Severe Arraignment. LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Times this morn ing publishes an article on Mr. Gladstone's recent subscription of £100 to the Irish parliamentary fund. The article represents that the fund has been and is evon now supported by the physical force party. It says that Mr. Gladstone and Baron Tweedmouth can hardly pretend ign rance of the history of the fund. Its old American subscribers, it adds, are now a body thirsting for revenge. If privy councillors do not shrink from appearing in the same list with dynamiters, the latter will hardly consent to appear with privy cour

After a thorough examination by ourselves, and receiving the endorsement of some of the best dry goods houses in the New England states, and particularly from several house who formerly carried Buttericks-who now carry the Standard-we are convinced that the 'Standard Patterns" are far superior to all others-in being more up to date, better modeled, simpler directions for making-insuring perfect satisfaction, a great saving in time, much less fitting to do, and allowing just enough seams, thereby considerable saving in material-there being no waste as in others every pattern is modeled to the human form, and are so nicely proportioned that it is almost impossible to produce anything (if directions are followed, and which are extremely simple) but a beautiful fitting garment.

Try one of the STANDARD PATTERNS on our recommendation and we think you will agree with us that they are better than any other pattern sold in this city.

The Standard Fashion Sheets and the beautiful Handy Catalogue are free to all. The Ladies' Standard Magazine is issued monthly, costs but 50 cents per year and should be in every household; you will surely subscribe for it when you have examined a sample copy at our store; it is the best and cheapest Ladies' magazine in existence, single

It was argued that the situation had much improved for the manufacturers. At the start of the vacation there were 835,-000 pieces on hand. Granting a weekly production of 200,000 pieces of prints, which is below the average, the stock and production would have reached 1,435,000 if the mills had run during the past three weeks. Only 350,000 pieces had been sold in the three weeks, and there would have been 1,000,000 pieces on hand. The vacation had effected the desired curtailment. Prices for cloths had advanced % cent since vacation began, equal to about 171/2 It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that the manufacturers could afford to pay the old rate of wages, and it was voted to ask for a conference with the manufacturers, and a committee of five, consisting of the secretaries of the five unions, was appointed to meet a committee of manufacturers, if the latter would agree to confer. There is no hope of a conference in time to start next week, as many manufac-turers are out of town. The shutdown is liable to continue into October.

SARSAPAKILLA SARSAPAKILLA THE

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. P. MERRILL, the wonderful specialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all eutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a remarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous alcohol, and all injurious ingredients.

PROF. W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., author of "New Thera peutical Agents", the standard text book of the newer materia medica, Consulting Chemist and Therapeutist, one of the most widely known men among the medical profession gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement:

"Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me therapeutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that of mercury, less the faults of that drug; for, has not Pereira said, "A perfect mercury would be a perfect alterative."

W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc.,

Although Allen's Sarsaparilla is such a valuable remedy it is not at all expensive, being the largest bottle on the market for $1.00. Trial bottles 50 cts. SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

The Corbett-Jackson Negotiations Have Fallen Flat.

PETER WOULDN'T SIGN CONTRACT

Because He Thinks Jim Wants Free Advertising.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.- The efforts of the Sioux City Athletic club to bring off a fight between Corbett and Jackson have resulted in a complete failure, Jackson refusing absolutely to put his name to the articles of agreement, as signed by Corbett.

Edward Lloyd, representing the Sioux City club, met Jackson and his manager "Parson" Davies, at the Briggs House at noon yesterday in the presence of a good sized crowd of sporting men and news-paper representatives. Little time was spent in preliminaries, and Mr. Lloyd produced the papers which Corbett signed in New York. Jackson glanced over them, and at once said they would not do. "I will fight for your purse and a side bet of comfort through the counsel of to come off within three months."

"That's the idea, exactly," said Davies "Mr. Corbett is on the stage, and we don't you are sick, write intend to advertise him until next May or June. This agreement calls for the fight to take place

Have Effected a Treaty Which May Help Untangle Matters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.-A telegram was received at the Chinese legation to the effect that an important treaty had been negotiated between Corea and Japan, which authoritatively defines the relations of the two countries toward each other and toward China.

The object of the treaty is stated in the preamble to be the mutual desire on the part of the Emperor of Japan and the King of Corea to definitely fix and determine the attitude of each country toward the other, with a view of clearly elucidating the existing relations between Japan and China, which have been created by the rejuest made by the Corean government of the Japanese government to compel the Chinese to evacuate Corea. To secure concerted action of the more effective accomplishment of this object this treaty of alliance between the two countries was signed at Seoul on Aug. 26 by Otori, the envoy of Japan, and the Corean minister of foreign affairs. The treaty consists of three articles. Article 1 defines the object of the alliance to be the strengthening and perpetua-tion of the independence of Corea as an autonomous state and the promotion of mutual interests of Corea and Japan by compelling the Chinese forces to withdraw from Corea, and by obliging China to abandon her claim of the right to dominate the affairs of Corea. Article 2 binds the Japanese govern ment to carry on warlike operations against China, both offensive and defensive. The Corean government is bound by the article to afford the Japanese forces every possible facility in their movements, and to furnish them with supplies of provisions at a fair renumeration, so far as uch supplies may be needed.

By article 3 it is provided that the treaty shall terminate as soon as a treaty of peace shall have been concluded by Japan with

PENSION QUESTION DEALT WITH

Held at Louisville.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13-It was a few minutes after 10 o'clock yesterday when Commander-in-Chief Adams tapped the table with his gavel and declared the encampment opened. Governor Pattison was introduced and gave a welcome to the delegates in behalf of the state. Mayor Mc-Kenna spoke for Pittsburg and Mayor Kennedy for the sister city of Alleghany. Appropriate responses were made by Com-mander-in-Chief Adams and other dele-exercises over, the encampm vent into executive session and the delegates settled down to listen to the reports of the national officers. The closest attention was paid to the annual lengthy address of the commander-in-chief, which touched upon a large number of topics. His remarks on the pension issue were re-peatedly interrupted with applause. He

The commander-in-chief eulogized the Women's Relief corps and its work, and in this connection said: "We are indebted to the corps for the salute to the flag now given in many of the public schools throughout the loyal states. It is an inspiring sight to see the children standing with their right hands pointing to the flag, then carried to their head and heart and hear them say, 'We give our heads and hearts to our country-one country, one language, one flag.' In concluding his report, after making various recommendations concerning the establishment of permanent headquarters, the observance of Memorial day and other matters, the commander-in-chief touched upon the question of "law and order." "We cannot too highly compliment the volunteer militia for their prompt response to the call, and the faitful manner in which their duty was discharged. It tells us that patriotism is not dead in the hearts of the American people, and that the young men of today are as loyal as

The closing report was that of the committee on legislation, and it dealt at length with its efforts, under instructions from the last encampment, to urge the Fifty-third congress to give preference in very public employment to survivors of the war for the Union. It frankly admitted that all its efforts had failed.

After the reading of reports, appointment of committees, etc., the fixing of the place for holding the next encampment was taken up, and Louisville was selected by an unanimous rising vote. The nominations for commander-in-chief were then taken up, and the names of Messrs. 1. N. Walker of Indiana and Lawyer of Illinois were presented. Nominations were closed and the convention adjourned until today.

The Political Situation Next Encampment Will Be is very much mixed. The friends of each of the candidates for commander in chief claim to have enough votes pledged to elect their men and have regularly organ-ized campaign committees working hard

> No point is left uncovered. As there are but two candidates, the canvass is all the more vigorous. The Walker men last night revised the returns, and claimed that they had a majority of 128.

For the ladies of the Grand Army presidency Mrs. Linehart of this city seems to be in the lead. Mrs. Gerwig of Alleghany is in the fight to stay, and expresses herself satisfied with the way things are going. Mrs. Gunler of Chicago and Mrs. Riggs of Ohio are still fighting, though the latter can scarcely be considered a possible winner. The fight is really be-tween Mrs. Gunler and Mrs. Linehart. The contests in the Women's Relief corps has narrowed down to Miss Emma R. Wallace of Chicago and Mrs. Jennie Meyerhoff of Evansville, Ind., with chances about even. The Daughters of Veterans have nominated Mrs. Walker of Boston, past department president of the Massa chusetts department, to succeed Miss Nellie King, and she will probably be elected.

The last parade of the encampment occurred yesterday afternoon, when the Union ex-prisoners of war turned out 1000 strong. Every state in the Union had representatives in the ranks. The exprisoners were escorted by the Fourteenth and Eighteenth regiments, National Guard of Pennsylvania, with 1000 men and officers. The boys' brigade, numbering 400, was also in line.

Quincy, Sept. 10. Durgin & Merrill's Block.

STOPPED TOO SOON.

Buyers In London Markets. LONDON, Sept. 13.-There is great an noyance felt by the fruit dealers of Covent Garden because of the fact that C fornia fruit is not arriving fast enough. The first of the shipments received here made the reputation of California fruits, and hundreds of small dealers, finding that the public cordially welcomed the fruit, began arranging for a regular supply. Suddenly the shipments stopped, and now no fruit from California is expected to arrive before Sept. 26.

There are no pears nor plums in the market. If a supply of the California green product was now in the market it would command high prices. The taste, color and quality of the previous shipments were highly approved. Much of the fruit was repacked in small baskets and sold as English grown, a trick that will be always possible unless a quantity of the Cali-fornia product is regularly sent.

That there would be some loss at the outset of such an important fruit movement could have been expected. The early shipments were only advertisements. If the shippers fail now to forward fruit regularly, they will undo all that has been done. A leading firm yesterday received samples of California sun-dried fruits, for which probably there will undoubtedly be a demand at the best prices. .

THE DIAMOND TOURNEY.

Crack Bicyclers Make Fast Time of Hampden Park Track. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 13.—The first day of the Springfield Bicycle club's great diamond tournament was a successful one. It was 2:10 when the one-mile novice was started, and from that time until 5 o'clock the races were run off with great precision.

Ray McDonald of class A distinguished himself by winning the half-mile and twomile handicap events, while Sanger was the hero of the day, for not only did he win the mile international unpaced invitation race, but he also lowered the world's record of 2:07 2-5, held by Tyler, to

In the one-mile handicap, class A, W. F. Sims of Washington, the scratchman, lowered the world's record to 2:10 2-5. One of the most exciting finishes of th day was in the one-mile scratch, class B. when Sanger, after a tremendous spurt, beat out Johnson and Cabanne. Another equally exciting finish was in the last race on the program, a one-mile handicap. In this race, A. I. Brown of Cleveland, a 60-yards man, surprised every one by making a long spurt and winning the race. Bliss and Sanger had a hard fight for second, in which the former was victorious. W. S. Maltby's burlesque riding was much enjoyed.

CHARLESTON, Mo., Sept. 13.-Two men were killed and a score of people injured, half of them fatally, in a cyclone here last night, during which a train was blown from the track. A westbound express on the Cairo branch of the Iron Mountain road was struck by the hurricane, and the ever known on the system.

The train, in charge of Conductor Lower and Engineer Hill, had just reached the limits of the city, when passengers to everything in its path, uprooting large trees and hurling missiles before it. The train and the cyclone met, and the wind lifted the entire line of coaches and landed track, almost Turning Them Completely Over. Those who were not hurt seriously hastened to free themselves and rescue those who were not so fortunate. Efforts were being made in that direction when a new danger presented itself. Flames were seen in the rear of the train, and only for the heroic efforts of Brakeman Carter a worse catastrophe might have occurred. He battered down the door of the car, rushed in, and succeeded in extinguishing

KENTUCKY POLITICS

Have Reached a Stage Where Bloodshed Is Predicted.

A BRECKINRIDGE CIRCULAR ISSUED

Assuring the Colonel's Ultimate Success.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 13.—The most sensational manifesto ever issued in the political history of Kentucky was given out by the Breckinridge people last night. The Owens men claim that they will not abide by what they term the Breckinridge "Gag law," and predict bloodshed. The card is as follows:

BRECKINRIDGE HEADQUARTERS. LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 12.

To the Democratic Voters of the Ashland Dis

The district committee, by its action on last Saturday, has effectually blocked the brace game which the expert candidate from Scott and his organization have been preparing to play in the approaching primary.

For the first time in Kentucky a contestant for a Democratic convention, driven to desper-ation by the demonstrated strength of his opconent, has shamelessly allowed it to be pro-claimed through his mouthpiece everywhere hat participation in the primary involved n that participation in the primary involved no obligation in honor to support the nominee if he should be that opponent.

It was never contemplated by the party authorities before that such double dealing was possible, or that it should be necessary to guard the party organization against such treachery, but when this proclamation of dishonor was made the district committee at once met it, as honest men, jealous of the fair fame of the great organization committed to their keeping, and by their resolution of the 8th inst. have magle it impossible for any man, except a perjurer, to have a voice in the selection of a candidate while premeditating in any event treachery to the Democratic party.

Owens Hauled Over the Coals.

Owens Hauled Over the Coals. With that reckless denunciation of all whereose the path of his ambition, and that effron ery which has marked his whole canvass, Mr Owen says his following have impugned the honor of the committee, have denounced it nembers as cowards and too's, while in the same breath and with an inconsistency bo only of mad desperation they claim the selves satisfied with the situation, a lmit that the committee's action is simply the enforcement of a rule recognized as an integral party who endeavor to assure themselves and the public that its application will work to their

If it be right that no man should take part in the selection of a candidate unless he intends to submit his own individual preferences to the will of the party; if it be only fair that no man should be allowed to play a game of "heads I win, tails you loo;" if it be simply just that he who sulmits his claim to his party's action should in good faith abide the result of that submission; if it be true that every Democrat can trust-his political conscience to the aggregate judgment of his party-fairly and honestly ascertained—why do the reckless defamers of the chosen leaders and guardians of the party denounce that ac-tion, whose only effect is to make sure these principles and protect them in their integrity against the treachery so openly threatened.

We announce to the voters of this district
our assured conviction that this race is now won; that the fair ballot which is assured by the committee's action will result in the over whelming success of Colonel Breckinridge, an we call upon all who are interested in the maintenance of the true Democratic faith to see to it by proper challenges that only true Democrats participate in this party contest.

LONDON, Sept. 13 .- A private mass for the dead was celebrated at Stowe House vesterday morning. The procession was eceived at the railway station by the municipal authorities of Buckingham.
The special train conveying the body started for Weybridge at 9:30. The cars were all draped with black. The coffin was received at the door of the Roman Catholic church which formerly contained the remains of King Louis Philippe of France, his consort and his daughter-in-law, by Mgr. Hulst, who was attended by a number of priests and acolytes. Mgr. Hulst and his attendants preceded the procession into the church, the Duke of Orleans occupying the position of chief mourner.

When the coffin had been placed in front of the altar, Cardinal Vaughan and the bishop of Southwark, the Rt. Rev. John Butt, entered the sanctuary, a great silver cruc'fix being borne before them, and the services began. Two bannerets, presented by the Young Royalists of France, were placed on either side of the coffin, which was covered with the tri-Louscheim also failed last winter.

The music was taken from Spohr's "Lost Judgment," and all the solemnities of the church were observed. The services were concluded with the pronouncement of absolution by Cardinal Vaughan, after which the body was placed in the vault near the altar.

THE ELECTION OFFICERS.

The Mayor's Side of the Controvers over the Appointments.

Some Republicans were undoubtedly over zealous for their party in objecting to the election officers named by Mayor Hodges, and are not knowing to the circumstances. The Mayor asked both the Republican and Democratic committees to submit names, which might be handy to fill any vacancies which might arise. The committees were late and did not furnish the list until last Monday. Realizing that the appointments must be made that day the Mayor had prepared a list, in the main appointing gentlemen who have was established in 1837, and is the acknowl- served in the past, realizing that it was not advisable to make changes in efficient

So far as the Mayor has been informed there is dissatisfaction with but three Republicans out of the forty-two appointed. The committee's list contained the name of W. W. Osborne as clerk. This was a vacancy caused by the removal of Stephen A. Foster from the city, and the Mayor had inserted the name of Howard Rogers previous to receiving the committee's list. The committee had named Thomas Butler length of time desired, 2 cents a day. 50 as inspector, but the Mayor saw no reason for dropping F. A. STATE NOMINEES

Put Forward by the Prohibition Party In the Old Bay State. WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 14.—The pro hibition state convention did all the raftershaking, floor-stamping and hand-clapping that could be expected of any convention when its president. Professor Evans, told of the wrongs of labor, the persecution of Coxeyites and strikers, and urged no compromise on liquor. "Better wait 100 years. Back to conscience! Back to justice! Back to God!"

The following nominations were made without opposition: For governor, Alfred W. Richardson of Springfield; lieutenant governor, Samuel D. Shapleigh of Boston; secretary of state, Wilbur G. Farnham of Somerville; treasurer and receiver general, John M. Fisher of Attleboro; auditor, Wilbur F. Purrington of Williamsburg; attorney general Frank N. Furbush of Natick.

The resolutions were substantially a follows: For suppression of drink traffic and state sale of liquor for mechanical and medical purposes; against high license and Norwegian system; for extirpation of trusts; for public boards of arbitration courts of conciliation and eight hours; for free and full ballot and woman suffrage; for perpetuation of non-sec-tarian public schools and rigid state supervision of private schools; for revision and rigid enforcement of immigration laws; for elastic currency and restora tion of silver; for non-partisan tariff commission; for state control of railroad, telegraph and telephone monopolies and government ownership, if need be; for extension of civil service; for prohibition of alien ownership real estate; for election by direct vote of president, vice president and United States senators; for one day's rest in seven; for uniform laws governing mar-

for use in the arts and medicinal prepara tions and other like compounds.

Mr. Kelly presented a brief, covering such suggestions as the committee had formulated looking to the relief of the department from its present embarrassmen and to giving reasonable protection to the government from fraud. After the reading of the brief, Secretary

Carlisle pointed out the difficulty of en-forcing any regulations which did not define the classes of manufacturers to whon they applied, and the necessity for some Preliminary Notice or License of any person claiming the benefit of the law, in order to procure proper supervision and the authority of the department to npose anything in the nature of a tax for supervision upon a manufacturer. Ex-Governor Boutwell, who was present or counsel for interested persons, anwered some of these suggestions, claim ing that the power to prescribe regulations included the power to charge for the expenses of executing the law. He cited as an analogous case the fund arising from the sale of cotton during the war, where the expenses of sale and seizure were paid out of the fund collected. Secretary Carlisle pointed out the difficulty in defining "medicinal preparations and other like compounds," and in the course of the discussion that followed, it leveloped that certain tinctures and preparations contained as high as 94 per cent of alcohol. This, he pointed out would give opportunity for the sale of all sorts of alcoholic beverages

As Medicinal Preparations The representative of a firm of "bitters" entered a protest against any classification which might exclude "bitters" as medicinal preparations, on the ground that their use would largely increase if druggists, in order to sell them, were requested to take out liquor licenses. A conflict as to the extent of the business of manufacturers entitled to the benefit of the law was made apparent at the conference when the question of "bonded warehouses vas discussed.

In Germany grain alcohol for use in the arts is free of tax. The secretary said at the conclusion of the discussion that if it ould be done it was his duty to execut the law. Some further briefs will be pre sented before the secretary makes his final

For twenty-five years I suffered untold miseries from a disordered stomach. After one day's use of Paskola, I have eaten any food my appetite craved with no ill results. A DAY OF SURPRISES

Records Knocked Into Smithereens on Terre Haute Track.

ROBERT J GOES A MILE IN 2:01 1-2.

Carbonate Lowers Records For Two-Year-Olds.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 15.-World's records went glimmering over the Terre Haute track yesterday, which now holds all but two-the fastest three heats paced and the fastest 2-year-old pacing records There is hung up the fastest mile ever gone by a horse in harness. Robert J, 2:01½; the miles of Nancy Hanks and Alix, each in 2:04; the world's record for 4-year-old trotters made by Fantasy in 2:06; the fastest six-heat race ever gone by a 3-year-old-Expressive's great race three weeks ago; the fastest 2-year-old trotting race record—Oakland Baron's mile in ous mile by the 2-year-old pacer done by Carbonate yesterday in 2:09 and his pre-vious record of 2:10 tied by Directly. That is why the town is wild with enthusiasm. Geers was up behind Robert J, and at the second trial the word was given. The clip was so fast that the pacemaker fell behind, the first quarter being done in 301/4s. Up the hill he went at even a faster gait, and was at the half in 1:00%. Down the third quarter the unbeaten gelding came like a whirlwind, 291/28. marking his time for that quarter, and he was at the three-quarter pole in 1:30%. Geers, with rein and voice, gently urged the gelding, who came through strong, never for a moment wavering under the terrific trial, and a moment later Geer landed Robert J under the wire in 2:011/2. There were cheers for both and for the owner, Mr. Hamlin, and Geers was lifted from the su.ky and carried up the stretch on the shoulders of admiring friends.

Scarcely Less Marvelous was the great performance of the 2-year old pacer, Carbonate. Half an hour be fore his only rival, Directly, had gone to lower the mark made by Carbonate on Wednesday. But the fast son of Direct was unequal to the task and could do no better than tie it. Then came Carbonate, the son of Superior. He did the first in 31½, went to the half at a 2:03½ clip, doing the half in 1:03½. In the third quarter he was at a 2:06 gait, doing the third quarter in 1:35. Away he went, and landed the heat in 2:09 flat, lowering the world's record for 2-year-olds.

The marvelous mile of John B Gentry was made in the opening heat of the freefor-all pace carried over from Wednesday, he making the mile in 2,43%.

Some caught the mile as fast as 2:031/2 and it is believed that had the pacemaker gone after the black 5-year-old a little harder, the Patchen-Wilkes horse would have done the mile in as good as 2:03. There was great disappointment over the Alix performance. With so perfect a day and track it was thought the mare could make a new world's record for trot-ters. But she had tied the Nancy Hanks mark on Wednesday and it was too much to make a second effort the same week. Besides she seemed nervous. She did not get away strong, taking 811/2s. to do the first quarter, and doing the mile in 2:041/2.

The steamer was forced to go three or four miles at a time, and then everybody was afire, and it was with the utmost difficulty that it was saved. If it had burned the whole party would have perished.

The water in the river had been raised to such a temperature by the fire that its surface was covered with millions of dead fish. Bear, keer and other large game were fleeing from the flames in great confusion. Many small canoe parties of Indians were ncountered making their way down stream as best they could. There has probably been loss of life among them.

Barnum says that the fire originated in a blaze set by a man who had tried to get control of some hay land from the govern nent. It was given to another man, and out of spite he hired two men to fire it The flames soon spread to the forest and have been burning ever since.

The people in Thief River Falls and vicinity were so indignant over this act that they threatened to lynch the man if

Mr. Penniman to Lecture.

Mr. George W. Penniman, of Brockton, a native of Quincy who has become widely known in the lecture field, has been engaged to deliver three brilliantly illustrated lectures on Mexico. Mr. Penniman has recently returned from that country, where he went with a special photographer to secure material for this seasons lectures. The results were beyond his expectations, and he has prepared three lectures that for wealth of information and illustration, with reference to this almost unknown country, are the most interesting he has ever given. He opened his season in Brockton last week, and the Enterprise after reerring to the crowded house said:

"George W. Penniman has delivered a great number of splendid lectures in this city, but none of them was superior to that delivered for the first time on the evening of Labor day at Massasoit Hall. His eloquent word pictures of Mexico and the additional pictures on the canvas, his stories, anecdotes and reminiscences of his trip through Mexico, all served to make the Elizabeth G. In the DAILY LEDGER of Tuesday appeared the names of the alumni of the Quincy High school, a reprint from the City Book of 1892. The list is far from accurate. There are probably omissions, changes of name by marriage, and also deaths not noted by asterisks. Supt. Lull desires to obtain a correct list, as an alumni association will soon be formed. As the edition of the LEDGER of Tuesday is exhausted the list with some corrections will be republished on Monday. Please revise the names and send corrections, together with present addresses either to Supt. Lull, or Frank F. Prescott, '77, at LEDGER office. The list will be republished in the PATRIOT of Sept. 22, and it is hoped that then it will be as correct as possible.

A FAIR BUSINESS IN WOOLENS.

Disturbing Trade.

Rush In the Dry Goods Trade Has Abated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Business has met no setback this week and continnes larger than early in August and arger than a year ago directly after the Loss in some directions is explained by crop reports, for the most favorable estimates of experts put the loss of corn at about 400,000,000 bushels, whereas the gov-ernment report is by some interpreted as neaning a loss of 1,000,000,000 bushels. The opinion of the trade does not favor the official estimate, and the price has not risen at all during the week, though receipts ave been very small.

Exports have practically ceased, and all ealize that the shrinkage of 400,000,000 bushels is serious, if it proves to be no greater, since it must affect prices of neats for a year or more.

Nor are official reports encouraging as to wheat. Western receipts in two weeks have been 11,184,687 bushels, against 10, 674,761 last year, and Atlantic exports only 2.074,700, against 5,106,562 last year, and the price is 1/2 cent lower.

Pork is unchanged, but lard has risen 30 cents per hundred pounds. Considerable injury is officially reported to cotton, but few expect less than 8,500,-000 bales, which is more than enough, and the price is 1-16 cent lower.

The Industrial World. The great increase in iron production which was noted as following the removal of coke difficulties, is measured by the capacity of furnaces in blast Sept. 1 amely, 151,113 tons, against 115,366 Aug. , and the unsold stocks also decreased 5,584 tons during the month. The out put thus rises to 50 per cent of a full production, but the consumption may be less, as the main increase in output was near the end of August, and prices have since weakened a little.

Lead is depressed by foreign offers at 3.2

Shipments of shoes from Boston in two weeks have been 168,915 cases, rpainst 108,450 last year, and in low-priced goods the market has not been as bare for years while purchases from stocks or for quick delivery reflect depletion of stocks and onsuming demands.

Less activity is seen in drygoods, the rush of postponed business having abated, and there is more disposition to defer purchases because of somewhat general advances in cotton goods and because London wool sales are expected to make the

Strikes in cotton mills have not ceased and stocks of print cloths shrink rapidly, but some question whether recent advances in price can be maintained, with important additions to the present force. There is still a fair business for speedy delivery in woolens and for cheaper grades of spring goods, but scarcely anything is done in the finer grades. About half the usual business in the aggregate has been done, it is estimated, but about threequarters in the cheaper grades

In the Fight to Stay.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Susan B. Anthony says that she is going to try and induce both the Republican and Democratic state conventions to incorporate a woman's suffrage plank in their platforms. If they refuse then she will get another 500,000 signatures and go before the legislature and appeal to it to pass a woman suffrage bill.

Britishers In Corea. LONDON, Sept. 15.—Captain Cavendish has been detailed to join the headquarters of the Chinese army in Corea, as British military attache with the headquarters staff. A British army surgeon has been detailed to join the headquarters staff of the Chinese army, and another one has been sent to join the staff of the Japanese

Hot Battle Anticipated. BATAVIA, Sept. 15.-The Dutch forces after hard fighting, which lasted all day, captured Pasingaban, where the Mataram rebels were concentrated. The rebels retreated to Mataram, which is a fortified place. The Dutch, however, expect to capture the place within a week, though not without a hot engagement.

Having a Good Time. PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 15.-Members of Sagamore encampment, I. O. O. F., Plymouth, Mass., arrived here yesterday and were royally entertained by members of the Portland encampment. A reception and banquet were tendered the visiting brethren last night. A parade and clambake are in progress today.

Erben's Summing Up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 .- Admiral Erben, retired, who was a passenger on the steamer New York, says the Vigilant's many defeats were a great surprise and disappointment to most Englishmen, many of whom had laid bets on her. The that town. admiral intimated that the defeats were caused by "too many cooks."

A Dollar a Head.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Secretary Carlisle has called the attention of collectors of customs to the fact that on and after Oct. 1 the head money collected from immigrants shall be $1 instead of 10 cents.

A Shortage in Wines. CAPE TOWN, Sept. 15 .- The annual output of Cape wines has fallen from 6,000,000 to 4,000,000 gallons during the last four years. The decrease is partly due to phylloxera.

NO WORK NEXT WEEK.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 15 .- At a special general meeting of the Spinners union last night action on the report of the conference recently held between the executive committee of the union and the manufacturers was deferred, owing to the general unsettled condition of affairs and in view of the convention to be held in Boston beginning next Wednesday, when the entire situation will be discussed. The condition of affairs in Fall River also had a tendency toward reaching this decision. It is generally understood here that manufacturers have suggested compromising the situation on a 5 per cent reluction basis, to which the spinners as body are opposed.

It has leaked out that a feeling far from harmonious exists between the various labor unions, and one accuses the other of double dealing and resorting to actions for the furthering of each other's interests solely.

This state of affairs originated Thurs day, when it was found at the convention of textile unions that the spinners were not represented. In substantiation of the union's conduct, Secretary Ross said last night that the only reason the spinners were not represented at the convention was because it was called for Thursday when the officials of the union were in Fall River. The public deplore this ill feeling between the unions, and hope it will be amicably adjusted.

The action of the spinners last night means that none of the idle mills will resume work next week.

Garment Workers' Grievances. Boston, Sept. 15. - At an adjourned meeting of the council of the garment workers of the city and vicinity last night further action was taken in the trouble be tween the workers and contractors. A list of demands was drafted which will be presented to the mass meeting to be held Monday night. It is understood that they will demand regular weekly wages of not less than $12 and a day of nine hours in place of the piece system, under which the men now work.

A Faithful Wife. PATERSON, N. J. Sept. 15 .- Christina Fostenzo made a voluntary statement be fore Recorder Stewart yesterday confess ing that she murdered Salvatore Delia Mrs. Fostenzo gave herself up to the authorities. Her husband had been arrested for the murder, and she said that he should not be punished for her crime. The woman alleges that Delia attempted to as sault her, and that in the struggle to de fend her honor she fatally stabbed him.

Giants Shut Out.

St. Louis, Sept. 14.—In the eighth inning, Hogan made a wonderful catch and shot the ball to first, putting out Davis, who was returning from second. This double play shut out a run for the Giants and lost the game.

Car Men Object.

Boston, Sept. 15. - General Manager Foster of the Lynn and Boston railroad yesterday issued an order requiring all conductors and motormen to hereafter wear white shirts and collars while on duty. A number of the men consider that this order of the company is unprecedented, and it is probable that some action will be taken in regard to its observance Usurped Kaiser's Rights. BERLIN, Sept. 15 .- Herr Weldner, editor of The Socialist, has been arrested on a charge of blasphemy. The article on which the charge is based was printed in No. 37 of The Socialist, all copies of which issue were confiscated. Weidner is charged with les-majeste in having printed a poem entitled "Sic Volo; Sic Jubeo" "Thus I Will; Thus I Command").

Judge Attacked Clergyman. New York, Sept. 15.—Three thousand members of Tammany Hall heard Police Justice Grady make a bitter attack upon Rev. Dr. Parkhurst last night in reply to the charges by that clergyman that there is a judicial ring in New York city.

TRIP REPLETE WITH HARDSHIPS.

Remained Behind.

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 17.-The Peary main and auxiliary expeditions arrived Saturday on the steamer Falcon from Falcon harbor, which they left on Aug. 26. All on board were well.

Mrs. Peary, her baby girl, Ahnigito Peary, who was 1 year old last Wednesday, together with an Esquimau nurse the first of her tribe to come south of the Arctic circle, returned with the party.

Peary, with Lee and Henson as volun teers, remain at the headquarters at Fal-con harbor to complete their explorations The expedition last fall and winter was mainly devoted to preparations for the in-land ice journey to Independence bay, which began on March 6, with a party of eight men, 12 sledges and 92 dogs. Five natives also assisted during the first two and Clarke, with 24 dogs, arrived at Anniversary Lodge—having advanced in 31 days 134 miles—and there cached their remaining supplies and equipment, leaving Astrup, Lee and Davidson in charge, Dr. Vincent having been previously sent back incapacitated by sickness or injury from further service.

storms culminated on March 19, while 23 members of the expedition were at a camp 10 miles from Anniversary Lodge, at an elevation of 5600 feet. In the equinoctial storm, which continued for four days, the emperature averaged from 45° to 55° beow zero, and the wind for 34 consecutive ours blew 48 miles an hour.

Bitter Weather Experienced. The severity of the weather far exceeded that sustained by any other Arctic exploring party. All of the explorers escaped serious injury, except Davidson, whose left foot was frozen, but has since fully recovered. Many of the dogs were frozen solid, and others had to be chopped out of Messrs. Peary, Baldwin, Entrikin and Clarke pushed on, and in 14 days were 85 miles farther. The maximum day's march was only 18 miles. and as the plague had carried off many dogs, Entrikin being unfit for travel, and the party so reduced by hardships, the plans for the summer could not possibly be carried out, especially as only one-fourth of the distance to Independence bay had been accomplished. It was therefore decided to

The dogs continued to die on the home ward march, compelling the abandonment of the sledge during May. On the trip the party surveyed and mapped a hitherto unknown coast line to Melville bay for 150 miles.

Messrs. Peary and Lee were the first white men to see, locate and measure the historic iron meteorite near Cape York. Mr. Entrikin and Dr. Vincent made a sledge journey to Littleton island, and would have reached Kane's headquarters

Lieutenant and Mrs. Peary made sledge journey to Olyke bay.

Peary Takes His Departure. Lieutenant Peary accompanied the Falcon as far as Cape York, hoping to send home a meteorite, but the ice made this impossible. in Boston today with a warrant for Sheldon and Harris, the two men wanted for the robbery at Derby's clothing store, so that of the second class in a sail off with the they are convicted they will be brought to Quincy on a habeas corpus.

There was a narrow escape from a drowning accident at Quincy Point Saturday afternoon. Thomas Baker, aged 13 years, was fishing off the bridge when he slipped and fell overboard and was floating out to sea when George Mead and J. W. Hayden, Jr., put out in a boat and rescued him. The little fellow was not a bit frightened and when rescued said his clothes were so heavy he could not swim.

Last Friday evening a certain Quincy express team pulled up on Newport avenue. Wollaston, behind a party of young ladies and one of the men in it, whose identity is known, jumped out and began to chase them. This same party, it is alleged, has been making a practice of jumping from his wagon of late and chasing girls. It will not be well for him to repeat this many more times as steps have been taken to put a stop to it.

TODAY'S COURT.

The usual number of Monday morning drunks were before the District court this norning and were disposed of as follows: Walter Bullock of Quincy was fined $3. Peter Nelson of Quincy was fined $5. Thomas Hennigan of Quincy was fined

Archibald McLane of Quincy was fined $5 for assault on Walter Bullock. Lorenzo Woods and Philip Foucha of Holbrook pleaded guilty to an assault on Edward E. Sullivan, and was placed on probation for a month and to pay a fine of $4 each at the end of that time.

SECURITY IN FUTURE

Is the Chief Object In Japan's Treaty With England.

BIG FLEET OF TRANSPORTS

Has Left Japan For Chinese or Corean Ports.

YOKOHAMA. Sept. 17. - The revised treaty between Japan and England was tatified at Tokio Aug. 25. For the first time the United States has failed to take advantage of Japan's desire to treat primarily with the great republic in an nternational transaction.

The opinion expressed in Japan is that negotiations at Washington might have been concluded long ago if the state department had been disposed to act upon Japanese proposals. As it is, Great Britain stands ahead in the enactment of the treaty which the Asiatic empire has been urgently triving for more than 20 years to secure. On the previous occasion the busines was barely brought to a conclusion by count Okuma, but at the last moment his lans were defeated by the violent public emonstrations in Japan against his nethod of adjusting the vexed question of the judiciary. It was, therefore, thought expedient to keep these latter negotiations trictly secret and to allow none of the roposed conditions to become a subject of opular discussion until the affair was abolutely terminated.

'Twas a Surprise. The announcement first made by the nperor was a surprise to every one, hough vague rumors of what was conemplated had circulated during the pas ew weeks. The treaty confers no immediate advantages on Japan. At least five ears must elapse before it goes into opertion, and it is for Japan to say whether or not the interval shall be longer, but intil 1899 everything must remain as it is

The purpose of this delay is that Japan shall perfect her judicial system to an exent warranting the abolishment of English law courts. The existence of oreign tribunals is one of Japan's chief rievances, and this, so far as Great Britain is concerned, will cease at the apointed time. The other grlevance-inter erence with the tariff-will not be done away with until 1910, when complete auonomy will be resumed by the simple ocess of terminating the treaty. But from 1899, or whatever date the Japnese sign for the agreement to come in orce, 11 years later, when it may be can celled by either party, a partially new tariff will be adopted somewhat more favorabl o Japan than which now regulates her ommerce, but not strikingly so.

Two Privileges Withheld. The position of Englishmen in Japan will be, in most respects, identical with those of native subjects. Only two priv leges will be withheld—the right of coast wise trade and the right to own land Buildings may be owned, but land mus e held on leases. It is evident that in negotiating this reaty Japan has not consulted presen gains so much as security for the future Difficulties of the existing system have grown to be intolerable to her and she yould almost have consented to sacrifices for a time to be assured of positive release at a designated period. Five years hence British extraterritorial jurisdiction will be abolished, and Japan expects the other powers will likewise close their consular hence she hope similarly to be rid of all commercial re strictions. The burdens of the interva are not felt to be too heavy a price to pay r ultimate freedom

Bad For Li. The report is circulated, that Li Hung Chang, though now 74 years old, will be rdered to take personal command of the armies on the continent, notwithstanding the dissatisfaction of the courts of the re sults of his management up to this time. The humiliation inflicted upon him has gone no further than the withdrawal of suspension of his decorations and the ap-pointment of two high officials to watch nis proceedings. But if the navy or army ould meet with serious disasters, his po ition will be extremely dangerous.

A Fight Near at Hand. SHANGHAI, Sept. 17 .- News has reached Tien-Tsin that a fleet of 21 Japanese transports, conveying 10,000 troops, sailed a few days ago from a Japanese port. It is supposed that it is the intention of the Japanese commander to land his forces at some point on the Chinese coast. The Chinese fleet, under the command of Admiral Ting, has sailed south for the pur ose of intercepting the Japanese. Orders have been sent to all the Chinese ports to naintain a most careful watch for the apeach of the enemy.

A later dispatch says that advices from agasaki show that a number of Japanse troopships, convoyed by a man-of-war, have left Hiroshimo, island of Hondo bound for Chemulpo, Corea. These probably are the vessels above mentioned as being bound with a large Japanese force for China. Doubtless exaggerated, it was eceived in Tien-Tsin, and it was taken for granted that the destination of the army was China, and its object the capure of some port which could be used as base of operations for future movements It is now admitted that the Chinese were efeated with a loss of 500 men in an engagement that took place Aug. 13.

A dispatch to The Standard from Berlin says that Prince Yzing, head of the foreign office at Pekin, has induced the emperor to issue a decree, ordering that henceforth no Chinese viceroy shall meddle in foreign The viceroys have been informed that the foreign policy will be conducted in the future exclusively by the foreign office. This, it is added, is unpleasant for Li Hung Chang. The viceroys of Nankin, Canton, Manchoria and Kashgar have all interfered more or less in such matters. Dumped Into a Pit.

FOR PROTECTION.

Germany Connot Afford to Part With Alsace-Lorraine or Posen. VARSEIN, Sept. 17.—Prince Bismarck

yesterday received a large deputation of admirers from Stolp, in Pomerania and Posen. After asking the party to cover their heads so as to enable him to do the same, as his old enemy lumbago was troubling him, he spoke for nearly an hour. He thanked the deputation for the kind wishes expressed in the speeches of the leaders and then dilated upon the Polish question.

He declared that the Poles could not be entitled to a casting vote in affairs of the Largest Dry Goods Store between Boston and Brockton empire. Neither Alsace-Lorraine nor Posen could ever be given up. Alsace and Lorraine were necessary for the protection of southern Germany, and Posen was necessary for the protection of the eastern frontier.

Once in the course of his speech the ex chancellor was obliged to pause for a few minutes owing to severe pains in the back Upon the conclusion of the prince's speech the deputation heartily cheered him and Princess Bismarck, after which patriotic hymns were sung. A large number of s, products of Posen, were presented to the prince. HENDRICKS FOR SECOND PLACE

Unless Other Active Aspirants Freeze Him Out.

SARATOGA, Sept. 18 .- Unless the hard work that has been done by candidates has a very great effect on the situation, the Republican state ticket will read like this: For governor, Levi P. Morton; for lieutenant governor, Francis C. Hendricks; for judge of the court of appeals, Albert S. Haight.

Toward midnight last night, things ook a different turn for those interested n the candidacy of the various men for lieutenant governor, when Francis Hendricks of Syracuse, who had been in frequent conversation with Mr. Platt during the evening, announced that he was certainly a candidate for the office, and with such a show of confidence that the delegates who favored other candidates went into a panic, and began to argue that he was a slate candidate and would receive the same support as that given to Mr. Mor-

This theory gained such ground that be fore midnight there was a strong senti-ment for withdrawal on the part of many of the other candidates, especially the Wadsworth adherents. It is almost certain at this time that Mr. Hendricks will be the nominee for lieutenant governor. Against Morton.

At 11 o'clock the Erie county delegation met at their rooms, and after a stormy session, lasting for some time, declared themselves as a unit against Mr. Morton and as a unit for Judge Haight for the court of appeals. They, however, expressed themselves as not favoring any particular can didate for the lieutenant governorship.

Almost at the same time the Fassett ad nerents had a meeting at their rooms to look over the situation, and after it was over declared that in addition to the votes herefore held by Mr. Fassett there were 57 votes from New York, 38 from Kings and 38 from Erie that would be against Morton.

The Fight For Second Place. The new candidates for lieutenant gov rnor as announced are: Gorton W. Allen of Cayuga and Senator Coggeshall. George W. Green of Binghamton is still in the race. Breckinridge Gives It Up.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 18.—Everything is quiet here, the nomination of Owens being conceded. Yesterday, was, however, a more exciting day than any which characterized the preceding week. The tide was turned in the afternoon when B. J. Welsh, the committeeman from Breekinridge's home, and one of his strongest supporters, announced that he would never vote to go behind the returns when the committee met at Frankfort. As this would leave the committee a tie, or five to five, in any event, and other Breckinridge men on the district committee who had stood by him to the last were not disposed to go behind the returns, the old guard of the silver tongued orator gave up the struggle.

A general alarm had called out the whole fire department, and the ruins had been so flooded that the search for bodies was begun at 2:30. The First Corpse Was Brought Out on a stretcher at 3 o'clock, charred beyond the semblance of a human being. Within balf an hour two others had been found, and a gang of negroes was set to work digging over the ruins. At 5 o'clock a body was found in the elevator burned to pieces, so that the parts had to be gathered in a blanket and bundled into a wagon.

Another body was reached before 7 o'clock. Scenes at the morgue, where men and women collected to look for missing relatives, were most distressing. The hands and feet were burned from all the dead, their features obliterated and clothing consumed. It was possible to identify the body of Willie Ashe by the size of the body, and an old man, Tennyson, by his teeth. It is doubtful whether the identity of the other bodies can be distinguished.

THE PRODIGAL PRINCE.

A Strange Reason for a Rise in the Price of Peaches.

A Russian Prince who boasted of his extravagance, so the story goes, squandered a fortune in Paris in one season. In a restaur-ant one day the waiter charged him three francs apiece for peaches.
"Are peaches scarce?" asked the noble man.

"No, but princes are," was the reply.

BRYANT N. ADAMS.

The Well-known Auctioneer and City Official Passes Away.

Ex-City Treasurer Bryant N. Adams whose death has been hourly expected for some days past, died this morning shortly after 8 o'clock. Bryant N. Adams was the son of Josiah

Adams, well known in Quincy as a pump maker, and was born in Quincy, Feb. 4, 1836. He received his education in the public schools, and later entered the employ of a Boston shoe firm for whom he auctioned many cases of boots. Later he was sent west as a drummer and was one, was sent west as a drummer and was one, if not the first, of the eastern shoe men to enter the west. In 1856 this firm opened a branch house in Kansas, of which Mr. marked with an asterisk:

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Oa Sunday evening, Sept. 17, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaw, Wollaston Park, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering, it being the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. The house was very prettily decorated with all kinds of autumn flowers. Friends and relatives from Brookline, Winter Hill, Roxbury and Boston, with a few near neighbors, gathered to congratulate the couple. A collation was served at 6.20, and after an hour pleasantly spent in conversation the friends departed, wishing the couple many more happy anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw received many pretty and useful presents, among them a handsome silver cake basket.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director o Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swoolen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required.

WEATHER AND CROPS

New England Has Been Favored During the Past Week.

MUCH PROGRESS IN HARVESTING.

Greatly Helped.

Boston, Sept. 18.—The summary of the

The weather for the past week in New England has been generally favorable for harvesting and for the growth and ripening of crops. The temperature has been nearly normal, with light frosts on the morning of the 12th and 13th, which did no great damage in any section.

Except in eastern Massachusetts, the rainfall, including that which came on the 10th, has been from one-half inch to one inch in all southern and eastern sections; over one inch came in central and northwestern districts. A series of showers passed across north-central Massachusetts and southern Vermont and New Hampshire on the 10th, giving heavy downpours of rain and doing considerable damage by washouts, lightning and wind. *

The rains have been hardly sufficient in Maine this week to affect the wells and springs. Most field crops are past help or need of it by rain, but the showers have been favorable for plowing and fall seeding. Moderate rains fell on the 16th and 17th, but not enough to revive the crops injured by drought.

The fall at Winchendon, Mass., was three ninutes. The wind assumed tornado-like effects in narrow belts, injuring buildings and trees. At Newton, N. H., 11/4 inches of rain came in 20 minutes. On the 16th and 17th light rain fell in all coast sections, but did not extend far inland. Dense fog also prevailed on those days along the coast.

More Water Needed.

The copious rains in New Hampshire have helped the wells in places, while in others the report still comes of want of water. The fields and pastures are beginning to look quite green again, and fall feed has been greatly helped, but it is thought that the grass crop for next year has been seriously injured by the drought Fruits of all kinds are from one to two weeks earlier than usual. Apples are generally small in size, but have grown Root crops generally promise well. A great deal of corn has been put into the shock, and it is thought will prove an verage crop; silos are being rapidly filled Many potatoes are turning out better than xpected. Fall plowing is being done There has been no report of damage by

Splendid Weather In Vermont. A heavy rain in southern Vermont on the 10th and one in the central and northern sections on the 16th have wet the ground down well and given the streams a pernament rise. It is reported that the rains have cleared the air of smoke and that there has been splendid fall weather for ipening apples and cutting corn. Most f the corn is cut and is being husked. It roves to be a fair crop of good quality. trifling amount over the amount due Potatoes are being dug, and some farmer n Windsor county report the best crop fo everal years. A correspondent in Washngton county reports the potato crop

Drought Partially Broken. ern Massachusetts on the 10th effectually roke the drought there, but there has Jayanese as fighters. been too little rain in most other sections. The showers have helped the fields and pastures and late root crops, but have not wet down to any great depth. Corn is ripening up fast, though many fields on w land are still green and growing; it has dried badly on uplands in the northwestern part of the state.

Several correspondents in central districts pronounce the potato crop very good and of extra quality. Pastures and fields are getting green in most sections, but the rowen crop will be very light. Many farmers have been waiting for a good rain before cutting it, so the roots will not be dried up and injured. Correspondents still report a very light cranberry crop. Fall apples are abundant. Winter apples are looking better, and though dropping badly, still promise a good crop. One correspondent reports the Baldwin apples the highest colored he ever saw. The frosts are generally reported light, and no damage of any amount. Onions are small and

Good Harvesting Weather.

The weather has been favorable for harvesting in Rhode Island and the work has been pushed. The rainfall has been sufficient in southern counties to break the drought and furnish a water supply, but in northern towns the rain, though helpful, has not been sufficient.

Fields and Pastures Improved. Most parts of Connecticut have had rain enough to benefit fields and pastures and all growing crops, but the streams and wells have been very little affected as yet In fact, many correspondents report steadily falling water supplies. In western counties some plowing has been done, and rye sown, with rain enough to insure its growth. Pastures are rapidly improving, though stock have to be fed from the barn in many places. The crop of rowen will be small. Late forage crops are growing well. Turnips, celery, cab-bage, etc., are late, but with favorable weather will not fail entirely. Corn is maturing rapidly and has been cut in

One correspondent in Hartford county reports a poor yield, but generally a good crop is reported. The stalks have been little damaged and the stocks should stand well for drying. The potatoes and most other vegetables are better than expected in many places. There is some complaint of rot on potatoes in Litchfield and Fairfield counties, but it is not general. Apples continue to drop badly, but there is generally a good crop in prospect; other fruit is plentiful. No damage has been reported from the frosts. There will be two more bulletins issued this season, and it is hoped that the correspondents will make full reports on the condition of the late forage and garden crops, and also the effect of the rains on the grass roots and the fall sown grass seed and grain. The grass in many fields that is now apparently dead may start up with favorable weather, and give promise of a good crop next season.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 19.—The game between Fall River and New Bedford ended in a row in the 11th inning yesterday, and was declared by Umpire John Irwin to be a draw. The score reverted back to the 10th inning, 3 to 3.

It looked very blue for the New Bedfords in the 11th, as they had been unable to hit Klobedanz with effect during the game, and two runs was a big margin. Ryan, Boston's catcher, who has been loaned to New Bedford especially for these games, was the first to start the funny business by deliberately throwing the bal out into left field, where Sexton

Played Football With It. The umpire warned him not to do it pitched he repeated the same performance. The umpire threatened to take Ryan out of the game, and the whole New Bedford team came on the field to argue the point They kept continually running up to Irwin to argue imaginary points, and when play was finally started again Ryan threw the ball out into the field once more. This disgusted everyone, and Mc-Cormick hit out an easy ball to Driscoll so as to hurry the side out.

But the New Bedfords were not anxious to get the Fall Rivers out. Reilly, on third, was ordered to walk in. He did so, and Ryan deliberately held the ball over him and allowed him to Walk Under and Score. Klobedanz was at the bat, and Captain Brady ordered McDermott to go in and bat out of order so that he would be declared out. Irwin told Brady that he might as well get out in order, as the game would have to be finished. It was then only 5:15, a trifle cloudy, but not dark. Klobedanz struck out.

Cotter, the first New Bedford man up, hit for a single and stole second and third. scoring on Ryan's single. Smith hit for a double and Ryan reached third. At this juncture of the game Stovey got into an argument with a jag, and had to bring the fellow out on the coach line.

A PITCHED BATTLE

Which a Crowd of Chicago Gambler

CEICAGO, Sept. 19. - Pinkerton mer raided Harry Varnell's gambling house at Madison and Clark streets yesterday after noon. Varnell's is one of the larges gambling houses in the city, and was well-filled when a score of detectives, headed by Mat Pinkerton, entered the place. The attaches of the house arme themselves with chairs and other weapon and charged the intruders. Drawing their clubs, the officers resisted the attack, and for 15 minutes the air was full of chairs clubs and profanity.

Many of the contestants were knocked down and badly pounded, but none was dangerously hurt. An immense crowd of QUEER DOINGS AT FALL RIVER people gathered, attracted by the row in the heart of the city. The detectives finally conquered, making numerous arrests, and the Varn I people retaliated by causing the arrest of Mat Pinkerton. Varnell is ex-warden of the county poorhouse and has served a term in the penitentiary for boodling.

American Citizens Leaving the Scene of Boston, Sept. 19.—The steamer Indian apolis, Captain Lamont, right from the battlefields of Bluefields, entered port yesterday afternoon. Besides bringing a big consignment of mahogany timbers, few passengers were stowed away in the small cabin, who had taken passage on this lumber steamer in order to escape the serious war situation in Nicaragua. Of the six passengers, five were Americans; two were ladies—Mrs. M. T. Spellman of Indianapolis and Mrs. Jane Newman of Bluefields.

Captain Lamont reports that the American interests at Bluefields have been poorly protected, and that United States capitalists will lose several millions of The Registrars of Voters will meet dollars as a result. American citizens are leaving the port of Bluefields as fast as they can secure passage on steamers, which is a difficult matter at present. Property is being abandoned and sold for a mere song.

The captain of the Indianapolis reports everything quiet at Bluefields on Sept. 7, when he sailed, but that the situation there is still very precarious. The hall is wide and spacious and gives a stranger on entering an idea of hospital-ity. The spacious veranda gives ample opportunity for the occupants to enjoy nature and at the same time be suitably protected from the glare of the sun.

The main house has two full high stories and a high attic, in which good rooms can be obtained should it be necessary. This house has the conveniences that are usually to be had in the country. The bay window is a nice feature. In fact, it is a model home for the farmer and a splendid house for the amount of money expended -viz, $2,400 for everything complete except cellar walls, which were built by the wherh stone on the ground.

Mechanical Processes Employed to Make Winter Temperature This Summer. In one of the St. Louis restaurants,

The discovery came about in a peculiar manner. A Spaniard who lived in Mexico was on account of political reasons obliged to flee from the country. He went to Paris, but before going buried a large quantity of gold in a stout oaken chest in a secluded spot. Recently he returned and dug up his treasure. Imagine his surprise to find the chest not filled with the shining gold, but with a black kind of a powder, which showed signs of animal life.

Chemical tests have shown that the black mineral, or animal which it has not been definitely determined, had consumed the gold. A quantity of traigo oro has been sent to New York, where the chemists are testing for a method to reconvert it to its original composition. It is said that gold is indestructible and that some process can be adopted whereby the gold may be reclaimed -Cincinnati Enquirer.

George Finney, an express wagon driver, has clothed his mules' fore legs in trousers. In speaking of it he said that flies bothered the fore legs of a four footed animal more than they did the hind limbs, and he, therefore, having some respect for the comfort of his faithful servants, had made a pair of trousers to protect them from the pests. The trousers were supported by suspenders passed up over the backs of the animals. - Nebraska State Journal.

Eugene Field's Portrait of Debs The newspaper portraits of E. V. Debs

are not accurate. They represent him as fat and sleek, and he is not. Debs is tall, blue eyed, pale, smooth shaven and inclined to baldness He looks very like Bill Nye, and the fact that he wears spectacles emphasizes the resemblance. He dresses very plainly, but neatly. He talks fluently, he is an omnivorous reader, and he particularly likes poetry. Of address he is candid and cordial. He has to a degree that quality called personal magnetism. Five minutes with him would suffice, we think, to convince a reader of huma nature that Debs is a man of high ideas, honest convictions, unswerving integrity, great intellectual vigor (or perhaps, rather, zeal), exceptional simplicity of character and consummate impracticability. His traits are those, we believe, which, taken singly, are most admirable, but which, bunched, are very likely to get him into trouble. - Chicago

Information For the Examiners. The Hon. Champ Clark, formerly of Kentucky, has no respect for the civil service laws, and he does not hesitate to say so, as was indicated by his vigorous speech in the house the other day. In the course of his remarks he made a general assault on the civil service system, which, he declared, was the most monumental fraud of the century. "Not 10 men in this house," said he, "could stand an examination for a $900 clerkship. Why, they asked one man how many British soldiers were sent over here during the revolution. The applicant replied that he did not know the exact number, but he knew a d-d sight more came over than went back." Louisville Courier-Journal.

BANDITS FLED TO THE WOODS

Despite an Elaborate Scheme to Effect Their Capture.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 19 .- A westbound passenger train on the Santa Fe road was held up near Kirkwood by a band of would-be robbers. After a hot battle of 20 minutes' duration with a half-dozen detectives, the bandits escaped to the woods. The train arrived here but five minutes

The train arrived here but have inhutes late, and went west on schedule time.

The attempt to rob the train falled completely. The plot was formed three weeks ago and the railroad and express officials have had a spy in the camp of the bandite ever since. From the time the train left Chieses railroad and express detactives. Chicago railroad and express detectives, all walking arsenals, climbed on at every station. The would-be robbers expected to make a haul of at least $50,000, the Monday run being always much heavier than Ten minutes before the time set for the curtain to rise the lights were put out and the windows were raised. In each seat were two men sitting sidewise, the muzzles of their guns protruding just a trifle over the sills. Behind them stood others, with Winchesters at half-cock resting across their arms. Out from between two embankments, just one mile from Gorin, sped the train. Then came the Crack of a Railway Torpedo.

A moment later a shrill, sharp whistle gave token that the engineer had heard, and almost before his hand left the valve, across the tracks, not 50 yards away, swung a red light. Within 30 seconds from the explosion of the torpedo the train was at a standstill.

From the dense undergrowth near the track came four forms. The face of each was hidden by a black mask. One more agile than the rest rushed to the engine le carried a rifle, and pointed it at Engineer Prescott, shouting: "Hold up your hands." He pulled the trigger and Prescott fell to the floor of his cab with a bullet in his right breast. Detective Kenney at once sent a shower of shot

Made For the Woods. The shot which laid Engineer Prescott low was the signal for a fusilade. It was also the signal for a hasty retreat to the shelter of timber on the part of the robers. of the Millionaire.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 20.-Mrs. E. M. Byers, wife of the millionaire iron manufacturer of this city, yesterday filed a petition in court asking the custody of her husband and his estate. A commissioner was apointed to take testimony.

Mrs. Byers, in her petition, tells a most sensational story. She says he has been married 22 years. About two years ago H. B. Shields, an employe of A. M. Byers, her brother-in-law, kidnapped her husband, so she says, and took him to Chicago, where he was placed in the custody of Dr. where he was placed in the custody of Dr.
L. W. Tallman. The latter took Byers to Duluth, and then to St. Paul, where he was placed in a hotel under the charge of

The books are carefully packed in old papers obtained at the PATRIOT office. The collection is the library of President John Adams, given by him in 1822 to his fellow-townsmen of Quincy, and now deivered to the trustees of the Boston public Library, in order that its volumes may be nore conveniently accessible to students.

The Herald says: "It will take all the week to transfer the collection to the public library. There are only 2700 or 2800 volumes in the Adams collection; a week or so ago the Ticknor library, containing some 7000 than 10 hours, but the Ticknor library was packed by a large force of men. In Quincy there are only two at work. "Mr. Lindsay swift is directing the moving. en years ago he made a card catalogue of the collection, and he will move the books in the order of his cataloguing, so that the old catalogue may still be available for use in Boston.

"The process of moving is very simple. A man lowers them from the gallery in a market basket, a shelf-full at a time. They are arranged in order on the floor as fast as they are let down.

"When a sufficient number are thus collected, they are wrapped in papers and packed in boxes about 4 feet long and a foot wide. These are loaded in an express wagon and taken to Boston.

"The first of the four alcoves contains the classical books, the second and third miscellaneous books, many of them books of politics in both English and French, and the fourth, a collection of books on law, largely theoretical and international law 'Monday the Greek and Latin author were taken from the shelves and distributed on the floor of the hall. Yesterday morning the teamsters began carrying them to Boston.

"They made a very learned and impos ing sight as they lay there. A good half of them are folios of the largest size, in their stout old bindings of vellum, calf and "The gem of this part of the collection s Henri Estienne's beautiful edition of Plato in three large volumes. It was printed in Paris three hundred ago. It is doubtful if Paris could produce its equal in elegance and comeliness today.

"Many of these classics are annotated in the hand of John Adams. His autograph is often found throughout the whole collection, and that of his son, John Quincy, is not infrequent. Some of the volumes contain the Adams bookplate, with the Adams coat of arms.

"There are scores of presentation copies. Joseph Warren gave his Boston massacre oration. Marshall gave his life of Washington, with the following inscription in each of the five volumes: "Mr. Adams is requested to accept a copy of the Life of Washington as a small mark of the respect and attachment of his obliged and obedt. servt.-The Author."

"A book like that-linking together the three great names of Washington, Marshal and Adams-would be enough to make the reputation of any ordinary library."

Republicans to Quincy Conventions.

FOR CONGRESSMAN

The Caucuses Well Attended Although Was Unfavorable.

The large attendance at the Republican caucuses Wednesday evening heralds a grand rally at the polls in November, when the party will undoubtedly sweep the city and the State by the largest pluralities ever given a candidate for Governor of the old Bay State. About the only contest was over the Congressional delegates, which is briefly summarized in the subremoved by Austin & Winslow's expresss. heads below. Different wards have different preferences, and many of the ward delegations are divided. Few if any are for Atwood; some are for Murray; others for Bliss, but the largest number for the man, possibly Hon. Charles H. Porter or Hon. John F. Merrill of this city.

Hon. Charles H. Porter was chairman of the Ward One caucus and Wilson Marsh secretary. There was a very good caucus, about 75 being in attendance. The chairman, upon assuming the position, congratulated the Republicans volumes, was packed and boxed in less on their success in Maine and Vermont. The former had increased the plurality about three times that of last year and he should expect a plurality of 100,000 for Greenhalge in Massachusetts.

Ward One Anti-Atwood

After various motions and suggestions it was voted to make nominations from the floor for each convention, and that marking lists be used. These delegates were elected, the names

In this ward the caucus went off without hitch. Charles H. Johnson called the meeting to order and read the call and was afterward chosen premanent chairman with Albert Keating, secretary. Upon motion a list of names was nominated from the floor for the several conventions and a marking list was then opened and kept so for half an hour, at the end of which it was announced that the following delegates were elected.

thousand people yelled themselves hoarse yesterday afternoon when the great trotting queen Alix beat the world's record by coming under the wire in 2:03%. Mc-Dowell was her driver. The start was made in splendid style, Alix coming as regularly and steadily as clockwork, with head down, and her short, pointed ears twitching nervously.

As she darted under the wire, the cheering was so prolonged that it was some time before Starter Williams could make himself heard. He then announced "You have witnessed the fastest heat ever trotted by any trotter on the globe. The first quarter was made in 30½, the half in 1:01¾, the third quarter in 1:32¾ and the mile in 2:0334."

The general opinion among the leading horsemen was that the quarters were wonderfully evenly trotted. The first was in 30½, second in 31¼, third in 31 and the fourth in 31. It shows that at no point did she falter an instant. Williams announced that Robert J, Flying Jib, Directly and Online will be driven against their records.

CRAPE ON TROLLEY CARS.

That's What They Have In Binghamton

After One Has Been Killed by Them. "While reading of the numerous trolley accidents in Brooklyn," said Alderclose Wednesday, Oct. 17, but don't put ago, "it occurred to me that Brooklyn man Brandt of Binghamton a few days lines would do well to adopt a unique custom which, as far as I know, is peculiar to Binghamton car lines. In our city the trolleys occupy all the principal streets, but the motormen are very careful, and it is seldom that there is an accident. Last winter, however, a man was run down and killed. The exact details of the accident have slipped my memory, but I believe that no blame was attached to the motorman.

When that particular car appeared on The Republicans of Connecticut have got the following day, it was a sight to be their Coffia. They have been buried seen. Long streamers of crape floated disseveral years without a coffin, and this mally out from the sides, black and white rosettes ornamented the spaces between the windows and conductor and motorman wore badges of mourning. Not The People's party held a caucus in only that, but every car on that line Hardwick's hall Wednesday evening for was draped with black, and all the trolley cars in the city displayed in one way or another some sign of mourning. I was really quite imposing.

"If they could only import that idea in Brooklyn," continued the alderman thoughtfully, "I think it would be a long step toward trolley reform. They seem to be reforming everything else but the trolleys there. Draping the cars of each line for, say three days after any unfortunate had met his death on that particular line, would enable people to keep a sort of count, besides being a graceful tribute of sorrow on the part of the trolley company. Moreover, the enormous expense for crape to which the companies would be subjected would undoubtedly have the effect of making the motormen more careful.

"Oh, I tell you, there are lots of things that the bigger cities can learn of Binghamton!"—Brooklyn Citizen.

PEARL HARBOR, HAWAII.

Lieutenant Wood Says It Can Easily Be Made One of the Finest In the World. After a stay of six weeks on Ford's island—six weeks of hard work for both officers and men—Lieutenant Wood and his party have returned from Pearl harbor with as complete a set of surveys as it is possible to take. The result shows that Pearl harbor, if taken in hand by the United States, will make the finest possible bay in the world and at an expense which, compared with the final result, is almost nominal. Lieutenant Wood was asked yesterday in regard to the work accomplished and said: "We have been at the harbor for just six weeks and two days and have in that time made 28 borings and over 1,500 soundings. The survey has been a very complete one, and I have data enough to make a close estimate on the cost of all the work that will be necessary in making the harbor one of the finest in the world. Not a piece of coral has been encountered in the borings, and it would only require a comparatively small amount of dredging to give a depth of 80 feet on the bar at low tide. A peculiar formation of one of the coral banks on each side of the channel was discovered that will be a cut into the fire alarm and a complete great help in the work of disposing of list will be handy for reference:

the sand as it is dredged out. "The more I see of Pearl harbor more I am impressed with its military and commercial advantages. I have compare in any way with this one. Twenty miles of wharves could be built there cheaper than any other place in of the work done will be made as soon as posible and forwarded to Washington."-Pacific Commercial Advertiser

Military Strength of China and Japan o

Special Interest Just Now. In view of the possible unpleasant ness between China and Japan over Korea the following account of the military strength of the two powers is not without interest: The military force of China consists of the army of Manchuria, 70,000 men, many of them armed with the Manser rifle, with a liberal supply of Krupp field cannon; the army of the center, 50,000 men, which can be doubled in case of war; the army of Turkestan of uncertain strength, employed to maintain order in the extreme western territories, and the territorial army, something like the American nation. SARSAPAKILLA SARSAPAKILLA THE

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. F. MERRILL, the wonderful specialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all cutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a remarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous alcohol, and all injurious ingredients

PROF. W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., author of "New Thera peutical Agents", the standard text book of the newer materia medica, Consulting Chemical Consulting Chemical Consulting Chemical Chemical Consulting Chemical Chemic ist and Therapeutist, one of the most widely known men among the medical profession gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement: "Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me thera-peutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that of mercury, less the faults of that drug; for, has not Pereira said, "A perfect mercury would be a perfect

Hartford Split Swung Connecticut Republicans' Votes.

INDIRECT CENSURE OF BRICE

By the Democratic Leaders of the Buckeye State.

HARTFORD, Sept. 20.-The Republican state convention reassembled with not a trace apparent of the hot fight before the eredentials committee over the contesting delegations from this city. Chairman Fessenden of the credentials committee submitted the report on the contesting Hartford delegations, giving H. C. Robin son, who was on both tickets, one vote and each of the six others half a vote.

Mr. Robinson led off the nomination for governor by counties with a speech for Frank W. Cheney of South Manchester. Frederick L. Farnsworth nominated S. E. Merwin of New Haven, Charles E. Searles named John A. Porter, and Judge Elmer spoke for O. V. Coffin of Middletown.
On the informal ballot, out of 492 votes Merwin received 140, Cheney 1351/2, Coffin 125, Porter 871/2, scattering 4. The first formal ballot showed no material change, but the Hartford split bore fruit in the next, when the Porter men broke for Coffin, who gained steadily to the fourth ballot, when he received 280 votes, giving him the nomination. Ex Lieutenant Gov ernor Lorrin A. Cooke was nominated lieutenant governor by acclamation, and the other places were filled as follows: Secretary of state, W. A. Mowry of Nor-wich; treasurer, G. W. Hodge of Windsor; comptroller, B. P. Mead of New Canaan. Mr. Coffin has twice been state senator mayor of Middletown and has been promiently mentioned for the governorship for several campaigns. The platform adopted cites that the Democratic party has demonstrated its lack of ability to successfully administer the government, neither redeeming its own pledges nor being guided by the experience which, for over a quarter of a century, has made this nation prosperous at home and respected abroad. Hearty adhesion is given to the time-honored principle of judicious tariff protection for American industries and American wages. The Republican party holds that Ameri can silver as well as American gold should be used as standard money under such international agreements as will insure the maintenance of a parity of values. The Republicans of Connecticut declare anew that the old soldier is of right the pre ferred national creditor, and that his pension should not be paid grudgingly as an irksome necessity, but willingly and gratefully as a sacred duty. During the evening a mass ratification meeting was held in the armory and de veloped great enthusiasm.

A WHACK AT BRICE.

thio Democrats Favor the Election of Senators by the People.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.-The delegates o the Democratic state convention com pletely filled the parquet of the convention all, while the balcony and gallery were packed to their utmost capacity with visitng and local members of the Democracy

Chairman Crites dispensed with a welcoming speech, and Frank H. Hurd was introduced as temporary chairman. He spoke for fully an hour, declaring that protection was dead, the Democracy being its slayer. Republican legislation caused the panic, he said, and to Cleveland belonged the credit for the Democratic reform measures. He praised Senator Brice for making free wool possible and bitterly denounced the A. P. A.

The platform expresses hearty commendation of the efficient, economic and hon est administration of President Cleveland: states that protection is a fraud and recognizes the beneficial reductions of duties on imports just made by congress; favors such further reductions as can be made; congratulates the country upon the repeal of the McKinley tariff and the enactment of a tariff law in its stead, under the operation of which trade and business are re viving and the country again becoming prosperous; dissents from the president's views, construction and treatment of the silver question, and therefore that silver should be restored to the position it occupied as money prior to its demonetiza-tion by the Republican party, and to that end it favors the unlimited free coinage of silver at the legal ratio of 16 to 1, with the legal tender power. The convention, by a vote of 467 to 328, leclared in favor of the election of United States senators by the people. This is re- Mag'c Remedy will cure. garded as being tantamount to an indirect censure of Senator Brice. As the matter stands, the convention simply endorsed the plan of electing senators. JAPS WERE VICTORS.

The Chinese Lost Heavily In the Recent Naval Engagement.

BRITISH OFFICER'S ESTIMATE

Of the Ultimate Result of the Great Conflict.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20.—The Chinese claim that they defeated the Japanese fleet. It is added, however, that this claim is not entirely endorsed by the correspondent at Port Arthur, which lies across the gulf of Corea from the scene of the engagement. He says that he has seen some of the Chinese officers who took part in the anticipated. battle, and from what he gleaned from them it is apparent that they did not be-lieve their fleet had been victorious. Some half a dozen of the Japanese war ships put into Port Arthur after the fight. All of them were badly damaged and were full of wounded men. It will require considerable time for the vessels to effect the repairs necessary to make them again

The correspondent states that the Chinese northern squadron, under the command of Admiral Ting, left Port Arthur on Friday night last, having under convey seven transports. Most of the troops on board the transports were infantry.

Preparing For Battle. The object of the expedition was to land troops near Wiju, whence they were to be sent to the front. Signals were set on the Chinese flagships ordering the transports to start with all possible speed for a place of safety. Signals were also set for the Chinese fleet to clear for action. This order was promptly obeyed. In the meantime the Japanese squadron were coming up rapidly, making directly for the Chines

The transports had run in toward shore, and hurried preparations were made to send the troops on land. Many of them were landed before the battle commenced. The Chih-Yuen, one of the most powerful the Japanese as soon as the latter came in range of her guns. The fire was promptly returned, and soon the Chih-Yuen was hotly engaged with two large Japanese cruisers, one of which is said to have been the Chiyoda. The other Japanese vessels got into the positions they desired, and the fight then became general. For six hours the battle was waged furiously, the deep boom of the great guns commingling with the sharp reports of the machine guns. Nearly all the vessels on both sides were engaged for the whole six hours.

Chinese Cruisers Sunk. The splendid cruiser Chih-Yuen took a prominent part in the engagement. Her Krupp and Armstrong guns were wellserved, and she poured a hot and well sustained fire from her auxiliary battery. One of the Japanese vessels discharged a torpedo at her. The missile sped well from its tube and struck the Chih-Yuen fairly. When it exploded it was apparen it had done great damage, for the Chih-Yuen began almost immediately to settle. Her crew, however, stuck to their guns and delivered some effective shots befor their ship sank.

The belted cruiser King-Yuen met with a similar fate, being struck by a torpedo and sinking shortly afterward. Many of the crews of both vessels went down whil still standing at quarters. Only a few of those on board were saved, and it is reported that 600 officers and men were drowned by the foundering of these two

NOW Propose to Give vessels.

After the Chih-Yuen and King-Yuen had gone down the cruisers Yang-Wei and Chao-Yung ran aground while maneuvering for positions. Then they were help less, and a destructive fire was poured into them from the big guns of the Japanese Some of the Japanese warships devoted themselves for a time to the transports, which had not had time to get out o

It is believed that several of the trans ports were sunk, including one from which the troops had not been landed. It is estimated that the total Chinese loss in killed and wounded was 1500. It is re ported that the Japanese loss was 1000 killed or wounded.

An Opinion of Weight.

A dispatch from London gives the views of Colonel J. F. Maurice, the well-known strategist and tactician, in command of the royal artillery at Colchester, in reference to the battle fought at the mouth of the Yalu river between the fleets of China and Japan. Colonel Maurice says:
"It is too early to get a forecast of the results of the battle fought in the gulf of Corea. If the Japanese admiral has been able to defeat the Chinese so decisively as to paralyze their Chinese naval operations. the way is clear for Japan to descend on Pekin. But we must remember that the were hampered with transports, while the apanese had freer action. "If Japan has scored a great naval victory, it is urgently necessary to follow it up immediately and

Doubtless, Japan has a complete plan of Durgin & Merrill's Block, Quincy. campaign, including a march upon Pekin. This is evident by Marshal Yamagata's brilliant campaign. His tactics would have been creditable to any western gen eral. His strategy is of the order of the BLOOD POISON or Syphilis permanently cured in 20 to 60 days by a Magic Remedy, under guarantee, backed by $500.000 capital. war of 1866, and represents what most military experts who utilize the changes which have been introduced by telegraph consider the most feasible. "The movements of Marshal Yamagata were absolutely not hinted at until victory was achieved. It is on the cards for the Japanese commander to make an immediate dash upon Moukden, which is the ancient capital of the Manchurian dynasty, and is worth capturing. This would involve crushing the remainder of the Chinese army south of Manchuria, which, however, is numerous and must number many thousands.

"But there is no doubt that this force is not well organized and would be easily defeated, and I should not be astonished if the next three weeks shall see all the Chinese driven out of Corea."

CHINA'S HEAVY LOSS.

Three Warships Sunk and Another Destroyed by Fire.

FIGHT WAS LONG AND VIGOROUS.

The Guns on Both Sides Were Worked Unceasingly.

TOKIO, Sept. 21.—The naval department has received a dispatch from the admiral commanding the Japanese fleet in the gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, to the effect that he engaged the enemy on Monday last and inflicted heavy loss.

It is added that a Japanese fleet consisting of nine warships and two fast trans-ports, armed and converted into cruisers, had been sent in search of the enemy's northern fleet, which was sighted at noon Monday, 35 miles northeast of the island of Hai-Yung-Pao.

The Japanese pursued the enemy at full speed. The Chinese showed no disposition to alter their course or to give battle. The chase lasted a little over an hour, the Japanese gaining. Shortly after 1 o'clock the cruiser Chiota got within range of the Chinese flagship, the guns of which opened fire upon her, and a running fight ensued. Several vessels on both sides were engaged. This lasted over two hours.

The Chinese transports entered the Yalu river safely during the main engagement, which was fought in the estuary and which lasted until nightfall. Three Chinese warships were successively disabled and sunk, and another was set on fire and heavy fire from the Japanese cruisers, but they managed to get away, together with a few vessels which remained unscathed. The Japanese warships were so well handled that not one was lost. Only two, the Matsusima and Hivio, were damaged to any extent, but one of the armed transports was badly crippled and put out of their gunners made better practice. The Ting-Yuen was the first to suffer, a shell bursting in her battery. From the outset, the Japanese directed a powerful fire upon the Chinese battleships Chen-Yuen and Ting-Yuen. For 90 minutes a errific cannonade continued.

He chose the lesser of the two evils and formed a fighting line to guard the single column in the following order from port to starboard: Yang-Wei, Chi-Yuen, Tsi-Yuen, King-Yuen, Ting-Yuen, Lai-Yuen, Chin-Yuen, Ping-Yuen, Ching-Yuen and Chao-Yung. As a second fighting line, and to meet any Japanese ships which might succeed in forcing the fighting line, four torpedo boats, were stationed at the mouth of the river.

The result was that one Japanese cruiser, reported to have been the Saiko, was placed out of action. One Chinese officer declared that he saw her sink.

In the meantime the two big guns on the Chen-Yuen were disabled, and the other ships showed signs of damage. Both fleets were under easy steam, the Japanese maneuvering continually, while the Chinese held their original positions. Suddenly two of the Japanese cruisers sought to break through the Chinese lines on the starboard side. Three torpedo boats swiftly pursued them. The Chin-Yuen and Chao-Yuen went at full speed astern to avoid a catastrophe. The boats fired their torpedoes, but the nets about the Japanese cruisers stopped them. In the meantime other guns were brought to bear upon have been the Akitsuhima and the Yoshimo. and the King-Yuen was in a terrible plight. A shell burst through her decks and set fire to her, and with the flames bursting from her she slowly settled down. The Chinese torpedo boats essayed to make a diversion in the enemy's line, but the attempt was a failure. Throughout the fight the attack was always with the Japanese. Twice or thrice more they sought to break through the Chinese fighting line, but until the last the Chinese guns were able to stop them, and the Japanese never reached the transports. The Chinese vessels gave way before the attacks, and while doing so the Hang-Wei stranded stern first. Her fate was similar tion to Samuel Gompers, president of th to that of the Chao-Yung. After the first three hours the fire became intermittent. The Chi-Yuen, which still bravely fought with her guns when she was nothing mo than a wallowing wreck, was struck by a torpedo and sank with all on board. The scene was now an appalling one.

The guns on several of the ships on both sides were disabled, and the great ships rolled heavily. The streams of green water pouring out of their sides showed water pouring out of their sides showed that the steam pumps were incessantly worked, and testified to the extent of the Labor will have to be reckoned with by the manufacturers, who, it is thought, red the situation even now as during the last hour of the fighting. More than one of the Japanese vessels seemed to be on the point of foundering.

It was not until dusk, however, that the firing ceased, and the battered Japanese fleet slowly departed in double line formation toward the south. The next morning the remnants of the Chinese fleet, with six transports, started for Port Arthur, which was safely reached.

The damage to the best Chinese ships is so extensive that it can scarcely be re-paired before the arrival of winter. The officers say that both sides fought with the most ferocious courage.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.-Steamer Jo Wilson brought the following letter fr Bluefields under date of Sept. 15: Nie aguans have elected Americans to offi have obtained enough delegates to secure a without taking the trouble to consult the gentlemen nominated. Two of the named refused to serve. Madriz was equal to the emergency and announced that any successful candidate who refused to serve when elected to office would be fined $50 a day throughout the entire term of office. Eugene Landric and Dr. Paul Austerhouse, the Americans who rejected the honor, appealed to Cap-tain O'Neill for protection, and induced him to make Minister Madriz withdraw his decree. Sept. 10 the English cruiser Mohawk ar rived. Captain O'Neill was notified of the presence on board of the two American exiles, Sim Lampton of New Orleans and Captain W. R. Willbanks of Philadel phia. Mr. Lampton, one of the banished Bluefields residents, gives an account o the brutal manner in which they were treated by their captors. While they were prisoners at Bluefields they were quartered in a small building behind the custom house. During the forenoon of Aug. 18 several soldiers were seen to lash Two One-Pound Cans of Gunpowder together and fit out a fuse. This deadly instrument was then taken to the build ing where the prisoners were quartered and placed in the center of the room. A soldier was stationed by the powder with instructions to set fire to the fuse when fight began. One of the officers told Lampton to watch close, and at the first sign of a fight to run for his life. It would be better to stand the chance of escaping bad marks manship than being blown to atoms.

When they boarded the Yulu the evening of Aug. 19, the powder was carried along and placed near where the prisoners were stationed. Again they were taken to the old Spanish town of San Juan del Norte The powder enjoyed a prominent position in the hotel and even on the river.

APPLES BETTER THAN WHEAT. Startling Figuring Done by an Enthusiastic Oregon Editor. That it will not do to put all of one's eggs in one basket has been thoroughly demonstrated by the berry crop this season. With thousands of crates ripe the ability to reach a market is without any fault of ours suddenly taken away. The strawberry crop has been the principal one of this section, and while it will not only hold its present yield, but will double and treble it, it will in a year or two become of secondary importance. Prunes, peaches, cherries and small fruits generally are a necessity to the fruits generally are a necessity for the fruits generally general fruitgrower because they furnish him At Neponset close connection is made with money early in the season as well with West End Street Cars to and from as early in his business. They all bear one fatal objection fruits preserved in brandy or other spirits. as a crop to be relied upon, and that is the absolute necessity of finding a market for them as soon as they are ripe.

for it the same condition exists-it must be taken care of at once when ripe. The fruit of Hood River, the one that is to make her famous as well as prosperous, is the winter apple. That can be kept. It can be gathered leisurely, once in bearing, bring better and steadier returns and at the very least outlay. again taken a very serious turn. This year it should yield 50 times as much, next year 70 times as much, and then for 20 years 100 times as much. In other words, one acre of winter apples is worth more, year in and year out, than 100 acres of wheat. Six acres of good orchard will yield a larger net yield than a section of wheat land. Multiply eventually produce may be gained. In other words, every section in fruit will produce a cash value equal to three townships of wheat. The winter apple is going to accomplish this result, and the next few years as the young orchards come into bearing will prove the truth of this assertion, though it now seems a wild one. We can but reiterate our former words: "Plant apple trees. Twenty acres if you can; one tree if that is your limit, but plant at every opportunity." THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Will Cover the Circuit Now Monopo by the National League. PITTSBURG, Sept. 21 .- The report of the formation of a new baseball league is confirmed. Ex-Manager Buckenberger of the Pittsburg club and A. K. Scandrett, exsecretary of the same organization, state that the league has already been organized, and that the premature publication of the plans can in no way interfere with the arrangements already made. The circuit is to be made up of Pittsburg. Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Detroit, Previdence and Chicago or Buffalo, and that the new organization is to be known as the National association. The admission to its games will be 25 cents. It is not the intention to fight the National League, but to arrange the schedule so as not to interfere with the latter.

Ized, and that the premature publication of the plans can in no way interfere with the latter.

"No, but princes are," was the reply.

Those who waste their bodily strength as this man wasted his cash, end in physical bankruptcy. The signs of it, which cannot be hidden, are indigestion, nervousness and a steady loss of flesh, consequent upon the weakness of the stomach. In such a case drug are utterly useless. They are not food and the patient needs fat. Paskola makes fat surely and swiftly. It is pre-digested, and the system takes it up at once. HOT-HEADED DESHA Uses a Dirk Knife Upon an Opponent of Breckinridge, Senior.

A BULLYING FRIEND HELPS HIM.

An Attempt to Get a Judge Into a Fight.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 22.—Desha Breckhridge had a sensational altercation with James D. Livingston, formerly of New York city, in the Phœnix hotel at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. Livingston was standing at the news and cigar stand reading an afternoon paper when Desha Breckinridge came in and bought a package of cigarets. Livingston spoke to Desha and extended his hand, saying: "It is all over Breekinridge, with an angry look on his face, replied: "No; you one-horse scoundrel, I will not take your hand. You profess to be a man's friend and then stab

Livingston replied to this by saying that he had done nothing of the kind. Then Breekinridge called him a d-d liar, and Livingston then struck at Desha and knocked his glasses off, following this up with a blow on the neck.

Desha reached for his hip pocket, and instantly there flashed in the air the long, bright blade of a big dirk. Livingston, in a moment of desperation, grabbed at the glittering blade, which Breckinridge had aimed at his heart. The knife went between the second and third fingers of his kicks. The hotel clerks and several bystanders rushed in and seized Breckin ridge, and at the same instant Matt Lane, a Breckinridge man, ran up and said h would take a hand in helping Desha. Two witnesses say that Lane also flour ished a big knife, but Lane denies this A friend then took Livingston home in a uggy and Desha Breckinridge went to his oms across the street.

A Row With a Judge.

Just before the trouble occurred with Livingston, Desha and Lane, who were walking up Main street, had met Judge Kinkead, who made several speeches dur ing the campaign, denouncing Colone Breckinridge. Desha Breckinridge said to Judge Kinkead that now that the election was over he wanted to tell him that he

He also applied several vile epithets to the judge, who replied that he was unarmed and did not want to have any difficulty in the open street. Desha told him him anywhere and at any time. He repeated this several times. Then Lane, who recently came here from Mount you said that decent people would not en-tertain Colonel Breckinridge, you lied. My sister entertained him in Woodford county." Lane then applied to Kinkead

The judge again said that he wanted no trouble on the street and that he was not armed, when Lane threw his coat off and said that he was not armed either, and then walked out on the street toward his

Lane said to a reporter: "Yes, I called him a name, and I will fight him any way he wants to fight, and what is mor if any of his friends want to take it up, I will fight them, too."

The End Not Yet. By this time a number of strong Owens men began to crowd into the lobby of the hotel. One of Breckinridge's friends, fearing that there would be trouble with Lane, ersuaded him to leave the hotel Then the Owens men began to talk, and ne of them, who has the reputation of not knowing what fear is, said: "If Desha Breckinridge and his friends intend to exterminate all those who worked how sore they are. They may just as well take their medicine."

Livingston is a man of about 30 years of age and was a strong Owens man, and worked night and day for the victorious He is from New York city, and it is said he belonged to Tammany. While his wound was being dressed he said: "I took Desha's abuse and made no attempt to resent it until he called me liar. Then I had to hit him. I think I saved myself from a fatal stab by grabbing his knife." Judge Kinkead is about 42 years of age. He has always been considered a man of the highest physical courage, and every-body expects that more blood will be shed before this trouble is over.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22.-Ex-Mayor Gard ner of this city, who was a member of the Greenland excursion party, returned yes terday. He says the affair was misrepre sented and mismanaged in every particu lar by Dr. Cook.

The Miranda had only arrived in New York harbor, with a load of coffee from South America, three days before she sailed for Greenland, and was entirely unfit and unprepared to make the trip. The captain protested vigorously against taking the vessel north, but all to no purpose Continuing, Mr. Gardner charged Dr. Cook with sending out alluring circulars when getting up the party which proved to be most deceiving, and that the exsursion was simply run for pecuniary benefit to the promoter. The ex-mayor alleges that while the excursion started out with the intention of remaining north two months, enough provisions were only taken to last two-thirds of that time, and the party was soon put on short rations, or two meals a day.

for by the fact that, so far as received, the details of the engagements seem to deal such a blow to the most cherished theories of naval experts that the naval officers are rather inclined to doubt their accuracy, or have not sufficiently recovered from the shock to their established beliefs to be able to face the facts and adapt their ideas

The truth is that there has never before been a decisive engagement between hos-tile fleets of modern war vessels on the scale of the battle of Yalu. There have been sea fights between some of the South American nations, and fights between forts and ships, as at Alexandria and Rio, but owing to the wide difference in conditions they demonstrated nothing. Had Been Building on Theory. Naval experts have longed for just such an engagement as this, realizing perfectly the need of guiding facts. After the epoch-making engagement between the Monitor and the Merrimac in Hampton Roads every maritime nation began to build, first iron and then steel ships, and to pile on armor until they arrived at those great floating steel fortresses, exem plifled by the Royal Sovereign, Victoria and Camperdown in Great Britain, the

THE DAILY LEDGER.

This enterprising little sheet deserves encouragement and success, and anything 'June" can do to help it along will be a pleasure. I have always been pleased at the courage of its editor in trying so hard to make a daily paper pay in a city so near Boston, and am glad to furnish an occasional article for the parent PATRIOT, especially when I find the LEDGER ready to Kelley. assist in bringing such to the attention of the people. However, I am sorry to be obliged to differ most emphatically from James P. Brogan. the LEDGER'S financial views for Quincy and its percentage theories in its criticism of my article on "Greater Boston." I prefer to deal in actual quantities when comparing gains of population and from the figures furnished me by the LEDGER itself I find that Boston has gained 58,000 Rooney, James A. White, William T. Shea, while Quincy has gained 4,500, and that Thomas J. Foley. Boston's gain in five years is equal to three cities the size of Quincy, though the latter has been struggling for twenty years to McDonnell. gain only 7,000 in population. I might carry this line of argument to a great length, for I have studied it carefully, but H. Callahan, Thomas H. Neil. do not care to do so just now, but only wish to set the people thinking of a subject which in the near future they will be called upon to decide for themselves.

The LEDGER's article attempting to make Mayor Hodges responsible to a large degree for the high tax rate, I think is hardly fair, and it has often seemed to me that in many quarters the attempt has been made of late to blind the people to the fact that the present state of affairs is due almost entirely to previous administrations and not to the present one. YOUR HOUSE WANTED HOW THE PUBLIC IS IMPOSED UPON

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

By J. H. WEBB. For The Sake of Profit They Will Sacrifice Principle, Health, Etc.

> Unscrupulous dealers are trying to sell ordinary Glauber Salt or a mixture of Seidlitz Powder as "Artificial Carlsbad Salt," "Sprudel Salt," "German Salt" or "Improved Carlsbad Salt," and under other similar names. The Natural Remedies of Carlsbad can not be imitated. "What Nature makes, man can not im prove upon." Artificial made wines will never replace the natural juice of the grapes. Neither can the natural waters of Carlsbad nor the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt be replaced by the cheap substitutes offered to a guileless public for the sake of the larger profit made thereon, by these unscrupulous

No one would buy artificial wines knowingly. Why buy the imitation of the Carlsbad products, when your health is at stake? The Carlsbad Sprudel Waters are a specific for all diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and have been used with great benefit by hundreds of thousands of people. The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, which is evaporated from the Sprudel Water at Carlsbad, is an excellent Aperient, Laxative and Diaretic; is an alterative and eliminative remedy, which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation, and removes obstruction by aiding nature, and not by sudden and excessive irritation, as most cathartics do. Use the imported Carlsbad waters, or if it is not convenient to use the waters, or when a more decided laxative effect is desired, use the Carlsbad Sprudel

Insist upon the genuine, which is imported direct from Carlsbad, and must have the signature of Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents for the U.S., 152 & 154 Franklin St., New York, on every bottle.

But the Aggregate of Trade Shows a Slight Improvement.

A Decline Noted In the Price of Breadstuffs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Plenty of material for encouragement and also for discouragement can be found by those who seek that and nothing else. But 6 pence to four shillings a bushel, and tion exactly as it is find accounts so far conflicting that it is difficult to strike a give a fair return if the British farmers

Weier, the well-known arthave not been exhausted there is obvious improvement, and in some the business is not only larger than last year, but larger than two years ago. In others the exhaustion of the temporary demand has brought than was expected and because the remaining demand appears uncomfortably falls about 25 per cent below a full volume for the season.

Failures in two weeks of September show liabilities of $2,867,764, of which $969,716 were of manufacturing, and $1,796, 048 of trading concerns. Failures during the week have been 212 in the United States, against 321 last year, and in Canada 48, against 40 last year.

Manufacturing Industries. The iron business, after its increase of output last month, shows disappointing weakness at all eastern and central mar kets. In the minor metals speculation has advanced both tin and copper a little but without evidence of increasing co In boots and shoes the demand contin ues large, with many sales from stocks and orders for quick delivery, and other indications that replenishment of stock is not yet completed. Shipments from Boston in three weeks in September have been 252,123 cases, against 166,869 last year, and 240,289 in 1892, but the demand is nainly for low-priced goods. In textile fabrics there has been a dis tinct decrease in trade, as dealers are wait ing for further declines. The lull in trade may be only temporary, but is felt more as it follows the crowding of orders for sev eral months into a few weeks. The strikes at Fall River and New Bedford have not ceased, and about a dozen additional cotto mills have gone into operation elsewhere

Some Without Reduced Wages. Cotton also declined, and for Septembe delivery the price is the lowest on record for many years. The demand for woolen dress goods i

THE FRUIT CONTROVERSY

Brings Forth the Opinions of Eminer Men In England. LONDON, Sept. 22.-The controversy upon the question of English fruit is growing largely. It was stirred up by the recent invasion of California fruit and by Mr. Gladstone's recommendation to the small British farmers to give up growing THE MANUFACTURING OUTLOOK. wheat, etc., and to take to fruit growing. In this connection Richard D. Black more, the novelist, who for 40 years in been a large fruit grower upon his model farm in Surrey, has written a letter to The Times' in which he says to at it is imposs ble at the present wholesar prices of Eng lish fruit to make a fair profit. He adds that the most magnificent grapes fetch 2 shillings a pound on an average and that fine peaches bring 2 shillings a dozen. He quotes plums at 1 shilling t business men who want to see the situal says they are scarcely saleable at any price. only had them. In the face of these facts, In those departments of industry and trade in which the deferred business and it would be a cruel deception to talk of

W. N. White of Covent Garden market, in a column letter, declares that trouble disappointment, because it was smaller is the fact that the bulk of English fruit trees are maggoty, while in America the fruit grower destroys the moth by washlight. In the aggregate, business is about ing the trees. Up to a fortnight ago, Mr. e-tenth larger than last year, but still White continues, 4 shillings was the top price for the best English pears. He adds that at the same time he was selling 40pound cans of California pears at 10 shil-

The Times, commenting upon the subject, remarks: "Foreign competition i increasing, and must be expected to increase. Covent Garden prefers the finest foreign fruit to home-grown fruit, and we suppose it follows the public taste."

Finally Tabled.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—The subject of expelling the members of the American Protective association from the trades and labor unions of this city is creating con siderable excitement in labor circles. The Bricklayers' union at a meeting considered the question of expelling the mem bers of that organization belonging to the A. P. A. After a heated discussion the matter was tabled.

Indians Making Trouble.

WOODWARD, O. T., Sept. 22.—The settlers Cool in this vicinity are moving their effects into town, and the citizens are arming. Thursday the Indians drove off several hundred cattle belonging to the cattle men. They were intercepted by the cowboys. The Indians opened fire, at the same time retreating. One Indian and one cowboy were killed before the Indians

Oak escaped.

Mills Will Remain Idle. FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 22.-The manufacturers of this city are evidently all of a mind. Several were seen yesterday, and every one said that they did not propose to start the mills at the old rates of wag s unless the market went to 31/4 cents, and they were convinced that the demand was strong enough so as to take care of the product at 3 cents.

A Fruitless Voyage. GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 22.-Schooner Henri N. Woods sailed two months ago on Parlo a herring trip to Newfoundland, and returned yesterday without procuring a cargo. Mate Macdonald reports that Captain Hu. ler left the vessel at Port Man toun with $500 belonging to the owners.

Tell the Story of a Cyclone Which Swept Over Iowa.

WHOLE FAMILIES BLOWN ABOUT.

The Worst of the Disaster Is Not Yet Known.

ALGONA, Ia., Sept. 24.-A terrifle cylone passed over this section at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Many ruined houses and several deaths tell its sad results. Yesterday was a day of sorrow for Kos suth county. Nineteen funerals were held and others will come today. Professor Lilly came in from Gardner and reports 13 dead in Ellen township, 12 near Manley and 16 north of Britt. Coffins for the dead are piled up at every station, and scenes of the wildest grief are The opera house was packed with peo-ple to witness a popular play and a panic was almost occasioned by the warring

Robert Stevenson, living about four miles north of Whittemore, was the first victim. He was fatally injured. His grove looked as though it had been mowed down by a scythe. Calvin Barrick's house was made into kindling wood.

The force of the wind was such that barbed wire was stripped from the posts. At George Holman's the roof of his hous went, leaving the walls standing, and the whole family was carried up from between the walls and blown about 30 yards away, one of the children being killed.

Fearful Fury of the Wind. M. W. Furgeson's family was carried ome distance through the air and all but one landed in a willow hedge. The baby went a little farther and was found seated on a piece of the roof. The wife of Swan Peterson had her skull cut open in two places, and some exposed parts of her head were literally packed with sand, plaster, hair and grass.

Particulars are coming in all the time which indicate that half of the terrors of the cyclone have not been told. The scene of desolation was visited yesterday by great crowds, every available conveyance being chartered. The devastation of property will not be less than $100,000. Most of the farmers are well to do, with snug bank accounts, and others were wealthy, but numbers of the victims, who were renters, lost everything, some of them even losing their families. The permanently crippled will make a long and sorrowful list. The wires are down and news is hard to get or send.

Lawyer Acted as Detective.

Boston, Sept. 24.—As a result of the doings of the Democratic caucus in ward 19 last Friday, Mark H. Lynch, John Mulhern, Eugene A. Dowd and Edward B. Hickey were arrested yesterday on a warrant, charged with violating the election laws, on the complaint of Lawyer Timothy Coakley. These men were officers behind the rail, and it is claimed by Mr. Coakley, who was on the roof and had an unobstructed view of all that was done, that the ballots were marked and remarked after they were taken from the box; that whole bundles of ballots were taken into an adjoining room, and stickers bearing the name of John Mulhern were placed over the name of Dennis Rush, who had originally been voted for.

Czar Is Unhappy.

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Telegrams received weak. His condition is kept secret. According to Polish sources, the czar is men-tally depressed by family troubles. The ezarewitch, it is added, is unhappy about his approaching marriage to Princess Alix of Hesse and talks of renouncing his right to the throne. It is reported that Grand Duke George, the successor to the czar, has been summoned to St. Peters-

President and Mrs. Cleveland welcomed him cordially at the south veranda, as the day was pleasant and warm. No matters of national importance were discussed, and the time was spent in a purely social way.

Crispi Criticised.

PARIS, Sept. 24.-In an article referring to the changes it is reported are to be made in the Italian ambassadors at London, Paris and Berlin, The Matin accuses Premier Crispi with designs upon Tripoli to divert attention from Italy's financial troubles. The Matin adds that the check to these designs received from Great Britain, Germany and France explains Signor Crispi's resentment toward the ambassadors at the capitals of those

SOUTH NEWMARKET, N. H., Sept. 24 .-By the careless knocking over of a lamp in the livery stable of J. C. Hanson on Main street at 1:30 o'clock this morning, the entire town is in danger of being destroyed by fire. The livery stable, a two-story frame structure, burned like tinder, and at 2 o'clock the flames had spread to the three adjoining residences on Main street, the first two being occupied by J. W. Flato and S. C. Badger. The occupants had scarcely time to throw on a few articles of clothing and escape. They saved nothing else.

VACHTING SATURDAY.

Championship of Squantum Club and Sail-off in Ouiney Club.

But little interest was manifested in the championship race of the Squantum yacht club held Saturday afternoon, from the fact that the championship had been settled in all but two classes, the first and econd class sloops.

In the first the Agilis and Gretchen each had secured a leg but for some reason the Gretchen did not put in an appearance and the Agilis refused to sail alone, although she could have done so and secured the championship.

In the second class the Eva and Starlight each held a leg and they were the only boats to put in an appearance.

The race was down to start at 3 o'clock but as usual it was half an hour later before the first gun was fired and the boats made ready.

When the second gun was given the Eva was right at the line and crossed with in South Boston. a lead of about 15 seconds. This lead she held on the outward run increasing it considerable. When the boats turned for rather than percentages in comparing the the home stretch the Eva had a lead of growth of Quincy and Boston. She says over two minutes and as the wind and tide that while Quincy has gained 4,500 in five were against them they had to beat home years, Boston gained 58,000, and therefore which consumed considerable time. The argues that Boston is gaining ever so Eva however, held her lead and finished much faster. Would it not be just as with about 3 minutes to spare thus winning the championship.

WOMEN MUST SLEEP.

SO SAYS MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Serious Results of Sleeplessness, and the Way to Avoid It.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY BEADERS.] If you are dangerously sick, what is the first duty of your physician? He quiets the frightened nervous system, he deadens the pain, and you sleep well. Men fall by the wayside, victims of over-strained mental activity. Friends ask, "What is it?" and the answer comes in pitying tones, nervous pros tration. Thousands of women tremble on the brink of the same precipice.

A little more pressure; some sudden grief, real or even imagined unkindness from loved ones, and over the brink fall one more victim of nervous prostration. It came upon you so quietly, in the beginning, that you were not alarmed. But when sleep deserted you night after night, antil your eyes fairly burned the darkness, then you tossed in nervous agony, praying

Unarmored Cruisers Said to Be Inferior to Big Battleships.

TWO ALLEGED JAPANESE SPIES

Have Created a Big Stir In Shanghai Foreign Circles.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.-Few of the ordnance officers of the navy are reported to accept the engagement between the Japanese and the Chinese at the Yalu river as a demonstration of the superiority of the fleet of unarmored cruisers over heavily protected but moderate speed

This is natural, in view of the fact that for many years the officers in this branch of the service have devoted their ingenuity to the development of the passively resistant quality of ships, holding that design best which should carry the heaviest armor. Thus they created the great battleship, and now they stand prepared to defend her.

One of the most distinguished of ordnance officers, in his record of work accomplished, a man who has had much to do with designing the guns and armor for our modern ships, speaking upon the sub-ject of the Yalu fight, was inclined to be skeptical as to the defeat of the Chinese battleships. Said he: "We are still in the dark as to the details of the battle, but I will venture the assertion now that not one of the Chinese battleships was seri-ously injured, and that their loss was confined to cruisers or only partially protected

"And even the best of the Chinese battle ships is not a first class vessel. The Chen Yuen is a second rate ship, about like our Maine or Texas. But as it was, there was one reason, though that is a very good one, why the battleships did not speedily destroy all of the Japanese fleet, and that reason is the immense superiority of the Japanese personnel. The Japanese themselves fully understood the value of bat tleships and have been making strenuous efforts to buy the Capitan Prat, the new rmored vessel built in Europe for Chili. Speed a Secondary Consideration.

"A good deal of nonsense has been said and written about the value of high speed unarmored cruisers, mainly by the private builders, who are after the big premiums paid for speed. I would rank excessive speed about tenth in the list of valuable qualities for a warship. About the only advantage it offers is the opportunity a vessel has to decline an engagement. will not help, even to run away, after she is once in action, for the difference between the 15 knots of a battleship and the 20 knots of a cruiser is not enough to save the latter. Then after once coming within fighting distance she could not choose her position, and she would have to move whenever the heavy ship came up. "When the explosive shell was brought ont the Crimean naval warfare was revolutionized. We have percussion shells now we can explode with certainty that will almost tear a cruiser to pieces. But these shells will not penetrate the armored side of a battleship. The only projectile that does that is the armor piece, and that, while partly hollow, is never charged with explosive. An expert naval commander of one of the battleships can meet at once and destroy half a dozen cruisers and come out of the fight without serious injury, else my opinion is at fault."

two countries. The accounts say: By arrangement between Japan and England, supplementary to the new treaty, the former government proposed that the judicial codes of the empire shall against this change of front. His party, be put into effect and full operation be- he declares, will refuse to accept any comfore the treaty is made practically effect- promise. ive. It is also agreed that the provisions of the second article in the treaty relating to military service shall apply to British Japanese courts were opened Sept. 14, the highest at Tokio under the presidency of Viscount Kawise, late minister to England; the other at Sasaho, a naval station near Nagasaki, under the presidency of Judge Hitomim, chief of the Nagasaki court of appeals.

Stirred Up Ill Feeling. The case of two alleged Japanese spies who have been given up by the United States consul general at Shanghai to almost certain death at the hands of the Chinese, attracts much attention and no little ill feeling among Americans and Europeans in China.

The two young men had been some time pursuing their studies in Shanghai, and, like the majority of the Japanese residents, were in the habit of wearing Chinese dress. With the idea of serving their country in has returned with the captain and crew. some indefinite way, they undertook at The Nerito had to be abandoned. She is the outbreak of war to collect information which they thought would be valuable to their government. What they gave to their government has not transpired, but it is charged they made drawings of defenses, and in consequence of which they were arrested by native officers in the French quarter of the settlement.

Upon the Japanese consulate closing, it was rumored all Japanese remaining in the country should look to local repreentatives of the United States for such aid and advice as could be unofficially vouchsafed. Explanations were given that absolute protection could not be extended, but in order that something might be done to rescue the young men from their perilous position they were handed over from the French consul to the American consul general, in spite of the protests and de mands of the Chinese government, which insisted upon their surrender.

Instructions Were Peremptory. Mr. Jerningham, consul general, soon discovered the suspected men had no connection with the Japanese authorities, and they acted wholly upon their responsibilities. It is understood that after due investigation he was disposed to ship them to Japan, but on reporting the incident to Washington he received peremptory instructions to deliver them to Chinese custody. The Thunderer's Views. A dispatch from London states that The Times this morning publishes a leading article in which it says that Japan has already effected enough to convince intelli-gent men the world over that henceforth they must reckon with a new power in the far East. Ping-Yang and Yalu have opened the eyes of all not willfully indifferent or blind that a new state has taken her rank in the hierarchy of nations, and that her voice can no longer be ignored in their

The Noveo Vremia, The Times adds, reminds us that Russia still hankers for the possession of a secure open harbor on the Pacific. Such a possession would be a great menace to both England and Japan, who are likely to be found standing side by side on some important points should the powers intervene in the present dis-

In another article, discussing the war, The Times calculates that the Japanese will certainly reach Wi-Ju from Ping-Yang at the end of this week, and that they will meet the Chinese troops that were landed on the Corean bank of the Yalu river by Admiral Ting. It is not clear, The Times adds, whether the Chinese transports had time to disembark their stores. At any rate, the condition of the Chinese columns must be precarious and there seems to be nothing to prevent a Japanese squadron from revisiting the mouth of the Yalu and destroying any Chinese transports that remain there. Would Facilitate Matters.

Further, it would be easy for the Japanese to move troops by sea from Ping-Yang to the Yalu and to shift their base of operations further north, thus supplying re-enforcements to the column marching northward from Ping-Yang. This is almost certain to be done if an advance into Manchuria is intended.

With regard to an attack upon Mukden The Times says the Japanese cannot over-look the fact that apart from its presumed sanctity it is a position of little military value. It is not the shortest or the best route to Pekin. If the naval situation permits the free use of the Yalu river as a base it will equally allow a far nearer port of disembarkation

On the whole, difficulties and uncertainties may still deter the Japanese commander from embarking upon such an adventure. The pacification and administration of Corea would of themselves absorb the energies of a large military force during the winter.

A BOOM FOR WHITNEY

Ex-Secretary of the Navy May Be Nominated For Governor.

TAMMANYITES SOLID FOR HIM.

Judge Caynor Positively Declines a Nomination.

SARATOGA, Sept. 25 .- The Democratic state convention met in the convention hall at noon today and Senator Hill made his address as the temporary chairman of the meeting. Committees were appointed on credentials, permanent organization and platform, and the convention took a recess until tomorrow noon, when it will meet at the old skating rink where the convention that nominated Flower met in 1891. No nominations will be made today.

There is not a man versed in the ways of conventions of political parties that ever saw a situation like that which confronts the convention. The predicament is explained in a very few words by Lieutenant Sovernor Sheehan. He said: not a man or politician here that knows who the nominee of the party will be until the convention meets. It is anybody or any faction's candidate, and the conver tion will be a Democratic one in every

The Tammanvites will come as one man for William C. Whitney. There is one significant fact in all this startling boom for Whitney, and that is that Mayor Whitney during the past month, has nothing to say when asked as to the candidacy of the man, but smiles and says: "Wait until he comes and he will talk for

The platform, as drawn up, contains a very great many planks that will probably be subject to revision, but as a whole, it will not be changed except as to the way in which it will read. It renews its pledges of fidelity to principles of Democracy and affirms the planks of the national platform of 1892. It party spent the summer making an ex- clothing, personal adornments and musiarraigns the Republican party in the state for attempting to deceive the people by pretending to cut down the state tax rate, when in effect it put over the payment of appropriations made by the legislature until the next year, for purely campaign

The work of the constitutional conven tion is criticised as partisan, and tending to burden the people with unnecessary ad ditional expenses. It alleges that the purely reform measures, such as the foresting article, the charities article, the prison labor and canal articles, were passed by Democratic votes, but that the majority turned the convention into a political body by attempting to make a normally Demo cratic state Republican. It says that no home rule has been arranged for cities, and that the country districts have been favored as against the cities of the state. On the tariff it declares that there should be no more general tariff legislation for years, but that if there be any necessity it should be by special act and then only when necessary to remove duty on raw materials. The income tax is entirely

Relating to canals, it declares for extensive improvements by bonding the state so as to allow the state to compete with Canada in the transportation of grain and

It denounces the principles of the Amer ican Protective association as un-American and in violation of the constitution, which provides for equality regardless of religion. It endorses the administration of Governor Flower at Albany and Senator Hill at Washington.

Hill In the Dark.

Senator Hill arrived late yesterday afternoon and opened headquarters at the Grand Union hotel. From the time of his arrival until a late hour of the night he was besieged by crowds of delegates. He said: "I received word that I was to be the temporary chairman of the conven-tion today. I know nothing about who is the most prominent candidate and I have no opinion to express as to who will be the nominee of the convention."

Later he was shown a dispatch concern-ing the declination of Judge Gaynor, and he said, laconically: "It seems that the proper thing is to refuse to be a candidate."

Tammany's braves struck the village about 4:30 yesterday afternoon. Three sections of a special train, each containing Several of their delegates were seen in strength, and every man favors William C. Whitney. When asked as to the Flower boom, which started in a mild way and increased with no little encourage ment, they seemed to be unaning enough, but expressed little hope of his re-tracting his withdrawal.

Gaynor Not a Candidate Mirabeau Lamar Towns of Kings county received a telegram from Mr. Gaynor refusing to accept the nomination. It reads

"I was elected justice of the suprem court last fall in a district comprising nine counties and one-fourth of the population of the state. The office came to me not from those in power, but from the people, and unsought. I was not able to see then that I was entitled to anything merely for having done what I could as a private citizen for honesty, decency and manliness in politics and in government, nor am I able to now.

"Anyhow, I cannot at this time lay down the office I hold. I could disregard the effect upon those dependent on me in the loss of the legal practice I gave up to go on the bench, and again in the loss of my present handsome salary, but I cannot again so soon appeal to the splendid in-dividual integrity and intelligence which stood behind the ballots cast for me last

"I have said all along, privately and publicly, orally and in writing, that I should not become a candidate for gov-ernor, and the above is my chiefest reason. As I am without a representative at Saratoga, and very busy here, I ask you to make this public. I am deeply moved by the favor shown me and never expected it.' For lieutenant governor, the name most prominently mentioned is that of Frederick Cook, who, it is said, will accept the place under Mr. Whitney, but under no-body else. If any other name is presented to the convention and nominated, then the nominee will be ex-Senator Linson of Uls-For judge of the court of appeals Spencer Clinton of Buffalo has the call, but D. Cady Herrick of Albany is mentioned as a very probable candidate.

WILL FORCE MATTERS

Japan Will Bring the War to a Finish Before November.

CHINA WILL OFFER REPARATION

For Acts of Violence Committed Against Foreigners.

LONDON, Sept. 25 -A reporter had an interview yesterday with M. Myabara, a Japanese naval constructor, who is here supervising the building of two first-class men-of-war for Japan. Each of the vessels is to be of 12,300 tons, and is to be com pleted in four years.

M. Myabara dwelt at length upon the sudden volte-face of English opinion in favor of Japan since her successes in Corea. He said the Yalu battle had by no means disturbed his faith in the vast 1m portance of big armored battleships Cruisers, of course, were of undoubted value, but big ironclads were the grea determining factor, and that was when China had an advantage over Japan. M Myabara said it made him fret to think that the two ironclads now being buil were not commenced six years ago.

With regard to the campaign, he though that everything pointed in a Japanese march toward Pekin. Beyond that he was not inclined to say much. Personally he believed that the war would terminat before winter.

"You may depend upon it," he tinued, "that Japan will force matters to a finish before November, when the gulfs of Pe-Chi-Li and Liau-Tong are frozen over. You will probably soon hear of a great battle on the Yalu.

"The Japanese are good marchers, and therefore we may soon expect something important. In the meantime there may minor fights on the march, of which you will hear nothing, because during the intervals of marching on an important sition not a paragraph concerning the novements of the troops will be allowed to be telegraphed.

Next time you go to a party, watch some of the women as they stand under the chandeliers. Notice how a light shining from above brings out unsuspected lines and angles in all but the youngest and freshest faces. It is a severe test of beauty.

Perhaps you will wonder at the number of thin, lanky women. They all want to be plump. Why are they not? They get enough to eat, surely. Oh, yes, but they don't digest their food, and there's no fire without consumption of fuel. A pre-digested food called Paskola is welcomed by these women. They find in it flesh forming properties.

They are told that it is nourishment, not medicine, and that its good effects are lasting. Such letters as this one tells the story: "Gentlemen—For the past five years I have suffered from gastric indigestion and have trad all so-called remedies for indigestion, besides courses of treatment from physicians all over the country, from which I received only temporary relief. My symptoms were heart-burn flushes of heat, dizziness blocked feeling effects the state of the state ness, bloated feeling after eating depression of spirits, severe and accute attacks of cramps and inflammation and chronic con-

After taking one small bottle of Paskola, I felt better, very much better. I have now taken only seven small bottles, and have never felt better in my life. I have gained ten pounds and now eat anything my appetite craves. All my friends say, 'Why how fat and well you look; what have you been doing?' My you look; what have you been doing?' My answer is always, 'Paskola.' A friend of mine has taken only three small bottles and says she feels like a new woman. This may seem rather fulsome praise, but I conscientiously feel that I cannot say too much in praise of Paskola. Yours respectfully,

> While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines 57 Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He 91 took such a severe cold that he could hardly 461 talk or navigate, but the prompt use of 6031 Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of 883 his cold so quickly that others at the hotel 224 who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. ARSAPANTHE

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. F. MERRILL, the wonderful specialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all cutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a remarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous alcohol, and all injurious ingredients. DR. H. F. MERRILL. PROF. W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., author of "New Thera peutical Agents", the standard text book of the newer materia medica, Consulting Chemist and Therapeutist, one of the most widely known men among the medical profession gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement: "Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me therapeutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that of mercury, less the faults of that drug; for, has not Pereira said, "A perfect mercury would be a perfect

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for in-tions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of man-kind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and n official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-cised in choosing a competent and skilful business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all ployed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. Warm Week With Enough Rain to Break the Drought.

FARM WORK IS WELL ADVANCED.

Apple Picking Begun, With Promise of Good Crops.

Boston, Sept. 25.-The summary of the weather and crop conditions in New England for the week just passed, as given by the New England weather service bureau, is as follows:

The weather for the week has been warmer than usual at this season of the year, with favorable harvesting weather and with an abundance of rain in all New England. Wells have filled, the among Catholics is no longer to be thought streams in pastures are full and grass is of and the Catholic university is but a prestarting well.

New England's Rainfall.

The following is the rainfall for the week at each station, expressed in inches and hundredths: Eastport, Me., 0.55; Portland, Me., 1.47; Brookline, N. H., 1.11; Alstead, N. H., 0.92; West Milan, N. H., 1.24; Stratford, N. H., 0.56; Northfield, Vt., 1.28; Hartland, Vt., 2.20; Amesbury, Mass., 1.95; Ipswich, Mass., 1.19; Boston 1.58; Nantucket, Mass., 0.20; Block Island R. I., 1.14; Kingston, R. I., 2.53; South Manchester, Conn., 1.71; New London, Conn., 1.35; New Britain, Conn., 4.37; West Simsbury, Conn., 4.64; Westville, Conn., 5.54; Greenfield Hill, Conn., 3.58; Hawleyville, Conn., 3.50.

Fine Harvesting Weather.

Harvesting is going on rapidly in Maine with generally favorable weather. The rain was heavy in all central and southern sections and the ground is now plenty wet enough for fall plowing. A good crop of sweet corn has been harvested and the field corn is very good. The root crop is doing finely. Grass is looking well and there is an abundance of fall feed. Apples vill be a light crop in Penobscot county.

Reseeding Necessary In Some Places. There was a comparatively small amount of rain in the northern part of New Hamp-Nurst with vain hope and fed with doubtful shire during the week. Grass is starting slowly and the springs and streams are filling up slowly, but in southern sections the ground is well filled with water, and grass in fields and pastures is starting inely, except the new seedings that were killed by drought. Much reseeding will have to be done. Apple picking has be Much fruit was blown off during the storm of the 19th and 20th. In Cheshire county there are few apples in the valleys. Sullivan county there seems to be elenty of fall fruit, but the Baldwins are Corn harvesting is well under way, with a good crop. Beans are very good and ripe.

Ground Never Plowed Better. Much plowing is being done in Verme and correspondents say that the ground never plowed better. The wind and rain during the storm beat off a good many apples, but generally this fruit is pro ounced very promising.

In Orange county the corresponden states that apples are plenty on the hills, but in the valleys and for 150 feet up they are scarce; this is probably true in many owns in this state and in New Hampshire. Beans have ripened well, are mostly Washington, and the commission will oulled, and are pronounced an extra cro Feed is good. The potato rot is at a minimum in southern counties.

Farm Work Well Advanced.

The fine weather has been favorable for farm work, and in Massachusetts it is troversy. well advanced for the season.

In parts of eastern Franklin county the states that no damage was done beyond gathering rowen, which is a light crop. grass on fields and pastures, but a correspondent in Hampden county states that he has examined grass lands and finds many roots dead. He thinks the crop for next year has been seriously affected. In that county much of last spring's seeding true in some other sections, but whether note. Forage crops and roots are growing very well. Apple picking is under way, and almost every correspondent reports good crop in prospect; they are generally of extra good color and quality. Quinces are good in Worcester county.

Rain Has Not Reached Wells. Although the rainfall in parts of Rhode Island, including that which fell on the 17th, was 3¼ inches, the correspondents re-port that wells have not felt its effects yet. The streams in pastures, however, have been filled, and all grass fields and pastures and newly seeded pieces hav een greatly helped. Late garden and forage crops are growing well. Applpicking has begun, and in Providence ounty the crop is estimated below average. The latter part of the week gave good weather for curing ccrn.

Rain Was Heavy.

In many places in southwestern Connecticut the rain of the 19th and 20th gave the greatest amount that has fallen in on storm for over a year. The rowen crop generally is pronounced a failure, but the pastures and meadows are green and growin very fast, and there will be plenty of fall feed. NEW YORK, Sept. 25 .- Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst fired another broadside at the Second Reformed Presbyterian church last night. He said: "The city of New York is at present the most phenomena in the world. The recent outbreak of crime is unparalleled. The spirit of anarchy is abroad. There is such a regard for all police regulations as should make us blush if we do not tremble. If Super intendent Byrnes were to step squarely to the front and say: 'I am going to take up the obligations that devolve upon me, and if I am interfered with I will make it known to the community.' I believe the response would be thrilling.'

Mrs. Peary Intends to Bring Back Her Husband.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—The steamer Falcon, with the Peary relief party and members of the expedition on board, docked at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the International Navigation com-pany's wharf in the lower portion of the city. Long before the vessel reached her moorings thousands of people had gathered on the wharves in the vicinity to welcome the little party of explorers. As soon as the Falcon was tied to the pier, Mrs. Peary with her baby, Marie Ahnetigo Peary, and a girl whom Mrs. Peary had brought with her from the Arctic regions, were escorted to a wagon coach and hurried to the Pennsylvania station, where she boarded a train for Washington, the home of her mother.

A reporter had a short interview with Mrs. Peary before she left the city. The brave little woman showed plainly by her manner that she is much chagrined because of her husband's determination to remain in the Arctic regions. She declares she is going north again next summer and bring him back to civilization

If She Has to Drag Him With Her. Mrs. Peary appeared in excellent health, and the baby, born amid icebergs, which is now a little more than 1 year old and a beautiful child, seems to be all the better for the rough life she has been compelled to the relief party, says the expedition was a grand success. "We made many valuable collections, the ethnological specimens be-ing very rare. I think we have the finest series of photographs of life and scenes in the Arctic country that were ever taken."

Commander Bryant, who had charge of

The party killed eight polar bears and have the skins with them on the Falcon. They also have the skeletons of all of these animals. In addition, they brought back about 50 Eskimo dogs. All of the party came on the Falcon except Dr. Ohlin, who left at Copenhagen, and Professor Chamberlain of Chicago and H. L.

Bridgman of Brooklyn, who went from St. John's to Toronto, where they of the men who was with Peary that several who came away would have remained with the explorer in the frozen north but for the scarcity of food.

When asked if it was true that the ex plorer and his party had been compelled to eat whale blubber the man declined to either confirm or deny the story. It is believed, however, that Peary is threatened with a lack of food that may become serious. The Falcon will load with coal and return immediately to St. John's.

Lieutenant Peary has transmitted to Professor Heilprin, president of the Geo-graphical club of Philadelphia, under whose auspices the expedition was sent, a formal report upon the scientific results ashore on the south side of the island, and of the expedition, which will be given to wreckage from other vessels is coming the public at an early date. In a brief communication addressed to Professor Heilprin, Lieutenant Peary says:

"Before this reaches you, you will have heard of the year's failure. I have not lost heart and shall try again and I believe I shall yet succeed." Mrs. Peary expects to return to Phila delphia in a few days to concert plans for raising money for an expedition next summer, and the Geographical society will

NO SIGNS OF YIELDING.

Fall River Strikers Beginning to Suffer For the Necessaries of Life.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 26.—The industrial situation is unchanged, unless it night be said that it is becoming more and more distressing. Each day adds more misery to the thousands of unemployed, who are literally being starved into submission. All the charitable institutions are being appealed to for aid, and the city store is being overrun with the great demand for supplies from the penniless poor.

The greatest distress seems to exist at the south end of the city. Here the operators of the King Philip mills have been out for nearly six months previous to the commencement of the lockout, and their ondition is indeed serious. Mayor Coughlin said yesterday that there had been more applications for aid made to him within the last three or four weeks than there had been during his whole four years in office. The manufacturers' association still refuses to break the ironclad agreement that binds its members. There are individual mill men who are willing and anxious to start up their mills under a compromise but are not able to do so without the sand tion of the association. The spinners will act independently in the matter and their action is awaited. The local secretaries are in communication with President Gompers of the fedtreet. eration of labor and are making arrange ments for relief from this source. The weekly strike pay of the spinners will be given out Friday.

TWENTY YEARS 57

OF ONE WOMAN'S LIFE 200 Spent With and For the Benefit of the Women of the World. 278 [SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS]

One woman's work has told for good in thousands of homes throughout the world. What a record of helpfulness! What happiness and comfort that work has brought to thousands of despairing women; what pains banished and how smooth the way was made for weary sufferers, no pen or tongue can ever tell. Lydia E. Pinkham gave the best of her 376 life to the women of the world, that 320 through her the suffering of her sex 104 might be relieved.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for in-ventions and improvements in ne arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of man-kind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor who being set of the American inventor, who, being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-

After a thorough examination by ourselves, and receiving the endorsement of some of the best dry goods houses in the New England states, and particularly from several houses who formerly carried Buttericks-who now carry the Standard-we are convinced that the "Standard Patterns" are far superior to all others-in being more up to date, better modeled, simpler directions for making-insuring perfect satisfaction, a great saving in time, much less fitting to do, and allowing just enough seams, thereby considerable saving in material-there being no waste as in others every pattern is modeled to the human form, and are so nicely proportioned that it is almost impossible to produce anything (if directions are followed, and which are extremely simple) but a beautiful fitting garment. LOCKWOOD GETS SECOND PLACE.

Judge Gaynor Nominated For Court of Appeals.

SARATOGA, Sept. 27 .- A scene such as no delegate at the state Democratic convention, which closed yesterday, ever witnessed before, took place in the Casino rink, when all mentioned candidates were forgotten and the advent of David B. Hill's name caused a stampede in his

Fifteen hundred people stood on their feet, yelling themselves hoarse, two bands of music tried to drown the tumult, and Senator David B. Hill pounded violently but ineffectually with his gavel in an attempt to restore order. It was a scene of disorder, but of enthusiasm. It was the strange situation of a presiding officer of a convention, evidently against his expressed desires, being forced to accept a unanimous nomination when other candidates had been presented and apparently accepted by the delegates.

Mr. Hill had finished his speech nominating John Boyd Thatcher. Delegates expected that nominations would be made by acclamation. Even Senator Hill himself, with the gavel in hand, had ordered the roll to be called, and breathed a sigh of relief, evidently believing the crisis had Excitement Reigned Supreme.

Then occurred one of the wildest scenes that could be imagined. Delegates jumped upon the chairs, spectators crowded into the aisles, and hats were thrown up, canes with ribbons waved wildly and men yelled themselves hoarse in cheer after cheer. Senator Hill grew pale with emotion, but in a hope that he would be able to stem the tide, pounded vigorously with the gavel and cried for or-

New York was reached and Senator Guy jumped to his feet. There were cries of "Platform," but he stood on a chair, and the delegates listened breathlessly. He placed Mr. Hill in nomination.

He had barely finished when the same scene that occurred when Hill's name was first mentioned was repeated. The delegates pushed down the aisles toward the front and threatened to invade the stage. Senator Hill said out of the din: "The rules of the assembly are in force here, and the rollcall should be allowed to proceed."

as the applause subsided somewhat, it was almost as immediately resumed when, jumping upon the press tables and from there to the stage, Bourke Cockran made an impassioned speech in favor of the nomination of Hill. When Mr. Cockran had finished, the scene that had preceded this was a mere nothing in comparison with the pandenonium that reigned for five minutes. Vainly did Senator Hill use the gavel and school question claimed the right of pacall upon the delegates for order. At the sound of his voice the applause took on ers.

Congressman Cockran evidently did not like the delay, for, springing to his feet, he said: "All who are in favor of the nomina tion by acclamation will say aye." Congressman Fellows sent up a reselution that the convention proceed at once to nominate a lieutenant governor. The delegates fell in with this suggestion at once, and Lieutenant Governor Sheehan obtained recognition from the chair, and placed in nomination Hon. Daniel Lock-wood of Buffalo, and moved his nomination by acclamation.

Senator Hill put the question, and the nomination was made by acclamation, a round of applause following. Gaynor Nominated.

During the excitement that followed, and while the applause was still being continued, James D. Bell of Kings county mounted the platform and nominated Judge William J. Gaynor of Kings county for the court of appeals, and moved that the nomination be made unanimous. There was applause when he finished, and the nomination was made by acclamation. READY TO DEDICATE.

The New and Pretty Methodist Church an Ornament to Atlantic.

The pretty new church of the Methodist society at Atlantic is completed, and is a house of worship of which the society and the ward may be proud. It has a commanding location and promises to be centrally located. With the rapid strides Atlantic is making the edifice may prove too small. However it will seat 300 and the vestry about 150. The auditorium is carpeted and the oak pews are expected in a few days. The furniture has also arrived for the ladies' parlor, the pastor's study, and the kitchen, and each room is well equipped. Ladies are at work this week putting things to right and are happy in their work.

The dedication will take place a week from next Thursday, Oct. 11. Afternoon and evening services will be held and these prominent clergymen have accepted invitations to assist: Rev. J. W. Hamilton, Rev. C. F. Godell.

make the statement that Sarsaparillas containing Iodide of Potassium are unsafe to use, excepting under the supervision of an experienced physician, and that their many cases they act as a DIRECT POISON, and cause serious trouble, defeating the object for which they are taken.

ALL THE LEADING SARSAPARILLAS were analyzed and found to contain this poisonous chemical in various quantities, EXCEPTING ALLEN'S, which was found entirely free from Iodide of Potassium or other chemicals, and to be purely vegetable, thereby verifying our claim that it is the "HONEST KIND." This is an unprejudiced statement made by the most scientific body of men

THE STORY OF AN EYE WITNESS

Of the Great Fight at the Mouth of the Yalu.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 27.-An eye witness gives the following account of the naval battle of Sept. 1: While eight Chinese warships were lying at the entrance to the flagship at the apex.

In consequence of this, half the Chinese vessels were rendered useless. The Japan-ese, in passing, opened fire upon the Chinese, who replied to the best of their ability. After the battle had been in progress for a short time, the Chinese fleet altered its formation. The Japanese fleet kept steaming in a circle around the Chi-

Suddenly the Japanese withheld their fire, but after a quarter of an hour had elapsed resumed the attack and poured a hot fire into the enemy. The Chinese Armstrong cruiser went out of line, contrary to orders, steamed alongside of one of the Japanese ships and sunk her.

The Chinese cruiser was sunk shortly afterward. About this time two Chinese warships, which had been on guard up the Yalu river, hearing the firing, joined the fleet and took part in the battle. This increased the number of Chinese ships engaged to 10.

A short time afterward another Chinese ship was sunk and two others ran ashore, caught fire and were abandoned. After six hours' fighting The Japanese Fleet Withdrew.

The Chinese ships followed them, but were unable to overtake them. It is presumed that the Japanese ships retired be cause they had become short of ammuni sides, and is generally in the same condi-tion as the Chih-Yuen. When the Ting-Yuan (the Chen-Yuen's sister ship) arrived at Port Arthur she was three feet down by the head.

It will require two months to make the necessary repairs to the Chinese fleet. One Japanese ship was certainly sunk, and two others were supposed to have gone to The maneuvering of the Japanese ships was excellent. All their signals were executed by flag and were promptly answered throughout the battle. The Chinese ships ad scarcely any ammunition left. Japanese warships are cruising on the Shang-Tung coast, presumably looking for Chinese transports and cruisers. Not Yet Beheaded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.-Dr. Thomas Tynan, the Modesto physician and capitalist, whom the courts have declared to be dead, and whose $200,000 estate has been distributed among his relatives, ar rived in San Francisco yesterday. He was met at the Oakland ferry by a number of his friends. He was pale and slightly emaciated, but appeared in full health.

He said he had been in Boston all the time since his strange disappearance, and that the reason for his sudden leaving over two years ago was to avoid the annoyance of litigation begun by his stepdaughter to recover property which they alleged be-

Insurance Company Settled. PROVIDENCE, Sept. 27.—The Farrell case was settled yesterday, when the Metropolitan Life Insurance company consented to pay the claim of Mrs. Catherine Farrell in full. The claim has been denied on the ground that Mrs. Farrell's son had died from poison administered by another person. Unsuccessful efforts had been made to have members of the family arrested.

Co-Operative Shops Now. Boston, Sept. 27.-Co-operative work shops are now in order with the striking garment workers. Six crews have made arrangements to open shops at once. A canvass of the clothing trade shows that the shops can obtain work, as the garment workers will not demand as high prices from the wholesalers as the contractor have demanded in their recent bill.

The conference was held behind closed loors and lasted several hours. At its conclusion, the members declined to state what had been decided upon, further than that it was not their intention to make answer to Mrs. Peary's statements at this time. The party has not yet disbanded, however, and a further consultation may be held.

W. T. Swain, who was one of the party and went out with Peary as his private secretary, said: "We are under no contract with Peary not to find fault with his management. The only agreement that exists was made by us on board ship while we were returning to Philadelphia. We then agreed that we would say nothing unless Mrs. Peary opened her lips. This I see she did yesterday. I consider myself at perfect liberty to speak. No Mincing of Words.

"As to my contract with Peary, it was broken by him repeatedly during the course of the expedition. He agreed that we were to be treated as gentlemen, for one thing. I can say that Lieutenant Peary himself certainly did not act as a gentleman among gentlemen. Mrs. Peary, I see, has something to say about the food. In Business In New York Under an Assumed Name.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 .- Captain Henry W. Howgate, formerly chief of the weather bureau in Washington, was arrested yesterday in this city on the charge of forgery and embezzlement of $370,000, committed in 1878 and 1879. The arrest is the result of a search which has occupied the attention of A. L. Drummond, formerly chief of the United States secret service, for over Howgate was arrested in 1880 in Washington, but escaped and has since baffled all efforts at recapture. The arrest then created a great deal of excitement and scandal at Washington, as it was charged that other officials high in the service of the government were also implicated in the charges of fraud and embezzlement.

Howgate has a daughter who lives at Newburyport, Mass. Howgate was 13 years ago an active, black-haired man in the prime of life. He is now 60 years old, bent and broken and with gray hair and

The story of Captain Henry W. Howgate's exposure, and of his relations with a woman, named Nettie Burrill, caused a remendous sensation at the time he was first arrested.

For several years he had led a double lomestic life in Washington. Only a few squares away from the home that contained his devoted wife and the daughter who was to cling to him so determinedly in the dark hours to come, he supported a woman in luxurious style.

Old Friends Deserted Him When the story of Howgate's dishonesty was followed by the discovery of his domestic duplicity, many of his old friends turned from him. At the jail he was treated with more consideration than ordinary malefactors. He was so utterly opposed to using the common bath tubs in the jail that his kindhearted guardians re-

District Attorney Birney said that there would be no trouble in having Howgate here to answer the several indictments amply secure, and no time whatever would be lost in pushing the cases pending against him.

There are just 11 indictments pending against the captured man, seven of them charging embezzlement, and the others October and November, 1881. Howgate was taken before Commiswas held in $10,000.

SIZED UP BY RUSSIA.

Foreign Intervention In Russia Would Greatly Benefit Civilization. St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The Novosti has published a most significant article referring to the war between China and Japan. During the course of this utterance, the newspaper says: The present time is favorable for European interven-tion in the war, and this intervention should aim at effectually restraining the warlike orders of the combatants. A check to their ambition could best be accomplished by a partition of China between Russia, Great Britain and France. This would be an act comparable with the conquest of America, or the partition of Africa, and would be of immense service to civilization, in which China has always been worse than useless and unworthy. Wonderful Birdlike Machine Constructed by Professor Lilienthal.

Can a man fly? Learned professors of the sciences of aeronautics agree that he carnot, and a formidable commission of experts appointed by the German government to investigate into the possibilities of aerial navigation have finally and decisively and officially said that It is impossible. Still an ingenious and observant German of the name of Otto Lilienthal, after a long series of experiments and in the face of the decisions of the eminent scientists, has succeeded in proving that a clever man can fly, and fly for considerable distances too.

Professor Lilienthal, like most men who have solved difficult problems, has gone clear away from the principles to When he decided to fly, in other words, he left the possibilities afforded by the balloon entirely out of his calculations. Balloons, said he, are crude affairs, dangerous, not to be depended upon, nondirigible and clumsy. There is nothing in nature built upon the principle of the balloon, yet there are things in nature which can fly, and fly much better than the best balloons. Those things are birds. To the birds, then, I will go for the model of my flying machine. And to the birds he went.

From these same birds it was that Professor Lilienthal learned the true principles of aerial navigation, which principles he has succeeded to a degree in adapting to the uses of man. He first learned that it is the concave shape of a bind's wing that enables it to soar, rising or falling at will without muscular exertion in the teeth of a high wind. Then he learned that a bird's wing The first illustrated lecture in the course | bones are constructed similarly to those more correct, his soaring machine. He amental rudder or tail.

He preserved in their construction as nearly as possible the form of a bird's wings and tail, increasing the parabolic curve of the bird's wings to the exact proportionate degree for his larger ones. These wings and the tail, weighing in all only 25 pounds, are so constructed as to fold up like the wings of a bat Having completed them, the professor adjusted them to his arms, took a run along a hilltop and calmly and confidently jumped over the side, spread ing his wings as he did so. He soared some distance and alighted in safety and comfort. He repeated his experiment many, many times, learning how to control his apparatus, how to change direction, how to rise or descend at will. He improved his wings and tail and kept on practicing until now he can forcible reminders that the cold winter is soar for several hundred yards, rise to a much greater height than he started that it is time to be thinking about getting from and fulfill most of the functions of that new stove you spoke about last spring. a big bird, save only that of propelling 2 himself in still air and starting his market. It is carried by C. W. Guy and flight from level ground. These two things a man is not strong enough to do, the bird possessing much greater strength for its size and weight than the most muscular man. But what Professor Lilienthal lacks in strength he has made up in ingenuity, for he has now constructed a little motor, operated by carbonic acid gas, which, while it adds scarcely anything to the weight of his lying apparatus, is capable of develop ing continuously two horsepower, or more than enough energy to work the wings. Indeed in the first trial the little motor developed too much strength and broke the wings, putting a stop to further experiments for the time. If Professor Lilienthal succeeds in perfecting the great invention, the practicability of which he has already demonstrated, and in making aerial navigation on the simple principles favored by the birds safe for mankind, he will have achieved a notable triumph over the wonderful forces of nature as well as the world's greatest scientists. And he seems very likely to succeed, unless he should grow careless in handling his experimental wings and perchance fall victim to the awful fate which overtook the lamented and legendary Icarus, the first man who attempted to fly.-Chicago Times.

THE BALLOON CYCLE.

The Latest French Army Means of Carrying

War Dispatches. There floated over the hamlet of Vil eneuve la Garenne the other afternoon in midair a balloon. Suddenly it appeared to burst and fell rapidly toward the earth. Fearing that a disaster had occurred, the terrified folk ran to the spot at which they expected the aerostat would reach the ground, when to their amazement they saw a parachute detach itself from the car and descend gently. Immediately the earth was touched one of the passengers jumped upon a small bicycle which he had brought with him from the aerial regions, and he disappeared in the direction of Levallois, in the neighborhood of Paris, as rapidly as the machine could carry him.

The explanation of this singular occurrence is simple. The balloon was the Caliban, and the ascent was made from Levallois by Captain Capazza and M. Hervieu, the latter being the cyclist. Their object was to test the possibility of a balloon being used for carrying war dispatches, and they assumed that an enemy succeeded in destroying it. Yet they proved that by means of the parachute they would be able to make good their escape and to outdistance their pur-Second Alarm,-Ten blows, followed by suers with the aid of the portable bicycle. - London Telegraph.

A TEST OF BEAUTY.

Only the Fairest and Freshest Faces can Stand It.

Next time you go to a party, watch some of the women as they stand under the chandeliers. Notice how a light shining from above brings out unsuspected lines and angles in all but the youngest and freshest faces. It is a severe test of beauty.

Perhaps you will wonder at the number of thin, lanky women. They all want to be plump. Why are they not? They get enough to eat, surely. Oh, yes, but they don't digest their food, and there's no fire without consumption of fuel. A pre-digested food called Paskola is welcomed by these women. They find in it flesh forming properties.

cramps and inflammation and chronic constipation."

"About two months ago I resolved to give Paskola a trial, although without any faith in lit, owing to my past experience with so-called remedies for indigestion. After taking one small bottle of Paskola, I felt better, very much better. I have now taken only seven small bottles, and have never felt better in my life. I have gained ten pounds and now eat anything my appetite craves. All my friends say, 'Why how fat and well you look; what have you been doing?' My answer is always, 'Paskola.' A friend of mine has taken only three small bottles and says she feels like a new woman. This may says she feels like a new woman. This may seem rather fulsome praise, but I conscien-tiously feel that I cannot say too much in praise of Paskola. Yours respectfully,

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in he arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of man-kind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert, and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appliventions and improvements in ne arts and attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice appli-cable to those who adopt the "No patent, ro pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE MOTHER COUNTRY BENEFITED

By the Recent Changes In Our Tariff Laws.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Congressman W.-L. Wilson of West Virginia was entertained at dinner at the Hotel Metropole last evening by the Chamber of Commerce of London. There were about 70 guests, and they included United States Secretary of Agriculture Morton and his two sons, Congressman Straus of New York and a number of other leading Americans and

After the toast to the queen had been drunk, the chairman proposed a toast to the President of the United States. He referred in eulogistic terms to America's former representatives in London-Lowell, Lincoln and Phelps-and to the present representative, Mr. Bayard, the mention f whose name was greeted with loud cheers. He extended a hearty welcome to the guests and to Secretary Morton as representing the American government. The toast was drunk standing, amid loud and prolonged cheering.

Proposing a toast to the guests, Sir Alpert Rollit said that Mr. Wilson's name had become honored and familiar in England. In honoring the guests, he said, they were honoring London, and its Chamber of Commerce asked them take oack with them a Message of Peace and Good Will. Nothing, he went on, could be worse han a war between the two great allies. That was why arbitration in the Alaama and Behring sea cases was acceptable to Great Britain. He was not sure that the worst wars of the future would not be tariff wars. If, as he hoped, the period of tariffs was beginning to end, both countries ought to honor Mr. Wilson. The new tariff might not have realized the aspiration of its promoters, but it had es-tablished a freer system of trade and subtituted a certainty for an uncertainty to he benefit of both countries.

Benefits had already been experienced England. Furnaces had been reopened n Wales and in Yorkshire, and an impetus had been given to the textile indusries. He again welcomed Mr. Wilson and Mr. Morton, whose names he had oupled in the toast. Mr. Wilson's Hearty Reception.

Mr. Wilson was greeted with cheers, which lasted for several minutes. The various points in his speech were also warmly cheered. He acknowledged the nor conferred upon him, recited the vents of the long struggle to overthrow protection, and concluded as follows: "We are being rapidly sobered, though the most uncertain and short-lived. "Your institutions are strong, because remises. I have hardly had time to think they are deeply rooted in the past. It is or you and for us to show that while ther nations have been great in war, comnerce, science, etc., we can be great in all, and also great in the greatness of peranent freedom. Replying to the toast to the Chamber of ommerce, United States Congressmen traus deplored the fact that the tariff was ever made a party question in the United States, and urged the formation as promptly as possible of an international agreement to settle the silver situation. Mr. Straus aspartment of state President Cleveland serted that the compliment paid to Mr. Wilson by the dinner tendered him by the London Chamber of Commerce would be contorted by the "protectionist press" into "a mark of the English sense of obligation at

Mr. Wilson's efforts in England's behalf." English Opinion on Hill's Nomination. hospital at 7:06 last evening.

From what could be learned, Fallon, who is a master painter, met Mitchell on Cambridge street, and they had a drink to gether. They afterward adjourned to the sidewalk, where, after a few minutes' conversation, Fallon struck Mitchell as he od near an electric light pole. Mitchell's head struck the pole, and on the rebound Fallon again struck him on the chin and he reeled over insensible. As soon as Fallon saw Mitchell was un-

As soon as raison saw interest was unconscious and bleeding from the mouth, he jumped on to a passing car and went to his home in Cambridge. Mitchell was placed on a team and taken to the Massachusetts hospital. Patrolman Gilmore immediately reported the matter to station 3, and three patrolmen located their man at his home and brought him to this city. On the way Fallon admitted striking Mitchell once, and made a boast that he had only to hit a man once, and said that he had once struck a man in England, and that he was dead now. Fallon says that Mitchell called him an unpleasant name and he drew off and hit him. Fallon was at first charged with assault, but it was afterwards charged to that of murder. What led to the cause of the quarrel cannot be ascertained, but Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the deceased, says that Fallor owes her husband a bill for wages, and that they were talking of it a few days ago, and she thinks that her husband, meeting Fallon on the street, had asked him for it and had been put off. The medical authorities at the hospital say that they had not made a thorough search, it being a case for the medical examiner, but that in all probability the cause of death was from a fractured skull.

HOWGATE CASE

May Lead to Some Highly Interesting Developments.

DRUMMOND'S CONNECTION WITH IT

To Be Looked Into by Administration Officials.

Drummond, who was chief of the United States secret service under the last ad Captain Howgate, he will be called upon by the treasury department to make some explanation in regard to certain features of his connection with the Howgate case left no record in the files of the bureau about the Howgate case when he severed his connection with the secret service. It is said at the treasury department that Drummond claimed to be working on the Howgate case in June, 1893. At that time the Cleveland administration, having been in power over three months, determined to displace Drummond, who was a Republican, and give his place to Mr. Hazen, a Democrat.

Drummond, it is alleged, reported to Secretary Carlisle that he was then engaged in efforts to capture Captain Howgate, and to displace him at this juncture would interfere with the apprehension of the fugitive. Upon this assurance, Secretary Carlisle deferred action, but after the lapse of eight months, with still no news of Howgate, the secretary concluded that he would make the change. Drummond's Resignation Was Then Handed In.

Soon after taking charge of the office Hazen had occasion to look up the Howgate case, but it is said he could find no records in the office relating to it. There is not a trace in the files of the department concerning the history of the department to capture Howgate.

Past Month Showed Great Improvement In Business.

THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS

Still Leads Others In Comparative Activity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Special inquiry has been made this week at all commercial centers regarding the state of retail trade. Wide diversity appears in different trades, and the details of business at the different cities merit general attention. The main facts dislosed are: First, a marked improvement within the past month, and a considerable excess over the business done a year ago, particularly in the necessities of life.

But, second, it appears that the volume of trade at present is on the whole considerably less than in a normal year at most points, and in the more important trades is apparently about 20 per cent smaller than in September, 1892.

Evidence of continued improvement in wholesale trade and manufacture does not appear this week. The completion of orders for replenishment of stocks leaves a narrower demand, and it is yet too early for consumption to provide further orders.

An Important Factor. The depression in prices of farm products will have some influence. Unpre-cedented records have been made in cotton and wheat, though as to wheat only in contracts for future delivery, in which the

"As to the discussion of the food, Mrs. Cross, my nurse, can settle the whole matter. She knows very well that Lieutenant Peary tried to obtain the proper rations.' "Were the men sent on these long trips without any preparation, as Swain alleges?" was asked.

"Well, I don't exactly know what is meant by preparation," replied Mrs. Peary. "About all the preparation they had to make was to hitch up the dogs and put on their furs. As to Mr. Swain's lameness, he had what is termed infantile paralysis. He was lame on that account and no other.'

Mrs. Lucy T. Whittey and Miss Albina prayer and sermon at 7 o'clock, Subject : M. Cain, delegates from the Braintree society, attended the Mass. Universalist State convention held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week at Plymouth. Mr. Geo. A. Arnold has just been notified that he has passed the Boston Teachers' examinations and will be granted the High School Class A. certificate. Mr. Arnold is now eligible to any Boston High school position. That education has taken a big step upward can be learned by the fact that an assistant teacher in chemistry and physics has been placed in the High school. None other than Master Harry Vinton, a graduate of the class of '94, Braintree High meeting Thursday evening. Come and school. Master Vinton is the youngest teacher in Braintree, but he can talk to his pupils in good shape.

Tomorrow is rally day at the First Congregational Sunday school.

ALLENS EXTRACT BILLA SARSAPAR THE SARSAPHONEST KIN

Receives the Highest Praise from the Best Physicians.

DR. H. F. MERRILL, the wonderful spec-ialist of Augusta, Maine, after giving it a thorough trial in his practice, writes the following convincing letter of praise: GENTLEMEN:-

I have of late been using some of your medicine in my practice with the most pleasing and satisfactory results. I find that it acts like a charm upon the whole nervous system, and in scrofula and all cutaneous diseases. Its curative properties are fully equal to the claims made for it, and I do not know of one instance where it has not fulfilled all its claims. In cases of General Debility and Nervous Prostration it has proved itself invaluable. It also gives quick relief in Dyspepsia and Canker of the stomach, and is a remarkable fine restorative remedy. It is a great pleasure to be able to recommend such a remedy, as the results following its use are so wonderfully satisfactory. One great thing in its favor is its freedom from superfluous alcohol, and all injurious ingredients.

PROF. W. H. MORSE, M. D., F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., author of "New Thera peutical Agents", the standard text book of the newer materia medica, Consulting Chemist and Therapeutist, one of the most widely known men among the medical profession gives it his highest endorsement, as testified by the following voluntary statement:

"Allen's Sarsaparilla commends itself to me therapeutically, chemically and clinically. Its therapeutical power, physilogical activity, and chemical purity, are all noteworthy; and the reason is to be found in the fact that it is true to its name, or honest, as the word goes. That is, it is vegetable alterative, and tonic. Perhaps the highest praise that may be given it is that its action represents that of mercury, less the faults of that drug; for, has not Pereira said, "A perfect mercury would be a perfect

Privately, it is learned that the Canton arsenal authorities are in a difficulty which may affect the whole war. China was to pursue a Fabian policy, and rely on her enormous wealth ultimately to crusl Japan. Both countries were surprised to find that neutrality laws prevented their buying warships in Europe. Orders were given to the various Chinese arsenals to build ships and make guns.

The Foo-Chow arsenal, the largest and only one in China that ever built ships on a large scale, may be in a state of read ness, although it will not be able to buil large vessels without a great deal of help. The arsenal at Canton was found to be in a lamentable state of unfitness, and heavy punishment is sure to fall upon the of ficials responsible for this condition of affairs. Foreign Trade Menaced.

There was, however, a very great menace to trade from another quarter and it was this that led to the appeals o foreign merchants to their home governments for the presence of warships in the treaty ports of China. It was generally expected by them, that should the Chines be defeated on their own soil (exactly what has happened, according to cable re ports) the Chinese soldiers would be de moralized and fall to scouring the coun try in every direction, committing outrages. In that event, the slender thread which sustains the obedience of the masses to the viceroy would be snapped and pandemonium would reign supreme. The great treaty port of Tien-Tsin is believed to be specially threatened in succase. One prophetic statement follows:

"In proportion to the disasters of was that will surely overtake China, will th influence of the viceroy wane, and should the defeat of the Chinese be a crushing one, he will be absolutely incapable maintain order. Li Hung Chang has bee

"If you really want to fight for the championship of the world all you have to do is to prove to me and the world that you are capable of defeating any 'heavy-weight' outside of me.

"Steve O'Donnell, my present sparring partner, an undefeated man, has $10,000 that says that he can defeat you. He will box you from one round to a finish, for fun or for money. How can you expect me to recognize you when this man stands eady with money behind him to prove to the world that he is your superior? If you will only meet him and defeat him, I will accept an offer of $25,000 from the Olympic club, and I will give you all the fight that you want.

"Now, if you want to fight me, this is the only way that you can ever get me to make a match with you, and any further talk from you I will put down as a bluff. If you defeat Mr. O'Donnell I will fight you for the 'championship of the world,' and all the money you like. This is posi tively my ultimatum."

Fitzsimmons Talks. ATLANTA, Sept. 29.—"If Mr. Corbett will say that he does not want to meet Mr. Fitzsimmons, I won't bother him any more, but I will claim the heavyweight championship of the world and walk off with it." This was the response of Robert Fitzsimmons, champion middleweight, to James J. Corbett's statement sent out by the press. "He wants me to meet Stev O'Donnell. Let O'Donnell whip Mahe or Hall or somebody. I have defeated them. Then I will fight him. I shall try to get a fight out of Corbett, and I shal put my fist in his face yet. There will be no trouble about my putting up $25,000, if that much is required."

Proof of Insincerity. BARCELONA, Sept. 29.—Salvador Franch, the anarchist, who is lying under sentence of death for the bomb outrage in the Lice theater, made great professions of pen tence, and expressed a wish to wear the Franciscan habit. FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the go that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing con able solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, its entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorney and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have tained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to

Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct terferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc. If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph ther gether with a brief description of the important features, and you advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom a seldom in the course to pursue. others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
